ASSEMBLY VOTES FOR REFERENDUM ON PROHIBITION

Substitute for Ratification Is Adopted, 84 to 64, After Sudden Shift of Strength.

PUT UP TO THE PEOPLE

Proposal to Defer Action on Issue Indefinitely Is Defeated First, 97 to 50.

NOT BEATEN YET, SAY 'DRYS'

Measure Must Come Up Again for Final Vote—Veto by Whitman Possible.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, March 12.—After an all-day battle that will live in legislative history, the Assembly early this evening, by a vote of 84 to 64, went on record as opposed to ratification of the Federal prohibition amendment until the people of the State have had their say, a resolution for a referendum at the polls being passed.

By adroit strategy the lawmakers of the lower house, while refusing to bow to the demand of the "drys" for immediate ratification of the Federal amendment, managed to make a record into which can be read nothing but an honest intent to let the voters render their verdict on a vital question which the present Legislature was compelled to approach without any popular mandate to guide its course of action.

Before the final vote was taken the Assembly, by a vote of 97 to 50, defeated a proposal to postpone indefinitely Assembly action on ratification. Thus the Assembly, by what fell only three votes short of a two-thirds majority, effectively refuted the charge of the "dry" advocates that the proposal for a referendum had been projected with a view to preventing legislation making for prohibition.

When the Assembly went into session this morning the "wets" unquestionably had it in their power to defeat ratification of the Federal amendment, and, this done, adopt any course which they chose. The "dry" strength of ninety-one votes in the lower house, which was demonstrated in the preliminary skirmish on the Federal amendment last week, had dwindled to sixty-nine votes when the opening gavel fell in the Assembly today. The defection from the "drys" had occurred over the week-end.

Sweet Goes On Record.

Assemblyman Simon L. Adler, leader of the Republican majority in the House, made the motion to postpone action on the Federal amendment indefinitely. Speaker Sweet, for the first time in the five years he has been Speaker, surrendered the gavel to participate in debate on the floor of the Assembly. He aggressively opposed the motion of the floor leader of his own party and urged the Assembly to face the situation with courage and vote either for or against ratification, announcing that personally he intended to vote to ratify.

It is inconceivable that the effect could have been wholly lost on the audience, composed largely of members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and other persons who have been prominent at the Capitol as advocates of national prohibition. Speaker Sweet, by the part he played, paved the way for his own entry into the Republican primaries, if called upon to oppose Governor Whitman and prohibition, as some stanch "dry" advocates seem to believe, should be a dominant issue in the Fall campaign.

Governor Whitman will hold the veto power over the measure providing for an advisory referendum on the Federal amendment this Fall, should this, as is likely, be passed by the Senate, too.

The Assembly started out by debating the Hill-McNab resolution, reported by its Judiciary Commitee, which provided for ratification of the Federal amendment. While the debate was in progress Assemblyman H. Edmund McHold, Republican of Watertown, offered an amendment providing for a referendum this Fall to guide the 1919 Legislature and converting the resolution into a legislative bill, which, after it has passed through the legislative mill, must be sent to the Governor for approval.

Responsibility the Governor's.

So amended, the bill was passed. Should the Governor veto the bill, it would not help the prohibition cause, and, as some of the Republican lawmakers put it, the responsibility for preventing an expression at the polls on the question would rest with him.

Governor Whitman, when asked tonight what his attitude was toward the action of the Assembly, said:

The Governor declined to make any additional comment.

There have been indications, besides the statement made tonight, that Governor Whitman would veto any proposal for an advisory referendum. Such action, of course, would dispose of the question for the time being to the perfect satisfaction of the "wets." Some of the Republican leaders who have opposed immediate ratification, however, are unwilling to have it rest that way. They are determined to give convincing demonstration to the people of their sincerity in declaring their willingness to have the voters decide what shall be done.

It may be stated on good authority that Senate Leader Elon R. Brown will press for a favorable report by the Senate Committee on Taxation and Retrenchment on the proposed amendment to the State Constitution making the State "bone dry." This measure, in the event of favorable action by the present Legislature and that of next year, would be submitted to a referendum in 1919, an off year, with no alien issue to confound the voters in reaching a decision.

After acting, the Assembly ordered

Germans, in Revenge, Annul Trade with Norway

LONDON, March 12.—All contracts with Norway have been annulled by the German Central Purchasing Company from March 16, according to a Bergen dispatch to the Tidens Tegn of Christiania, as quoted in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen.

The reason for this action, the dispatch says, is that the Norwegian agreement with America provides for the exportation of only 48,000 tons of fish yearly to Germany. The company's office at Bergen has been closed.

The action of the German Central Purchasing Company, a semi-official concern, is in line with the recently adopted policy of menace toward the Scandinavian countries which has followed German ascendancy in Finland. A recent London dispatch stated that, having strengthened herself in the north, Germany apparently planned to overawe the Scandinavian nations and make the Baltic a German lake.

BAKER HEARTENS FRENCH PEOPLE

OFF FOR AMERICAN FRONT

Secretary Sees Poincare, Joffre, and Clemenceau—Two Submarine Alarms on Voyage.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, March 11.—Secretary Baker has made a most favorable impression on the French press, whose representatives he received this afternoon with American and British correspondents.

Although it was officially announced beforehand that none of the Secretary's remarks might be quoted save what were contained in a multigraphed statement issued to every one, he willingly answered various questions after first expressing his pleasure at receiving newspaper men, which he declared reminded him of his daily conference with the press at Washington. In this case he was protected by the vigilant eyes and ears of one ex-chief censor and one active assistant censor, so that the danger of possible indiscretion was thoroughly averted.

The French journalists were greatly struck by Mr. Baker's youthful appearance, which more than one contrasted with the great ages of such French statesmen as Clemenceau and Ribot. The enthusiasm of the Intransigeant's reporter as a writer appears to have outrun his accuracy, as in a laudatory article he refers to the Secretary as "a lawyer who speaks Greek, Latin, German, and French." As regards the latter language it may be said on the best authority that the Intransigeant statement is an exaggeration.

Poses for a Flashlight.

Like Colonel House, Secretary Baker posed readily for a flashlight photograph, whose somewhat unexpected pop and flameburst produced a nervous start among the onlookers, (the Secretary himself never blinked,) and immediately led to the question whether he had yet visited localities damaged in Friday's air raid, a pilgrimage duly performed by a greater part of the city's population yesterday afternoon. But Mr. Baker had been too busy for anything of the sort. Since his arrival at 6:30 o'clock this morning he has had a long talk with General Pershing and paid calls on Premier Clemenceau and Marshal Joffre.

According to members of his entourage the ocean trip, though rough at the outset, was uneventful and devoid of risk. The Intransigeant states that a cruiser bearing the Secretary was accompanied by a convoy carrying 10,000 men, and that there were twice alarms of submarines, the first proving nothing worse than a piece of half-submerged driftwood, while the second menace was scared away by a strong contingent of seaplanes and dirigibles sent out from port when its presence in the vicinity was signalled.

The Liberté voices French satisfaction at the Secretary's arrival as yet further proof that America intends to throw all her strength on the western front to counteract the effect of the Russian débâcle in the east. The article concludes:

"The presence of the American War Minister also proves that our allies are not thinking about peace negotiations which at this moment would be vain and premature, but of war."

Mr. Baker leaves Paris tomorrow for a tour of inspection of the American lines of communication and the military zone.

Baker Issues a Statement.

By The Associated Press.

PARIS, March 12.—Secretary Baker, when he met American, English, and French newspaper men yesterday gave out this statement concerning his visit to France:

"Our purpose in visiting France is to confer with General Pershing, to visit the American expeditionary force, and inspect its lines of transportation and its storage and supply systems, in order that we in America can more effectively support our own army and the armies of our allies.

"Of course, any visit to France at this time is a pilgrimage to the very shrine of heroism, and it will be an inspiration actually to see the great com-

AMERICANS RAID GERMAN TRENCHES NEAR LUNEVILLE

VICTORS ON TOUL FRONT

First All-American Force Runs 300 Yards Into the Foe's Intrenchments.

KILL A NUMBER OF GERMANS

Raiders Bring Back Much Material and Information, but Take No Prisoners.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, March 11, (Associated Press.)—The American troops east of Lunéville (near Lorraine border) have again raided the German positions. Early this morning, after a brief artillery preparation, one platoon moved across No Man's Land behind a barrage, entered the enemy lines, and penetrated some distance with the object of ascertaining whether the German trenches were still evacuated. The platoon found they were evacuated and then returned without a single casualty. The German artillery feebly engaged in counterbattery work against the American guns during the operation.

Sergeant Walsh, one of the heroes of the German raid on the Toul sector, who later received the Cross of War with Palm from Premier Clemenceau, has been selected as orderly to Secretary Baker. Walsh, who is 47 years of age, left the billet town where his regiment has been quartered since its relief from the trenches after receiving the hearty congratulations of officers and men.

PARIS, March 12.—An American detachment in the Woevre region has successfully carried out a surprise attack on German trenches south of Richecourt, says the French official communication issued today. Richecourt is northwest of Toul and a short distance northeast of Xivray.

TOUL RAID A BIG SUCCESS.

Americans Exceeded Objectives, Finding Foe's Positions Wrecked.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, March 11, (Associated Press.)—An American raiding party entered the German trenches along the Toul sector at 6 o'clock this morning, after an artillery bombardment of forty-five minutes, and brought back much material and information, but captured no prisoners. It was the first raid undertaken by the Americans without the aid of the French.

The raid was highly successful, as the enemy withdrew many men from the front line when the bombardment indicated that a raid might follow. The raiders reported that American gunfire had created destruction in the German positions and had torn gaps in the enemy barbed wire entanglements. The German batteries came into action, but accomplished nothing toward disturbing the progress of the raid.

The Americans entered the enemy trenches behind one side of a "box" barrage which moved forward in front of them. They found numerous Germans hiding in the dugouts. In the hand-to-hand fighting which followed a number of the enemy were killed and wounded and left in the trenches.

Going far beyond their objective, the raiders penetrated the German line 300 yards. A few fights developed on the way, but the Germans were driven off. The Americans failed to find most of the Germans who had been withdrawn hurriedly from the front line, although they searched for them.

In the hand-to-hand fighting the Americans used their automatic pistols and rifles. During the raid the American machine guns placed a barrage in the enemy back areas in order to prevent a counterattack.

The Americans fought so fast and did their work so quickly that the medical men who accompanied them had little to do. Every American who left the front line returned.

On their way back the Americans encountered a German listening post, which fired at them. In less time than it takes to tell it the Germans in the post were silenced.

The Americans reached their own lines without one German shell having fallen anywhere near them, for it was all over so quickly that the German batteries did not have a good chance to get into action. The Americans were inside the enemy lines for fifteen minutes.

Increasing Crime is Alarming Germany; 300 Burglar Claims Daily on One Firm

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

AMSTERDAM, March 11.—The great and increasing insecurity of life and property, in Berlin in particular and in general throughout Germany, is a subject attracting an enormous amount of attention in the German press. I have on several occasions referred to it. And the latest evidence is that the conditions are getting worse instead of better.

A band of former jailbirds and deserters appears to be terrorizing the suburbs of the capital, and the reduced police forces seem powerless to deal with the situation.

The head of one of the great Berlin insurance firms tells a representative of the Berlin Tageblatt that his concern has lately had to deal with 300 cases daily of burglary or housebreaking. The total figure of the crimes of that kind must therefore be enormous, as that is only the number of cases coming under the notice of one firm, and all persons, naturally, are not insured.

So great are the calls on the insurance companies, the same article says, that they have brought about a very serious financial situation. Most of the insurances were taken out under ordinary conditions, and the amounts which have to be paid now are very much greater than was anticipated, owing to the enormous rise in the prices of household articles which have to be replaced.

"No suburb is safe," added the insurance official interviewed. "The houses even of the War Minister and the General commanding the garrison have been broken into."

Most of the criminals appear to be refugees driven into the city from Galicia and other territories in the east, while deserters find their uniforms of great assistance in allaying suspicion. Owing to the demands of the army, the night watchmen are mostly old men who are easily overpowered.

Meanwhile the papers report a great number of very serious crimes. One tells of a robbery in which the thieves made off with 200,000 marks in coin. In another case a train between Duisberg and Oberhausen was attacked by an armed gang and robbed. Food cards are stolen by wholesale all over the country, while in another case mentioned in Saturday's Berlin papers the thieves walked into a large Berlin shop in broad daylight and got away with $25,000 worth of booty.

WILL RUSH TROOPS ACROSS TO FRANCE

War Department Redoubling Its Efforts on French Request, It Is Said.

NATIONAL ARMY GOING SOON

Second Draft Call of 800,000 Men Imminent—95,000 May Be Mobilized This Month.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Every available energy is being utilized by the War Department to speed the movement of troops to France.

Almost simultaneously with this indication from official quarters today, Major General Crowder, the Provost Marshal General, announced that the next selective draft call would be for 800,000 men, and that 95,000 of these would be mobilized during five days beginning on March 29. The 800,000 will be called to the colors gradually during the year.

A report was current in Washington today that the French military authorities had made a new and earnest appeal to this country to employ more haste in the movement of troops abroad. Maj. Gen. Peyton C. March, Acting Chief of Staff, was asked for confirmation of the report, but he refrained from saying whether the French Government had or had not made such an appeal. He indicated, however, that the War Department had adopted the policy of moving troops to France as rapidly as possible, regardless of whether such an appeal had or had not been received.

"Our present policy," said General March, "is to speed to the absolute limit of our ability the movement of units to France, and that policy will be carried forward steadily."

National Army May Go.

General March was asked concerning reports that some of the national army divisions soon would be sent to France. He said that he had received reports from inspectors stating that rapid progress was being made in whipping the national army into shape, that a fine body of soldiers was being developed, and that some of these units were reported as having almost reached the limit of their training here.

General Crowder in announcing the draft of 800,000 men said that this number would cover the second increment of 500,000 men authorized under the existing law and would allow 300,000 for reserve training units and special and technical troops.

The 800,000 are to be called from week to week and month to month, in small groups, on the theory that it will be unwise to draw large bodies of men from civil life before the army can assimilate them and while the crop-raising period is on. All these men will be called from Class 1.

The order for 95,000 men to be mobilized beginning March 29 covers troops from every State except Iowa and Minnesota. It will complete the first call to the colors fro mthe various States—except Iowa and Minnesota—and will mark the first movement of troops under the second call.

The allotment for New York under the call for 95,000 men is 12,288. This will more than complete New York's quota under the first draft. Pennsylvania is to send 7,828, New Jersey, 4,275, and Connecticut, 903.

General Crowder's Statement.

"The next national quota will be announced and apportioned among the several States as soon as pending legislation authorizing a change in the basis of computation is enacted by Congress. The number that will be assumed as a basis for computation will be 800,000, which is well within the authorization of Clause 4 of Section 1 of the Selective Service act, of a second increment of 500,000 men, increased by the recruit training units authorized by Clause 5 of said Section 1, and by the special and technical troops authorized by Section 2 of said act. It cannot now be announced what the total number to be called to the colors each month will be, but it may be stated that no more men will be called than can be properly accommodated and promptly assimilated.

"There are difficulties confronting the nation in the supply of labor appurtenant to agriculture. Class 1, from which new levies are to be withdrawn, will contain

$400,000,000 PLAN FOR WAR BUILDINGS

POWDER AND GAS PLANTS

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The United States Government is planning to spend approximately $400,000,000 by the end of the year for construction work which is considered essential to put the nation on a wartime basis, and prepare it to equip the army and navy and build up a huge emergency supply. This sum is in addition to the $290,000,000 or more which has been spent already in the construction of the sixteen cantonments and other work which is now completed, except for some minor details. In general outline the $400,000,000 will be spent as follows:

For thirty-one storage warehouses in the interior manufacturing districts of the East and Middle West, $100,000,000.

Development of six distribution points or ports on the Atlantic seaboard, including additional dockage and storage facilities, $90,000,000.

Two Government-owned powder plants, $100,000,000.

Buildings made necessary by the increased activities of the Signal Corps, $50,000,000.

Other construction, including large plants for the manufacture of gases and the elements which go to make up high explosives, $60,000,000.

The prospective developments at the ports will be one of the most important features of the program. It is the purpose to create a situation by the perfecting of terminal facilities and the erection of huge warehouses which will make it possible to load and dispatch all ships promptly and thus avoid delays which in the past have decreased the tonnage efficiency at times as much as 30 per cent. Most of this work will be done at Northern ports.

In connection with the Government's plans, it was stated today that the general contracting business of peace times, which had involved annual expenditures of approximately $2,000,000,000, has been reduced to only 4 per cent. of the normal in order to concentrate on the wartime activities. As a result of this, applications for contracts on Government work have been received from not less than 1,400 contracting firms, of which 600 are known to be capable of handling either large or small contracts in a satisfactory manner.

The contracts to be let, exclusive of the two big $50,000,000 Government-owned powder plants, average about $1,500,000, thus creating a situation where there are from ten to fifteen contractors for each contract in prospect.

All of the new wartime construction work as outlined is to be done under the fee system, which was put in effect by the cantonment division created by the War Department, when the problem of housing the new army was faced by the Government. It is estimated now that the cost to the Government will be approximately 1 per cent. less on the average than the cost on work accomplished last year.

Working in close co-operation with the cantonment division is the Emergency Construction Division of the War Industries Board of the Council of National Defense, of which Major W. A. Starrett is chief. The Emergency Construction Division has made a careful survey and is prepared to submit its recommendations. Major Starrett said today:

"The percentage contract has been a success in its details. It was well conceived, because it gave the contractor a fair, but only a fair, profit; because it obtained for the Government at a minimum cost a service that the contractor was able to render and which the Government was in no position to render itself.

"The question has often been asked whether the compensation is not high. The answer is that it is much lower than the average peacetime compensation for similar service. The contract, as it is now in force, pays 7 per cent. for small operations, (under $100,000,) scaling down to 2½ per cent. on very large ones, with only 2½ per cent. allowed on subcontracts, and the limit of fee on any one contract, however large, of $250,000. Out of this fee the contractor has to pay his own overhead costs, and, therefore, the fee is not all profit by any means."

Much Havoc Wrought by Ton of Bombs—New German Raid on England.

PARIS, March 12.—Nine squadrons of German airplanes, aggregating nearly sixty units, took part in last night's attack on Paris and dropped bombs which demolished and set fire to several buildings in the city and the suburbs. Four of the raiding machines were brought down.

Thirty-four persons were killed and seventy-nine others were injured, eighty-eight of the casualties being in Paris. In addition to the bomb victims sixty-six persons were suffocated through crowding in a panic into a Metropolitan (subway) Railway entrance to take refuge from the raiders. These were for the most part women and children.

A fog which had covered the city in the morning settled down again in the early evening. It was thick enough to cause the general belief that there was little chance that the Germans would attempt an air raid. This belief, however, was shattered at 9:10 o'clock, when the warning was sounded of the approach of hostile aircraft. The raid ended shortly after midnight. The official report of it says:

> According to the first news, nearly sixty enemy airplanes succeeded in crossing our lines. Thanks to the curtain fire which our artillery maintained throughout the raid with great intensity, a certain number of the machines failed to reach their objectives. Nevertheless numerous bombs were dropped on Paris and its suburbs. Several buildings were demolished and took fire.

Baker and Bliss Take to Cellar.

Secretary Baker was in conference with General Tasker H. Bliss, the American Chief of Staff, in a hotel suite when the air alarm was sounded. Secretary Baker was not disturbed by the noise of the sirens or the barrage of the anti-aircraft guns, but the hotel management, fearing for the safety of himself and his party, persuaded the members to descend to the wine cellar.

Mr. Baker and General Bliss continued their conference in the cellar, where later they were joined by Major Gen. William M. Black.

Secretary Baker made this statement today concerning the air raid:

"It was my first experience of the actualities of war and a revelation of the methods inaugurated by an enemy who wages the same war against women and children as against soldiers.

"If his objects are to damage property, the results are trifling when compared with his efforts. If his objects are to weaken the people's morale the reply is given by the superb conduct of the people of Paris.

"Moreover, aerial raids on towns, which are counterpart of the pitiless submarine war and the attacks against American rights, are the very explanation of the reasons why America entered the war. We are sending our soldiers to Europe to fight until the world is delivered from these horrors."

One of the raiding machines, a Gotha, which was brought down in flames, fell on a spot three miles from Château Thierry, (fifty-eight miles east northeast of the capital.) A captain who was on board and was taken prisoner with the crew belongs to the Third Squadron of the German Seventh Army.

This was the second aerial attack on Paris of the last few days, thirteen persons having been killed and fifty wounded in the raid last Friday night.

Berlin Boasts of Success.

BERLIN, March 12, (via London.)—Paris was "copiously bombed" last night by German aircraft says today's War Office report. The text of the announcement reads:

Horses Still Remaining Die in Streets—Little News Comes from Outside World.

By HAROLD WILLIAMS.

PETROGRAD, March 10.—For the last few months a muffled bell has been tolling in the whirlwind, and in the knell one heard the echo of the grim prophecy of the Old Believers to Peter the Great: "St. Petersburg will be a desert." Perhaps this is mere fancy, perhaps after the catastrophe and deluge St. Petersburg will shine forth again in pride and glory; but today there is inexpressible sadness in this once imperial city.

The streets are very quiet now. They have never been so quiet since the beginning of the war, and in the evenings the stillness of the dimly lighted thoroughfares is fraught with foreboding. The turbulent emotions of the year of revolution are exhausted; the fever is slackening, the pulse of life is very low, and the depression and foreboding are inarticulate. They cannot be summed up as dread of any definite calamity, as fear of the Germans, as fears of unrestrained anarchy. They are gloomier, because they are inarticulate, because they come of a sense of emptiness, of the ebbing away of life.

There has been a great exodus. The Government is migrating to Moscow, and has let fall hints that Moscow is to be proclaimed the capital. The Council of People's Commissaries will have its seat in the Kremlin. Lenine will sit in the seat of the predecessors of Peter the Great and the Neva will be deserted. The Ministries have nearly completed their evacuation. Tons of goods have been dispatched south and east, and tonight or tomorrow night those members of the Government who still remain will leave for Moscow.

The power is leaving Petrograd, and the population, seized by vague alarm, has been flocking out of the city. Day after day a queue of many thousands waited on the Nevsky Prospect for permits to leave the city. Day after day overcrowded trains moved off south and east, soldiers in the forefront, and dismissed workmen and all that miscellaneous mass of humanity that is afraid of starvation, afraid of unemployment, afraid of the invader, of unknown calamities. Many thousands who could not go by trains went off on foot through the snow, and many who had ready money to spare hired sledges and went driving off on a pilgrimage into the depths of Russia.

No Outward Sign of Panic.

Yet there was no noise, no outward sign of panic. There was a strange hush about it all, a sad and patient resignation, as though in the presence of an unintelligible, inexorable fate; and those who remain go wandering about the streets, vaguely, hopelessly, asking for an explanation of the life that has grown meaningless.

There are provisions. Somehow the city still lives from hand to mouth, with a curious ingenuity. This week the refrigerators were emptied and their contents allotted among the population as a parting gift, so that for a few hours they had plenty of flour and dried vegetables and fed on frozen goose. And supply trains still come in irregularly and in driblets, but still they come. The street cars have no stores of fuel, but from time to time they buy remnants from factories that are closing down, and so struggle along with interruptions. Half the cabmen have gone home to their villages, often selling their horses for meat before they go, for horse meat is now a recognized article of diet, even in many families that were once well to do, and the horses that remain are dying. Day after day one sees them fall in the street and gathering round them a doleful crowd of idle onlookers. They die, and their bodies lie in the snow unburied for many days. Most of the big theatres are deserted, and it is the easiest thing in the world now to get tickets for the once crowded opera.

In the night one hears shots, unintelligible fusillades. A few nights ago there was a rattle of rifles in my neighborhood and in the morning passersby found the bodies of six young men, students, as I afterward discovered, shot, heaven knows why.

All goods, sledges, and motor cars and lorries have been requisitioned for the evacuation, and their movements for the last week have constituted al-

LONDON, Wednesday, March 13.—"According to reports from Tokio," says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Tien Tsin dated Monday, "an important dispatch from London regarding Siberia caused an immediate meeting of the Foreign Advisory Council. It is expected that a reply to the dispatch will be sent following the Premier's report to the Emperor."

An earlier dispatch from Tien Tsin to the same agency, sent last Saturday, says it was reported unofficially from Tokio that negotiations were going on between the Japanese and Siberian Governments, and that the Japanese newspapers considered the situation acute.

Replying on Friday to a question in the Japanese House of Representatives, Premier Terauchi, according to a Reuter dispatch from Shanghai carrying Tokio advices, said that Japan had not yet reached a decision regarding the dispatch of troops to Siberia. The Government, said the Premier, would take the utmost care and precaution in dealing with "this momentous situation."

Another dispatch received from Tokio through the same channels, says that Foreign Minister Motono, replying to a question in the Diet, stated that no request that troops be sent to Siberia had been received from Japan's allies. An exchange of views was proceeding.

The Opposition leader favored the sending of troops, but expressed the fear that the presence of Japanese in Siberia might drive Russia toward Germany unless the greatest precautions were taken.

The subject of Japan's intervention in Siberia is to be raised in the House of Commons Thursday by H. B. Lees-Smith, member for Northampton, when A. J. Balfour, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, is expected to reply.

Bolsheviki Must Not Pass.

The Chinese commander at Harbin, Manchuria, has warned the leader of the Bolshevist forces in Siberia that the invasion of Chinese territory will be considered an act of war, according to Harbin advices, under Saturday's date, forwarded by Reuter's Peking correspondent.

The forces of General Semenoff, the anti-Bolshevist leader in Siberia, are regarded as representing the army of the Russian Provisional Government recognized by China, the dispatch explains.

Reuter's Shanghai correspondent, in a dispatch dated Saturday, says that the Irkutsk Bolsheviki telegraphed the Chinese authorities at a Manchurian border station that there was no intention to show unfriendliness toward China and that the Bolshevist forces were only attacking the rebel General Semenoff. The Chinese replied that, China's relations with Russia not having been impaired, the Chinese were unable to consider General Semenoff a rebel.

Cossacks have arrested the Bolshevist leaders at Blagovieshtchensk, capital of Amur Province, and have disarmed the Bolshevist forces there.

HARBIN, Manchuria, March 12.—General Semenoff, the anti-Bolshevist leader in Siberia, has retreated into Manchuria before the advance of a superior Bolshevist force, according to advices from the border. The accuracy of the Bolshevist fire during the fighting is taken to indicate the co-operation of former German prisoners.

General Semenoff brought his dead and wounded with him in his retirement. Nurses and a supporting detachment are to leave Harbin tonight. General Semenoff's munitions are reported exhausted, as well as the funds at his disposal.

Officials of the Allies at Harbin agree that the situation in Siberia is growing worse. Every plan proposed for the amelioration of conditions meets with opposition or apathy, they say, while 50 per cent. of the railway workmen in Manchuria are now Bolshevist in affiliation, whereas a month ago the percentage was insignificant. Yesterday the workmen refused to move guns and trains to the aid of General Semenoff and were planning the destruction of the supply outfit. Loyal Cossacks, however, forced the movement of the relief trains.

Reds in Pro-German Propaganda.

Reliable observers, according to reports received by The Associated Press correspondent, have found that there is a widespread pro-German propaganda, with speechmaking by Bolshevist orators among the workmen, with never a word of a pro-Ally nature.

The American Consul at Harbin has distributed 15,000 copies of President Wilson's speeches, and a similar number have been scattered by the Consul at Vladivostok. All concerned agree that a more effective allied propaganda is essential.

The growth of Bolshevism is said by some of the investigators to be due in a measure to fear of the Japanese, with disbelief in the sincerity of American friendship as another factor. They report that statements have been heard among the propagandists that any class of Germans was preferable to the Japanese, and the idea appears illusory to many that the Bolsheviki will oppose German influences.

Conflicting reports have reached here regarding the plans of the American, Japanese, and other Ambassadors now at Vologda. According to the understanding in Harbin, they were to proceed to Vladivostok, traveling by way of the Amur Railway from Karimskaya, where eastbound traffic is now being transferred, because of the destruction of the Manchurian Railway between the Manchurian border and Chita, in the Trans-Baikal.

The Ambassadors were expected in Vladivostok about March 14, it has been understood here, but a rumor that they were being detained by the Bolsheviki has been current.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—A cablegram from Ambassador Francis at Vologda which said nothing of any intention to move the American Embassy staff further east apparently disposed of reports that the Ambassador was preparing to leave there.

CAPTURE BOLSHEVIST RADA.

Ukrainian and German Troops Finally Victorious at Kiev.

LONDON, March 12.—Ukrainian and Saxon troops have arrested the members of the Maximalist Aada at Kiev, according to a Central News dispatch from Zurich.

PRESSED RUMANIA EARLY.

Germany Sought to Force Her to Fight Russia at Start of War.

LONDON, March 11.—According to diplomatic documents printed in Russian papers, Austria and Germany as early as August 3, 1914, demanded that Rumania should declare war on Russia, guaranteeing her against attack by Bulgaria and offering her Bessarabia and the Timok Valley.

Learning of this, Sergius Sazonoff (then Russian Foreign Minister) suggested that Rumania should observe a benevolent neutrality, and in return offered her those portions of Austro-German territory with Rumanian populations which she could occupy when she thought fit.

Finally, in December, 1914, the Rumanian Premier, J. C. Bratiano, decided to intervene actively in conjunction with the Entente. He was, however, obliged to defer action owing to the unpreparedness of the Rumanian Army and the difficulties attending a campaign.

NO CREWS ON RUSSIAN FLEET.

Only Dreadnoughts to Quit Finland —Ships in Neva Dismantled.

LONDON, March 12.—The whole Russian Baltic fleet is lying at Helsingfors, Finland, the Petrograd correspondent of The Times cables, but the crews have melted away, only a watch being left for each ship. The dreadnoughts will soon sail for Kronstadt, but the remainder of the fleet will remain in Finland.

The correspondent also says that all movable articles from the cruisers Aurora and Diana, lying in the Neva River, (on which Petrograd is situated,) have been carried away by sailors. (The Aurora and Diana are sister ships of 6,731 tons displacement, built in 1896.)

A Russian wireless statement has been received here signed by M. Tchitcherin, who for a time was held in prison in England for circulating seditious propaganda, and was later reported to have become Bolshevist Commissioner for Foreign Afairs. The message was addressed to the German, Austro-Hungarian, Bulgarian, and Turkish Governments, and read:

"In the Baltic the Russian transport ships Russ, Nitava, Pallada, Merkury, Lakh, Okean, Diana, and Zhulash have been placed under the Red Cross flag, and will be used exclusively in that service."

NEW POST FOR TROTZKY.

Chosen to Head Petrograd Military Revolutionary Committee.

PETROGRAD, March 11.—In consequence of the departure of the Government Commissaries to Moscow, a special Petrograd Military Revolutionary Committee of seven members has been formed, with Leon Trotzky as President. Another committee of ten members, representing the Council of Commissaries, also will be formed, with Mr. Zinovieff, a Lenine adherent, as President.

The neutral legations have decided to remain in Petrograd.

The typhus epidemic in Petrograd is increasing. The anathema against the Bolsheviki pronounced by Dr. Tikhon, Patriarch of All-Russia and Metropolitan of Moscow, was read in all the churches Sunday.

Reports received here say that Austria is isolating all prisoners of war who have returned in order to prevent propaganda.

FOR BALTIC-BLACK SEA LINK

COPENHAGEN, Monday, March 11.—The commercial agreement between Germany and Russia will contain plans for the construction of a canal which would form the connecting link of a waterway between the Baltic and the Black Sea, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Politiken. The cost is estimated at 20,000,000 marks, and German financiers, it is said, are ready to provide the money.

PETROGRAD SOON WILL BE A DESERT

most the sole traffic of this once great industrial centre, and in the settled gloom there is no place left for excitement, for panic, for sudden flashes of fear or anger. People talk and speculate, but they know that their words are vain and they speak wearily, indifferently, of loss and pain and death.

There is little news from the outside world. Of the fate of relatives and friends no word comes, or rumors filter through that have no worth or meaning. We know little of what Russia is thinking and doing. In Finland there is an indeterminate barrier of civil war. Near Kiev the Ukrainians, abandoned for the moment by the Germans, are hard pressed by the Bolshevist troops. General Alexieff's force seems to have retreated to somewhere near the neighborhood of Tsaritsyn, and in various parts of Cossack territory Cossack detachments are carrying on guerrilla warfare. From the east come vague rumors that are regarded here as portents of Japanese intervention.

Most of the British colony have left and the few Englishmen who still remain ask one another when and where they are going. The Embassy is now occupied by the Consulate, and if there is one word of which the Consulate is utterly weary it is passports. Petrograd is becoming a desert.

BIG GERMAN RAID FAILS AT LAVENTIE

ABANDON MANY DEAD

Berlin Reports That the Heavy British Guns Are Shelling Cambrai.

LONDON, March 12.—A large German raiding party, attacking positions of the Portuguese troops near Laventie, was caught by machine gun fire from the front and on both flanks and suffered heavy casualties this morning, according to the British official communication issued tonight. Numerous dead and wounded Germans were left in No Man's Land when the main body took to flight.

The text of the communication follows:

This morning, after a heavy bombardment, a large hostile raiding party attacked Portuguese positions southeast of Laventie on a front of about 700 yards. The raid was completely repulsed.

The hostile infantry was caught by machine gun fire from the front and on both flanks and suffered heavy losses, both when endeavoring to cross our wire and when retiring through our artillery barrage. Many dead or wounded Germans were left in No Man's Land. Several prisoners remained in the hands of the Portuguese.

One of our posts east of Zonnebeke was raided by the enemy early this morning. A few of our men are missing. Hostile raids attempted at the same hour against three of our posts south of this point were successfully repulsed.

There was some artillery activity on both sides today at different points between Havrincourt and the Scarpe. The hostile artillery also has been active southwest of La Bassée and against back areas in the neighborhood of of Vierstraat, South of Ypres, and in the Passchendale sector

"Australian troops carried out successful raids during the night upon hostile posts east and northeast of Messines," says the noon War Office report. "A number of Germans were killed, and a few prisoners were taken by us. Our casualties were light.

"The artillery was active on both sides during the night southeast of Armentières and east and northeast of Ypres."

PARIS, March 12.—"Heavy artillery fighting occurred in front of La Pompelle and in the region of Avocourt," says the noon official communication today. "In Lorraine we repulsed a strong raid in the region of Moncel. The enemy suffered severe losses and left ten prisoners, including one officer, in our hands.

"On the remainder of the front the night was calm."

"In a successful raid north of Dixmude we took a number of prisoners," says yesterday's official Belgian report. "Well-placed barrages enabled us to check two enemy attacks against our advanced posts, one north of Dixmude, the other in the direction of St. Georges. These failures prompted the enemy to open a heavy artillery fire, especially with gas shells, but our artillery held his batteries in check."

BERLIN, March 12, (via London.)—Cambrai has been bombarded by long range British guns, according to today's Army Headquarters report. Several shots from British artillery of the heaviest calibre fell in the town. The statement reads:

The enemy artillery developed lively activity in the early morning at many points, especially between the Lys and the Scarpe. In the evening the artillery duel was frequently revived. There were minor infantry engagements at positions opposing each other.

The British artillery was directed against villages in the rear and claimed numerous victims among the French population. Cambrai also received several shots of the heaviest calibre.

Elsewhere nothing new occurred.

BRITISH GUNNERS FIRE AT HINT OF AN ATTACK

By PHILIP GIBBS.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

WAR CORRESPONDENTS' HEADQUARTERS, March 11.—The enemy's gunfire is increasing in violence along some sectors of the front, and he has been shelling heavily about Armentières, Neuve Chapelle, Fleurbaix, and other parts in the centre of the British line; but, apart from a few raids on outposts, no infantry action has followed his efforts which were frustrated on Friday and Saturday at Houthulst Forest and Polderhoek. But his guns are tuning up, and the weather is so fine and bright that he may be tempted to take advantage of it.

The British troops are on the alert all along the line and send up warning rockets when there is any sign of a movement in No Man's Land. The S O S signal went up this morning south of Armentières, and the British guns answered it with a protective barrage of intense fire, and so far the enemy has not left his trenches there.

A few days ago there was a similar incident south of St. Quentin. The quiet of this part of the line was suddenly broken by red rockets flaming out above the folds of earth where both sides hold outposts in view of the great cathedral. Something had startled the enemy, and his infantry were calling for guns by firing clusters of fireballs. Further along the line a German patrol party seen crawling across No Man's Land was the cause of signals going up in the British lines, and the gunners on both sides saw rockets, and messages were telephoned through to batteries and groups. The country was swept with fire, and for two hours there was a storm of shells from the British and the German guns. Then it died down, for no masses of field-gray men moved into the open, and no men in khaki went over the top. It was a false alarm on both sides, but it showed the vigilance of the outposts and the power of the guns which lie low and say nothing for most days of the week.

I have been in that part of the line below St. Quentin for two or three days. Here, as all along the front, every man is watching for the least sign of an attack; but I found among the British a kind of incredulity that "old Fritz" would try any monkey tricks against their front because of the natural strength of their positions and the completeness of their defensive preparations. They are not worrying before it is time to worry, and they are confident that if the enemy makes a big attack he will be mowed down on his way and pay a frightful price for any gain of ground. It is in that spirit that the British armies wait.

GERMAN DEPOTS BOMBED.

Ten German Machines Destroyed and Seven Disabled by British.

LONDON, March 12.—An official statement on aerial operations on the front says:

There has been poor visibility, but over 500 bombs have been dropped on sidings and ammunition depots at Aulnoye, southeast of Maubeauge, and other depots south of Valenciennes, southeast of Cambrai and south of Douai.

In the air fighting, ten enemy machines were brought down and seven others were disabled. A German observation balloon also was brought down in flames. Two British machines are missing.

In night bombing, 200 bombs were dropped on sidings and ammunition dump northeast of St. Quentin. The enemy also dropped a few bombs during the night, but lost a four-seater machine, which landed in our lines, the occupants being taken prisoner.

Gifford to Direct Aircraft Work.

COBLENZ ATTACKED BY BRITISH AIR FLEET

jectives, causing two fires, and a hit on a building in the southwest corner of the town created a very large explosion.

Few enemy machines were encountered. All of our machines returned safely.

Field Marshal Lord French, commander of the home forces, reports that one or two German airships attacked the Yorkshire coast late this evening. A few bombs are reported to have fallen a short distance inland. No reports of casualties or damage have yet been received.

Coblenz, which is situated in one of the finest sections of the Rhine, has a population of nearly 50,000. It is a strongly fortified town, and on the opposite bank of the Rhine on a lofty, rocky eminence is the Fortress of Ehrenbreitstein, which has been considered almost impregnable.

The town does a large trade by water and rail. Its manufactures include pianos, paper goods, and machinery. There also is some shipbuilding done there.

MRS. FORD'S ESTATE RAISES KNOTTY POINT

Former Husband Asks Whether Poet or Son Perished First in Air Raid.

LONDON, March 12.—Two bombs were dropped together on the house of Mrs. Lena Guilbert Ford, the American poet who was killed in the air raid last week, and on the adjoining dwelling, an army expert testified at the inquest today. The bombs exploded simultaneously.

The Coroner's jury found the death of Mrs. Ford, best known as author of the war song, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and that of her son, Walter, was due to "suffocation from the collapse of a house caused by the explosion of bombs from a hostile aircraft."

A surprise was sprung at the inquest when an attorney appeared representing Mrs. Ford's husband. It then developed that she was the divorced wife of Dr. Harry Hale Ford. His attorney examined the witnesses carefully in an effort to establish whether Mrs. Ford or her son died first. This was developed as an important point, as all her property was left to her son, and if she was first to die it will revert to his father.

Dr. Edward Wright, who was in charge of the medical work at the scene, said it was very difficult to state which had died first. After he had called for testimony from the Royal Engineers who had worked on the wreckage regarding the quantity and position of the debris found around the two bodies, he expressed the opinion that the son had died first, as the wreckage was denser around him and pressed so closely about his face and body it was impossible that he could have long survived.

It was testified that Mrs. Ford had suffered from heart disease, but the physician said this did not contribute to her death.

The American Consulate was represented by Richard Westacott, Vice Consul.

An English maid, Annie Coxall, by a remarkable display of courage, saved the life of Mrs. Ford's mother, Mrs. Brown, 86 years of age, though the latter was quite seriously injured, and the King and Queen sought her out at the scene of the explosion Saturday and expressed their warm admiration for her "heroic behavior."

The maid, who is a strong English country girl of 22, amid the sound of splintering timbers and crashing brickwork, ran up the narrow basement stairs, her first thought being for the safety of the aged Mrs. Brown, to whom she was deeply attached. She found her half out of bed, bewildered in the midst of a cloud of falling plaster, and dragged her through the collapsing walls down the stone stairs and into the basement bedroom.

It was evident that the whole weight of the walls and upper floors would soon crash into the cellar, and the maid, with nimble wit, half carried her charge and laid her on the floor close to the wall, pulling the narrow cotbed over her as a protection and placing upon this two heavy oak doors in a slanting position, which she hoped would deflect the falling débris.

Failing to reach the upper part of the house again in answer to the cries of Mrs. Ford and her son, which she heard again and again, she had barely time to crawl under the bed beside Mrs. Brown when the final collapse came. The little iron bed and the oak doors served their purpose. The aged woman and the maid were almost suffocated, but two hours later they were rescued by constables and members of the Red Cross.

OUR RED CROSS SAVED 50 WOMEN FROM RAID

PARIS, March 11, (Delayed.)—Fifty maternity cases in a Nancy hospital were removed by the American Red Cross in quick time after a recent air raid on the city. One bomb dropped on the roof of the hospital and fell between two occupied beds. It failed to explode.

The French hospital authorities then made a request of the American Red Cross hospital at Toul, fifteen miles away, to remove all the patients. Dr. Maynard Ladd, in charge of the American hospital, provided facilities and received all the patients within twenty-four hours. Dr. Robert G. Sharp remained on duty for twenty-four hours, and all the nurses worked overtime to meet the emergency. Many of the maternity patients were in a critical state when they reached the Red Cross hospital, due to the excitement through which they had passed.

14,120 NON-FIGHTERS OF BRITAIN KILLED

Toll Taken by U-Boats and German Air Raiders of Women, Children, and the Aged.

According to the latest official British returns, the number of noncombatants of Great Britain, including women and children, killed by the German U-boats during the war, has been 12,836. No statistics are available of the number of those who have been injured or broken in health by their experiences in these outrages. The figure given does not include a large number of neutral subjects who lost their lives in this way.

The noncombatants, including women and children, who had lost their lives in air raids numbered up to Feb. 13 1,284. The number of those injured was 3,105.

The total number of noncombatants killed in these two ways by the Germans during the war was 14,120 up to Feb. 6.

ASQUITH REASSURED BY PREMIER'S SPEECH

But Urged Him to Free Himself of Any Suspicious Press Connections.

GEORGE DEFENDS HIS ACTS

Agrees That Government Attache Who Inspires Attacks on Officials Should Be Condemned.

LONDON, March 11. (Delayed.)—After Premier Lloyd George had made his address in the House of Commons today, concerning the relations between the Government and the press, repudiating the suggestion that he or any official on his staff was responsible for newspaper attacks on Admirals and Generals, ex-Premier Asquith said that the Premier's statements were more reassuring than those hitherto given. He contended, however, that press attacks during the war against soldiers and sailors in positions of public responsibility had been highly reprehensible. In all friendly sincerity toward the Government, he wished to say that under the existing abnormal conditions it was of the utmost importance that the Government should be free even of the suspicion of direct association with the operations of the press.

In the course of his speech Mr. Asquith made the revelation that at the time of the press attacks on Lord Kitchener, although Kitchener was unconcerned by them, he himself, (Mr. Asquith was then Premier,) felt the position so keenly that he recommended that the King confer the Order of the Garter on Kitchener at the earliest possible time. This the King did.

In reply to the remarks made during the debate, Lloyd George said that after he had made his explanation there had been no real challenge respecting the Government's action. He accepted all the principles laid down by Mr. Asquith, but the real point was that no one ventured to contend that newspaper proprietors must be excluded from the Government. He referred to France, where the Premier and Foreign Minister were both distinguished journalists, and to Italy, where probably one of the most powerful members of the Government was in control of newspapers. The whole point was whether the newspaper proprietors selected for public office in England were fitted for the work or not. It was not extravagant, he asserted, to say that, viewed as a news organizer, Lord Northcliffe was a man of genius. He was confident that Lords Northcliffe and Beaverbrook would do the work allotted to them as well as any other four men put together.

The Premier agreed that no language was too strong for the condemnation of any member of the Government who inspired attacks on officials. It was equally vital that officials should not employ the press to attack the Government. He expressed the hope that after this discussion the men concerned would be permitted to get on in peace with their difficult and delicate tasks.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, March 12.—The Parliamentary correspondent of the Daily Chronicle writes:

"Austen Chamberlain's frank but not unfriendly speech on the relations of Government and press has revived speculation as to his political future. He was regarded a little while ago as a prospective member of the present War Cabinet. Neither his speech yesterday nor that which he delivered three weeks ago, when he first criticised the press affiliations of the Government, need be regarded as an obstacle to his joining it. Mr. Chamberlain has added greatly to his reputation in the last fifteen months and is undoubtedly one of the political personages of whom serious account must be taken.

"He would bring a real accession of strength to the Cabinet, and he would be invaluable as coadjutor with Bonar Law at the Treasury.

"The speech of the debate yesterday was that of Spencer Leigh Hughes. It coruscated with jewels of wit and wisdom, and during its delivery the House rang with frequent peals of unrestrained laughter. A man who in this time of sorrow and tension can gladden the hearts of his fellowmen by unforced mirthfulness is a public benefactor. Seldom has the House of Commons heard such clever badinage and witty raillery as came from Mr. Hughes this afternoon. There was bite and pith in his speech as well as wit and humor. One effect of it was to reduce events to their proper proportions and to take all the lightning out of the atmosphere. Whether consciously or not, Mr. Hughes did a real service to the Government. No one enjoyed his speech more than the Prime Minister. If they read it, Lord Northcliffe's and Lord Beaverbrook's enjoyment of it will probably be more qualified."

BRITISH FLIERS OUT OF JAIL.

Threat of Reprisal by England Brings Germany to Terms.

LONDON, Monday, March 11.—It was officially announced tonight that the German Government has released from special imprisonment the British Lieutenants, Scholtz and Wookey, the two airmen who some time ago were sentenced to prison for distributing propaganda in Germany by dropping printed matter from airplanes over German territory.

The release was due to a threat by the British Government to take reprisals unless the airmen ceased to be subjected to unusually harsh treatment.

It is understood that the British Government had selected two German airmen of "high family" who were to have been imprisoned under special conditions as a reprisal.

EIGHT KILLED IN MAINZ RAID.

British Airmen Caused No Military Damage, Germans Assert.

AMSTERDAM, March 11.—A telegram from Frankfort-on-the-Main asserts that as a result of a British daylight raid on Mainz last Saturday three soldiers, four women, and one child were killed and many other persons were injured.

No military damage was done, it is declared.

20 BOMBS FELL IN NAPLES.

But Did No Damage of a Military Nature—Some Civilians Killed.

ROME, March 11, (Delayed.)—No damage of a military nature was caused by the attack on Naples early today by enemy aviators, it is announced officially. The raid was made at 1 o'clock this morning. About twenty bombs were dropped, almost all of them striking private houses. In addition to the seven victims in the Hospital of the Little Sisters, several other civilians were killed or wounded.

FINNISH PREMIER ESCAPES TO BERLIN

LONDON, March 12.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph, from Copenhagen, dated Monday, says:

"The Finnish Premier, Judge Svinhufvud, has arrived in Berlin, having made his escape from Helsingfors, where it is reported the Red Guards have now moved their headquarters to the Sveaborg fortress, indicating that they are unable to defend the capital.

"M. Lindhagen, the Mayor of Stockholm, who is in Helsingfors, reports that the Red Guards have rejected mediation by Sweden."

STOCKHOLM, March 11.—The Red Guard contingents in Helsingfors are becoming more violent in their activities, according to a dispatch to the Tidningen from Vasa, Finland.

"They are proceeding in quite a deliberate manner," adds the dispatch, "choosing their victims from among the intellectual classes, assassinating principally the clergy and landed proprietors. All the Agricultural Commissioners except one have been killed."

The Norwegian Government is sending the cruiser Frithjof to Tromsoe, with a landing party, according to a Christiania dispatch to the Dagens Nyheter. Its action, the message states, is taken in view of the spread of Bolshevist revolutionary agitation among the fishermen in the extreme north of Norway who desire a closer connection with Northern Russia. A large meeting for discussion of this subject is said to have been arranged.

PRESS ON IN PALESTINE.

British Continue Their Northern Advance West of the Jordan.

LONDON, March 12.—The British in Palestine are continuing their northward progress. An additional advance on both sides of the Jerusalem-Nablus road is reported in an official statement given out this evening, which reads:

On Sunday night and Monday a further advance was made astride the Jerusalem-Nablus road. Considerable casualties were inflicted upon the enemy, and several machine guns were captured.

Unfavorable weather prevented air co-operation.

TRACE CAPTIVE AMERICANS.

Chinese Soldiers Have Surrounded The Bandits Who Hold Them.

PEKING, March 12.—The whereabouts of Pursell and Nyl, American engineers, has been learned and the bandits who kidnapped them last week near Yeh-Sien, Province of Hunan, have been surrounded by Chinese soldiers.

A Peking dispatch dated March 8 reported the capture of the engineers by Chinese bandits while an engineering party was on its way to inspect a proposed railway site in Hunan.

HITCHCOCK TAKEN UNHURT.

Word Reaches Relatives That He Is Not Wounded in Combat.

Corporal Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., the seventeen-year-old aviator who was captured by the Germans last week while flying in a French squadron, was not wounded in the combat.

The information that young Hitchcock had escaped unhurt was cabled yesterday to Westbury, L. I., by a relative named Dubois. The cable said that the French military authorities had learned that young Hitchcock was a prisoner in Germany, but without wounds. A previous dispatch to the family reported that young Hitchcock was seen last by his comrades as he disappeared toward the German lines in pursuit of an enemy airplane.

Captain and Mrs. Hitchcock had not returned yesterday to their home in Westbury from Aiken, but the cable was forwarded to them there.

SERIOUS RIOTS IN GRATZ.

Mob Demanding Bread Breaks Windows and Plunders Shops.

ZURICH, March 11, (Delayed.)—Serious bread riots occurred in Gratz, the capital of the Austro-Hungarian crownland of Styria, last Wednesday. After sending a deputation to the authorities to complain of the scarcity and poor quality of the bread supplied a mob collected in the streets, smashed windows and plundered shops.

The police were powerless to prevent the disorders. The property damage is reported to have been serious.

"Yesterday," said Smith as we sat at luncheon, "the man who is said to be the greatest salesman of life insurance in the world, H. B. Rosen, told me all his selling secrets; the same afternoon Elmer R. Murphey gossiped with me about his trip to Japan and told me what goods can be exported there." Smith toyed with the celery a moment and continued: "Just before that Professor Heilman had analyzed for me the matter of maintaining profits in 1918. Then there are the remarkable cases of the president of the National Biscuit Company and the president of the Mutual Film Corporation; each man got where he is in a totally different way, as they described to me yesterday. A coal expert gave me some splendid ways we can save our fuel; a girl librarian showed me how technical books make money in an office. Meanwhile I had a couple of hundred or so different commodities and devices explained—"

"Stop! Stop!" I cried. "You might do all that in a month, but not in a day. What do you mean?"

"I read SYSTEM," answered Smith.

GOVERNMENT TO RUN EXPRESS LINES SOON

With Earnings Dropping, Companies Want to be Taken Over and Income Guaranteed.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Government control probably will be extended shortly to the leading express companies, it was officially intimated today by the Railroad Administration. The companies that would be affected are the Adams, American, Wells-Fargo, Southern, Great Northern, Northern, Canadian, and Western.

Most express company earnings last year were far below the year before, and some, notably the Adams, recorded an actual deficit in the latter months. Government operation and compensation on the basis of the average earnings for the last three years is sought by most companies. Since the Government took over the railroads, representatives of the companies have conferred repeatedly with Railroad Administration officials, urging that the Government take over their interests.

Some decision probably will be reached within ten days. Action has been delayed by discussions of the proper basis of compensation.

GREAT WAREHOUSES READY FOR ARMY

houses completed, with a capacity of 5,000 tons each, to supply an army of 1,000,000 men. The number of warehouses will be increased to thirty-nine by July. All this work, including the construction of the ordnance dépôt, fifty miles of railroad tracks, and barracks for several thousand men, has been completed since October.

Two intermediate stations can feed the same number. One will have a refrigerating plant ready in May, which will hold 5,000 tons of meat and will manufacture 500 tons of ice daily.

There is a camouflage studio, where a number of American and French artists are employed to supply the army with imitation forest screens for the communicating roads at the front, and coverings for guns and artillery bases.

Another dépôt has a salvage plant, repairing 2,000 garments and 200 pairs of shoes daily. It is expected to double its capacity inside of four weeks. There is one army bakery, with a capacity of 300,000 pounds of bread daily.

Several thousand men are employed in construction work at the various American dépôts. Lack of freight cars has caused congestion at the ports.

A total of 125 miles of tracks has been laid to the dépôts, and $15,000,000 has been expended. The docks under construction at one port will cost millions of dollars.

A million dollars' worth of British-made uniforms have arrived here and have been distributed to the American Army. The men of one New York regiment and other American soldiers at the front are wearing these uniforms, which are warm and suitable for a cold, wet climate. The officers wear the short, warm overcoats of the British style, and are glad to get them. They also wear French caps.

Thousands of bales of cloth consigned from America for the Russian Army have been intercepted on this side of the water and are being used for clothes for American soldiers.

FOUR NEW YORKERS KILLED.

Two Brooklyn and Two Queens Men in Monday's Casualty List.

The names of four New Yorkers figured in the list of American soldiers killed in France, as reported by General Pershing on Monday.

James B. Kennedy was 24 years old. Before he enlisted as a private he was in the electric business with his brother Charles at 677 Sixty-first Street, Brooklyn. Kennedy lived with his mother and his stepfather, Thomas J. Clarkin, at 434 Sixty-first Street, Brooklyn. On his birthday, Jan. 10, he cabled his mother than he was "feeling fine."

Peter Leffy was for six years a motorman on the Halsey Street line in Brooklyn. He was 27 years old, and was a native of Ireland, where his parents reside. A brother lives here, and another brother is serving in the army in France.

John J. Haspel, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Haspel of 174 Wool Street, Elmhurst, was born in the Ridgewood section of Brooklyn, but had lived in Elmhurst seven years. He was 20 years old and enlisted in May. He was employed in a Brooklyn munition plant at the time of his enlistment.

Oscar Amman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Amman, was 18 years old. He was born in New York City and had lived twelve years in College Point, where he was employed by the Kleinert Rubber Company at the time of his enlistment in August.

MOVE BY GERMANS TO FIGHT PROFITEERS

Centrists and National Liberals Win Socialists in Demand for Seizures.

FOR MILITARY SUPERVISION

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

AMSTERDAM, March 12.—The Daimler Motor Company scandal was again the subject of debate in the Main Committee of the Reichstag Saturday.

The Socialists, Centrists, and National Liberals put forward a demand that the Government should militarize all works which, by charging exaggerated prices for articles required by the army and navy, did damage to the interests of the country, and that those works, while under military supervision, should charge such prices as would provide a dividend of 5 per cent. Other motions demanded various precautions against a recurrence of such profiteering scandals. The Government's attitude toward the motions was somewhat cool, and no definite policy or action was announced during the debate.

Herr Gotheim, Progressive, said the work for the army and navy could in many cases be accomplished only by means of bribery, and that the army authorities had been tricked by the Daimler Company.

Herr Cohn, Independent Socialist, demanded that the head of the Daimler Company should be proceeded against for treason and that the magnates who threatened a strike against the Government should be dealt with in the same way as workers are dealt with.

Conservative speakers endeavored to defend the company, but the Lokal-Anzeiger, an organ of the big industrial firms, is constrained to admit that the Daimler Company is meeting with its deserts. It says:

"No one can blame the company for making the best of things, but it was working at a profit of 173 per cent., an unheard of thing."

Vorwärts says that the company is worked on the same plan as the Deutsche Waffen und Munitions Fabriken, makers of the Mauser rifle, a very big munition concern, whose Director is on the board of the Daimler Company. The Daimler Company, Vorwärts adds, did its best to conceal its profts. At the end of last year the concern increased its capital from 8,000,000 to 32,000,000 marks. Though the shares then stood at 1,050 marks on 'change, the new shares were given out at 107, and in many cases as a free gift.

The Daimler case is being studied by the legal authorities at Stuttgart, and it is thought that proceedings will be commenced shortly.

ROB FRENCH OFFICERS OF CAPS AND HELMETS

German Prison Camp Authorities Sell Them to the Public at $10 Each.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, March 11, (Delayed.)—The latest development of German practices in the way of petty ill-treatment of French officer prisoners is revealed by Henry Galli, one of the members of the Chamber of Deputies for Paris, in the Matin this morning.

M. Galli says that in one prison camp in Germany French officers have recently been ordered to hand over their military caps and helmets to be sold to the public at $10 each. Several hundred would-be buyers presented themselves as the result of advertisements of the sale. But very few were able to buy, as most of the officers had succeeded in destroying their caps and helmets. In consequence the officers found guilty have been fined $10 for each cap destroyed. The Germans are evidently determined to continue the practice, as the advertisement is still appearing, offering the caps for sale. It is added, as an additional attraction, that each cap will bear the name of the officer who wore it and the number of the regiment to which he belonged.

M. Galli also says that, despite the German assertion that so-called reprisal punishments have been abolished, barley and corn flour soup is still served to officers at the Eutin camp in large wooden pigs' troughs, these containers being passed from room to room successively for the officers to help themselves from them.

Another characteristic petty persecution is the continued refusal of the Germans to allow officers or men to cook beans, rice, and other foodstuffs sent from home. At one time French officers were able to make cooking apparatus from meat tins and cook their food after a fashion, using newspapers as fuel. These poor substitutes have now been taken away, the only explanation offered being the single word, "Orders."

Every scrap of rubber in shoes, footballs, &c., is also confiscated, as well as most of their woolen underclothes and spare suits.

"At the same time," says M. Galli, "the Germans have the indescribable impudence to accuse us of treating German prisoners in France with the utmost inhumanity."

SUSPECT SPY ON PANNONIA.

Porthole Opened and Ship Narrowly Escapes Sinking.

LONDON, Feb. 22, (by Mail.)—A German agent in New York almost succeeded in sinking the Cunard liner Pannonia, according to a story told in a court here this week. The case before the court was a suit by an English firm to recover $10,000 from the Cunard Line for wheat damaged by water.

The steamship owners denied that the damage was chargeable to them, "as it was due to the fact that a porthole had been opened deliberately by a German spy in New York." Counsel for the Cunard Line said:

"The Pannonia was loaded by stevedores regularly employed by us, and there is no reason to suspect them. But it was known by every one that German spies were active in New York at the time, and when the loading was proceeding every precaution was taken. There had been attempts to bomb ships and large bodies of detectives were on the watch all the time.

"All the portholes were carefully inspected and closed before the cargo was put in. The man who opened this porthole must have used a spanner in working back three bolts. It is only by sheer good fortune that the ship and her valuable cargo of food were not entirely lost."

The Captain of the Pannonia gave this testimony:

"On the voyage to England the ship began to behave strangely and five feet of water was found on the port side of one hold. It was evident that there had been a deliberate attempt to sink the ship."

ADOPT AMERICAN CAPTIVES.

Countrywomen in Holland Will Send Parcels to Germany.

AMSTERDAM, March 11.—Under the Presidency of Mrs. Frank W. Mahin, wife of the American Consul here, a committee has been formed by American-born wives of prominent Netherlanders and other sympathizers in Holland to send parcels of comforts to American war prisoners in Germany.

The idea of "adopting" American soldier prisoners in this manner promises to become very popular here. The committee will act in co-operation with the Red Cross. Steps are being taken to procure from the United States such articles of food desired for the prisoners as are not obtainable in Holland.

DEFICIENCY BILL PASSED BY SENATE

REED AGAIN RAPS HOOVER

Says Food Administrator Has Wasted Public Money, and Asks About $12,600,000 in Grain Fees.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—By unanimous vote the Senate today passed the Urgent Deficiency bill, carrying an appropriation of $761,265,355 for immediate war uses and a further authorization of $419,000,000 for projects to be taken up later, making an aggregate of $1,180,265,355. The appropriation of $761,265,355 is $73,384,873 more than that carried in the bill as passed by the House.

One of the principal features of the bill is the amendment adopted yesterday, authorizing the Alien Property Custodian to take over and dispose of all German-owned or controlled property in the United States, with an aggregate value of over $1,000,000,000. It is regarded as probable that the clause inserted in this amendment, on motion of Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, providing that all such property shall be sold at public auction, will be discarded by the Senate and House conferees, to whom the measure now goes. President Wilson is reported as objecting to public auction, on the ground that it would give opportunity for Germans, or agents acting for them, to bid the property in.

Soon after the bill was passed Secretary McAdoo sent to the Senate a request for an additional $381,374,405, of which $375,074,405 was wanted for armament of fortifications and $6,300,000 for proving ground facilities.

The only opposition to the bill today comes from Senator Reed of Missouri, who fought against an appropriation of $1,750,000 for the Food Administration. The Missourian, after failing to have the appropriation cut from the measure, voted for it on final passage.

Senator Reed, in a speech lasting nearly two hours, attacked the Food Administration for what he called "wanton extravagance." Mr. Hoover had an appropriation of $5,515,762 from Congress, the Senator said; had used $1,985,429, incurred obligations of $2,272,383, and had $1,257,950 left.

"With a balance of over $1,250,000, what does Mr. Hoover want with the $1,750,000 we seek to give him through this bill?" demanded Senator Reed. "He's squandered money—or his department has—in a way that ought to startle this Senate, if anything could startle it.

"The Food Administration handles huge sums of money, and I don't see that it makes accounting for it. Its Grain Corporation, I have calculated, has taken in $12,040,318 in fees. What's become of it?

"All the way through, there is wild waste by a man who has thrust his hand deeper into the National Treasury than any other man in history ever did. The Food Administration spent money like a drunken sailor."

manders and the armies which have so long held the frontiers of freedom against all attacks. In America, as in France, we have a civilian Secretary of War, and civil power is supreme. That is one of the characteristics of the free institutions which we are fighting to maintain.

"Civil power must bring up the supplies of organized industrial resources and support its armies. In America now the dominant thought in all minds is war. Industry is organized and supplies are beginning to be produced in a satisfactory quantity. War materials are accumulating and a great army is completing its training to join the force already here.

"There can be but one result when the forces of civilization in great countries like those now allied are combined to defend the vital principles of liberty. Our President has nobly phrased the spirit in which America entered the war, and his subsequent declarations reflect the feeling of the entire country that we are committed with all our resources to the winning of the war."

In his talk with the newspaper correspondents, Mr. Baker said he was impressed with the cordiality of the relations existing between the French and Americans, which had manifested itself in several ways since his arrival.

Joffre Calls on Secretary.

Marshal Joffre called on Secretary Baker yesterday morning, and the Secretary later returned the call at the Marshal's headquarters. The Secretary in the afternoon visited General Tasker H. Bliss, American representative on the Supreme War Council at Versailles.

Secretary Baker plunged into his work soon after his arrival, making calls on Premier Clemenceau and Ambassador Sharp. General Pershing accompanied him. Yesterday afternoon the Secretary was received by President Poincaré. Ambassador Sharp presented him to the President. General Pershing accompanied him on this occasion also.

There was something of a submarine alarm on the voyage over when the party was about 500 miles off the coast of France. Secretary Baker, General Black, and the officers of the ship were having tea when a loud report was heard. This was at first believed to be the noise of the dropping of a hatch, but other reports followed, and the entire party went on deck. It was then learned that the lookouts on board the cruiser had sighted a spar, closely resembling a submarine periscope, sticking out of the water, and the gunners decided to fire without taking any chances as to the character of the object.

Secretary Baker saw the American gunners on the cruiser shatter the spar and expressed himself as greatly pleased at their promptness and accuracy.

French Press Cordial.

The French newspapers today give great prominence to the visit of Secretary Baker. All the newspapers welcome him cordially, lay stress on the significance of his visit, and comment favorably on the simple and business-like way in which the Secretary goes about his tremendous task.

"Mr. Baker's declarations are a strong expression of the necessities of the present moment," says the Figaro, which characterizes him as "the direct interpreter of the ideas of President Wilson and the American people."

"One realizes the profound error of the French Socialists," the Figaro adds, "who see nothing but President Wilson's idealism and do not perceive the determination to fight which comes from the same source."

L'Homme Libre, which was founded by Premier Clemenceau, says:

"'I am all for the war,' said M. Clemenceau the other day. 'We have engaged all of our resources for the victory,' says Mr. Baker. It is the same policy in two identical formulas. America, as we, as all our allies at the moment when Rumania falls and the Russian weakens, has but one thought—to win."

PERSHING URGED TRIP.

President's Correspondence with Baker on Visit to France Published.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Secretary Baker's letter to President Wilson asking for permission to absent himself from his office long enough to make an inspection trip of the American expeditionary forces in France and a visit to London and Paris was made public here today, together with the President's reply granting his request. The Secretary's letter follows:

"My Dear Mr. President:

"I have had repeated cablegrams and letters from General Pershing urging that I visit our expeditionary forces in France, and as our plans have gone forward I have come more and more to realize the need of an actual inspection of ports, transportation and storage facilities and camps of our overseas army.

"Of course, we are constantly having officers of the several armies returning from France with information and recommendations; but they frequently serve only to illustrate the impossibility of securing a complete view of the situation by any other course than a personal inspection.

"In addition to this the relatives and friends of our soldiers are deeply concerned to know the conditions under which these soldiers live and the environment in which they find themselves. It will be of importance if I can give comforting assurances as the result of an actual visit to the camps; and it may be that I can suggest betterments as the result of our experience here where great camps have been built and a most wholesome and helpful environment provided with the co-operation of all the helpful and sympathetic agencies which the people of the country have placed at our disposal.

"The various reorganizations in the war departments have now proceeded to a place where I feel that they will proceed uninterruptedly with their task, and I can with more comfort than would have been possible at an earlier time be absent for a brief time. I am writing, therefore, to ask your consent to my absence long enough to pay a hurried visit to France for such an inspection trip as I have herein outlined. My plans would carry me to France and would include a thorough inspection of our ports, lines of transportation and communication and camps, with a brief visit to Paris and London.

"Respectfully yours,
"NEWTON D. BAKER."

The President replied:

"My Dear Mr. Secretary:

"I have your letter of Feb. 20 and concur in your judgment that General Pershing's repeated requests that you should visit our expeditionary forces in France should be complied with. I believe that it will add to the morale not only of our forces there, but of our forces here, to feel that you are personally conversant with all the conditions of their transportation and treatment on the other side, and I believe that it will be serviceable to all of us to have the comparative view which you will bring back with you.

"I sincerely hope that your journey will be safe. We shall look for your return with impatience, because your guidance is constantly needed here.

"Cordially and sincerely yours,
"WOODROW WILSON."

WILL RUSH TROOPS ACROSS TO FRANCE

many more men than are at present required for the army. It would be a most unscientific and fatuous step if the men in Class 1 were called indiscriminately, without regard to the labor situation in agriculutre. Therefore, the local boards will be directed to fill their quotas in the order of liability of men in Class 1, as determined by the national drawing, except that, where it is shown that a registrant is completely and assidiously engaged in the planting, cultivation, or reaping of a crop, his call to the colors shall be deferred to the foot of the quota of his board as long as he continues to be so engaged.

"Whenever any registrant, whose call to the colors has been deferred by reason of his engagement in agriculture, is shown to have been idle on the farm on which he is engaged or to have trifled with the deferment that has been accorded him, the boards will forthwith induct him into military service if his order number has been reached in the meantime. The effect of this expedient is to grant furloughs from service prior to actual call to the colors to the men so greatly needed in the production of this year's crop.

"This is not, however, the only expedient that is to be adopted to conserve the supply of labor appurtenant to agriculture and to mobilize all means for increasing the harvest for the agricultural season of 1918.

"There is now pending before Congress a bill authorizing the Secretary of War to grant furloughs, with or without pay, to men in the army to enable them to engage in industrial and agricultural pursuits. These furloughs will be granted after consideration of the circumstances of the individual case in which they arise, and when the military situation is such that they can be granted without too great disruption and disorganization of the army or of any particular organization of the army.

Respite for Agricultural Students.

"As to further means to protect agriculture a new regulation has been promulgated authorizing agricultural students in their senior year in land grant colleges to enlist in the Enlisted Reserve Corps of the Quartermaster's Department, provided their class standing is such as to place them in the upper third of their class. By this means it will be possible to defer the draft call of such young men in order to enable them to perfect themselves as agriculturalists and thereafter to protect them in such services as it may seem that they should perform in the best interests of the nation.

"The whole industrial and agricultural situation is being subjected to a very comprehensive study in order to discover any means that may be taken to protect and augment the labor supply appurtenant to industry and agriculture without precluding the prompt and orderly progress of our military plans. It is confidently believed that great progress can be made along this line and that more effective measures than any yet devised can be put into operation to attain the desired end.

"It must be emphasized that this is a war of mechanics. The need of the several armed forces for men highly skilled in technical and mechanical pursuits is greater than in any former war. Yet this need for specially skilled men finds the nation under a necessity for increasing its production in almost every line of industry. Withdrawals of men from industry must be made, and these withdrawals must take men who might otherwise be deferred on account of their special qualifications and skill. The necessary numbers of such skilled men will be obtained in one of three ways.

"First, men already in the military service who have such special skill will be taken from the line regiments and assigned to the staff organizations and departments where their skill is needed.

"Second, men classified by the selection boards, even though they may have been placed in a deferred classification, will be withdrawn with great care and particularly from the industries of the nation for special service in staff corps and departments.

"Third, young men of draft age with certain educational qualifications will be inducted into the service and sent to universities, colleges, and tecrnical and secondary schools to be instructed in technical arts until they have acquired such proficiency as will justify their assignment to the special units that are being organized in considerable numbers.

10,000 Men for Schools.

"In accordance with this plan, the Provost Marshal General has already called upon the States for some ten thousand skilled artisans, and will shortly call upon the States for 10,000 young men, graduates of grammar schools, who will be sent before the 1st of April to various technical and other schools throughout the United States for a two months' course of training. Regularly thereafter an increasing stream of selected men will be sent through educational and other training institutions for this purpose.

"To sum up, it may be said that there will be no sudden withdrawal of great numbers of men from the ranks of industry and agriculture during the coming Summer, but that men will be withdrawn in relatively small groups throughout the year in such a way as to create the least possible interference with industry and agriculture. Men in deferred classes, as well as men in Class 1, will be selected in small numbers, either on account of their special technical qualifications or for the purpose of sending them to schools where they will be given an opportunity to acquire such qualifications."

MEAT SAVING CAMPAIGN BROUGHT BIG RESULTS

Increased Production and Decreased Consumption Shown by Food Report.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Evidence that the public made general response to the Food Administration's appeal for increased production and decreased consumption of meat is shown in statistics furnished the Food Administration today by the Department of Agriculture.

Meat animals in the United States increased by 6,300,000 in the year ended Jan. 1, 1918, the increase consisting of 1,247,000 cattle, 3,781,000 hogs, and 1,284,000 sheep. Inspections of beef for slaughter increased 2,039,651, or 24.5 per cent., but inspections of hogs decreased 21.3 per cent., more than 9,000,000 head, and inspections of sheep fell off 21.9 per cent., approximately 2,500,000 head.

The gains in available meat indicated by these figures were what caused the Food Administration recently to relax restrictions on meat consumption, so that there might be greater saving of wheat for export.

Exports of all kinds of meats decreased during the year, due to lack of ships.

Prices paid for meat animals were higher than ever before. The average price of beef advanced 22.1 per cent., from $9.50 per 100 pounds in 1916 to $11.60 in 1917. Hogs advanced from $9.60 to $15.10, a total of 57 per cent., and sheep increased 40 per cent., from $7.85 to $11.

PRIMATE AT FANEUIL HALL.

Archbishop Tells Boston Audience This Must Be the Last War.

BOSTON, March 12.—The Most Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, Archbishop of York, who is touring this country in the interest of wartime unity between Great Britain and the United States, was speaker at a public meeting in Faneuil Hall today.

Two mottoes which he declared the people should keep ever before them were proposed by the Archbishop in his Faneuil Hall address—one to be followed during the war and one for the period after the war—the first: "Once and for all," and the second, "Never again."

"We cannot go through this business again," he declared. "It must be decided once and for all, and, please God, we will carry on our task until it is completed. Our war-aims can never be those which are put forth in detail at any stage of the conflict. There is great danger of being too concise in the face of a constantly shifting situation and we must follow our ideals where the challenge of Germany leads.

"After the war we must be prepared to take our part in a league of the nations, united to secure the freedom and safety of self-governing peoples."

NAVY MET CRISIS WITH GREAT SKILL

House Investigators Say Sea Force Is Fully Equipped and Steadily Growing.

MATERIAL SENT TO ALLIES

Ordnance Bureau Is Supplying Munitions to Great Britain, France, and Italy.

TRIUMPH OF PREPAREDNESS

Efficency of Pre-War Organization Held to Have Been Proved in the Emergency.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The United States Navy is fully equipped for war purposes and is strengthening itself in particulars where experience in the war zone has shown expansion and improvement are necessary, says the report of the special committee of the House Naval Affairs Committee, which has just completed an investigation of activities of the navy during the war.

The report submitted to the House today by Representative Padgett, Chairman of the Naval Affairs Committee, is highly laudatory of all activities of the navy. The committee recommends that the building program, temporarily halted, in order to concentrate on the construction of destroyers needed for attacks on submarines, shall be speedily resumed. Battle cruisers and scout cruisers have waited on the building of destroyers, and it is recommended that these cruisers shall be provided without delay so as to give to the navy its complete fighting potentiality.

300,000 Men in Navy Now.

Since last March the navy has grown from 55,000 to 300,000 enlisted men and there will be no difficulty in increasing the enlistment at any time, according to the report. The situation as to aviators and machines is declared satisfactory.

The marines are referred to as a most active fighting force, of which there are "no braver men on the firing line in France today." The hope is expressed by the committee that their number will be increased.

The report emphasizes that due to the activities of the Bureaus of Construction and Repair and of Steam Engineering, our navy entered the war prepared for all emergencies. Plans put in operation by these bureaus, it is pointed out, have brought about a condition in which during 1918, "destroyers will be built in from a third to a half the time taken during prewar conditions."

Conclusions reached by the special committee, in which the full Naval Affairs Committee concurred, are:

First, all appropriations have been expended or obligated with judgment, caution and economy, considering that haste was necessary to bring results and abnormal conditions prevailed.

Second, the navy, with limited personnel and material, was suddenly called to face many difficult and untried problems in sea warfare and has met the situation with rare skill, ingenuity and dispatch and a high degree of success.

Third, the efficiency of the nay's prewar organization, the readiness and fitness of its men and ships were early put to the acid test, and thus far in no way have they been found wanting. We feel that the last twelve months presents for the navy a remarkable record of achievement, of steadily increasing power in both personnel and material, of rapidly expanding resources, and of well-matured plans for the future, whether the war be long or short.

Building Program Urged.

"Some mistakes have been made, of course, yet the navy has shown its strength by the manner of its correction," the report continues. "It is a matter of regret that the great demand upon the ship construction capacity of the country, coupled with the urgent demand for a large increase in the destroyer force, has made necessary a temporary abandonment in part of the navy shipbuilding program. The navy greatly needs both scout and battle cruisers, without which our dreadnought fleet loses a large part of its fighting potentiality. We approve the principle and earnestly favor a resumption of the building program as soon as conditions permit, and cannot too strongly emphasize the importance of providing both scout and battle cruisers.

"That the expansion of the navy has resulted in gain rather than loss of efficiency is primarily due to the one factor—preparedness. This, we think, very fully appears from our report on the bureaus, the office of operations, and the fleet, which follows:

"In March last we had only about 55,000 men, including the Naval Reserves, in the naval service. This number has been rapidly increased until it is approximately now 300,000. All enlistments are practically for the full four-year period.

"Every district turned in far more than its quota of enlistments, which necessitated slowing down recruiting to prevent crowding men in training stations. At the commencement of the war our training stations could accommodate only about 6,000 apprentice seamen, but Admiral Palmer early assumed the responsibility of increasing the housing rooms at the various stations, and we now have barracks for more than 50,000 men.

Trade Schools Established.

"Schools have been provided for the training of officers and men. These cover a large number of trades in addition to regular naval work, including thorough courses for divers, electricians, radio men, carpenters, machinists, blacksmiths, coppersmiths, bakers, hospital workers, camouflage men, musisians, gunners, signal men, steel and concrete construction men, armed guard crews, men for submarine work, motor boat, and patrolmen. Since April last more than 1,000 vessels have been put into commission by the Bureau of Navigation, including battleships, submarines, destroyers, transports, hospital ships, patrol vessels, mine layers, mine sweepers, submarine chasers, and supply vessels.

"We have examined the naval aircraft situation, and find many matters of great interest, but much of our information is not now open for public discussion. This was the one development of material which no amount of foresight would have enabled the navy to prepare adequately. The growth of airplanes and hydroplanes has been so rapid that nothing short of actual war conditions would insure a large number of up-to-the-second machines with aviators trained to handle them.

"In the earlier stages of its undertaking the Naval Air Service met many discouragements; but the perfection of the Liberty Motor and the use of large sums of money in conjunction with the army to finance manufacturers have, under the direction of the air service, produced results that now promise to meet the requirements of this important branch of the navy."

With regard to target practice the committee reported that difficulties caused by taking experts to man merchant vessels have been largely remedied.

"How well the men sent to merchant ships have been able to do their work," the report states, "has already been answered by the defenses they have made to submarine attacks. How well the new men have responded to their training cannot be answered until the day when the guns of the fleet speak, but we venture to prophesy that the results will be in keeping with the proved traditions of the American navy."

Belief is expressed that the preparedness of the fleet when war was declared was largely due to the Office of Naval Operations.

"The pronounced success of this office beyond question," it is declared, "is due to the strong personality of its chief, Admiral Benson, the ranking officer of the navy."

Representative Oliver says:

"Except the general statement that Vice Admiral Sims has had everything called for as promptly as it could be delivered, our committee has nothing to report about the condition of our overseas fleet. Its splendid work under the able direction of Admiral Sims will be told in detail at some later time.

"We have learned by personal observation, as well as by inquiry, something of the Atlantic Fleet; and we feel we say say that the condition of ships and personnel, all things considered, is more than satisfactory. That this condition exists is due to Admiral Mayo, its commander in chief, and every officer and man under him.

"When war came on April 7, Admiral Mayo is quoted to have said: 'I did not give a single solitary order of any kind or description to pass the fleet from a peace to a war basis.' Then came the disintegration of that excellent, but too small, personnel to meet the necessities of expansion.

"The task of reconstruction and training has been difficult, but we learn that officers and men have devoted themselves to this task with patience, endurance, pluck, and skill of the highest order. So well have they succeeded that we feel justified to report, 'Sirs, all is well with the fleet.'"

The report commends the efficiency displayed by the Bureaus of Construction and Repair and of Steam Engineering, saying that the skill and inventive genius of the personnel of these bureaus have contributed very largely to the efficiency of our own and allied navies.

"Extensive preparations were made by these bureaus before the outbreak of the war," says the report. "Large stores were accumulated and extensive contracts made; repair ships were thoroughly equipped and ready to sail. As a result our destroyer fleet in the war zone has been maintained in a high state of efficiency. Navy yards were fully supplied with materials for converting merchant vessels taken over."

The report emphasizes the lack of shipbuilding facilities at the outbreak of the war, and says that in 1918, owing to the work of these bureaus, "destroyers will be built in from a third to a half the time taken under pre-war conditions," and they will be "the equal in every respect and superior in some to our latest destroyers."

The report shows that more than a hundred German ships are now flying the American flag, most of them being vessels which were damaged apparently beyond repair just before this country declared war against Germany. Memoranda found on these vessels contained notations as to whether damage done by the Germans could or could not be repaired, and in almost every case the ships were said to be "damaged beyond repair." Yet these repairs have been made, though how it was accomplished is a mystery to German skippers now interned.

"These bureaus have not only had at their command the assistance of American inventors and experts, but have been given full information of the devices developed and progress made by other navies and have worked in close conjunction with our Allies," the report says.

New Ordnance Developed.

The Bureau of Ordnance, it is said, has fully satisfied the demands made upon it by the vessels operating in European waters. It has developed much new material, including "depth charges, submarine bombs, non-ricochet shells, bomb dropping devices, howitzers, guns for throwing depth charges, smokescreen apparatus, heavier ordnance on all craft, and many other important designs that it is unwise to discuss."

"Over 1,100 vessels," the report says, "have been furnished and equipped with guns, ammunition, spare parts, and all their auxiliaries since the fitting out of the Campagna in March, 1914. Reserves of ammunition have been acquired. The bureau has furnished in appreciable quantities the Governments of England, France, and Italy with guns from the largest to the smallest calibre, together with proper supplies, and is continuing the supply of such munitions to our allies, both to regular navy vessels and some merchantmen."

Unqualified praise is given to the work of the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, the navy's business office.

"Under its chief, who is Rear Admiral Samuel McGowan," the report states, "it has established and well deserves a nation-wide reputation for business efficiency. It has the responsibility of feeding, clothing, and paying the entire personnel of the navy and supplying all the vessels of the navy with stores and equipment. Under their system 300,000 men and 1,100 ships were just as promptly and well provided for as 55,000 men and 300 ships had been before the war.

"Some idea of the magnitude of the increase in the navy's purchases since the war may be gained from the fact that the total expenditure for an entire year in the comparatively recent past did not exceed $90,000,000, whereas expenditures are now being made at the rate of $30,000,000 [?] a day.

"The Paymaster General in all but a few confidential purchases has insisted rightly that publicity protects the navy and encourages competition. As a result quality, quick deliveries, and lowest market prices have been obtained. The finest spirit of co-operation and loyalty to its chief exists in this department. This loyalty extends to the senior aid, Rear Admiral C. J. Peoples, the youngest officer of his rank in the navy, and one of the most efficient."

DOUBLES AVIATION FUND.

House Committee Favors $188,000,000 Item in Navy Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—In continuing consideration today of the Naval Appropriation bill, the House Naval Committee increased an item of $94,000,000 for naval aviation to $188,000,000, and provided for an increase in the number of Marine Corps officers.

Secretary Daniels today recommended to Congress that the Navy Medical Reserve Corps and the Navy Dental Reserve Corps be absorbed by the Naval Reserve Force. Under the present laws members of the two corps are not obligated to active service, and can only be ordered to duty on their own request.

JUDGE MANTON PROMOTED.

Raised from District to Circuit Bench by President Wilson.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Nominations sent to the Senate today by President Wilson included that of Martin T. Manton of New York to be United States Circuit Judge for the Second Circuit.

Martin T. Manton was appointed District Judge for the Southern District of New York by President Wilson Aug. 15, 1916, to succeed Judge Charles M. Hough, nominated as United States Circuit Judge for the Second Circuit.

Mr. Manton was a member of the law firm of Cockran & Manton, the senior partner being W. Bourke Cockran. He was instrumental in the prosecution of important cases under the Sherman Anti-Trust law, and was concerned in the proceedings that ended the alleged unfair practices of the so-called "Camera Trust." He argued the case of Police Lieutenant Becker before the Court of Appeals.

Born in this city Aug. 2, 1880, Judge Manton's boyhood was passed in Sayville, L. I., where he attended the public schools. He was graduated from Columbia Law School in 1901, and was admitted to the bar in same year.

7 MAJOR GENERALS BARRED AS UNFIT

ASSIGNED TO OTHER DUTIES

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—A big shake-up in important National Army camps, involving some of the best-known general officers of the regular army, was disclosed late this afternoon when Major Gen. Peyton C. March, the new Chief of Staff, announced that seven general officers had been found physically unfit for overseas service and assigned to other duty. All seven are Major Generals, but five of them are Major Generals in the national army, and since they are physically unfit for service in France they will, in addition to receiving billets which hold them in this country away from the battle front, revert to their former rank of Brigadier Generals in the regular army.

This action is taken under a permanent policy announced by Secretary Baker before he went to France, when he allowed it to become known that officers who are physically unfit to stand the strain of miserable weather and other harassing conditions behind the fighting line in France, will not be used abroad.

List of Transferred Generals.

The general officers involved in the shake-up are:

Major Gen. Richard M. Blatchford, national army, to be discharged from his commission in the national army, and revert to the rank of Brigadier General in the regular army. He will remain on his present duty in command of the Department of Panama.

Major Gen. Edwin St. John Greble, national army, also to revert to the rank of Brigadier General in the regular army. He will be relieved of the command of the 36th Division of the National Guard army at Camp Bowie, Texas, and assigned to other duty, probably to command the Field Artillery replacement camp at Camp McClellan, Anniston, Ala.

Major Gen. Charles G. Morton, regular army, to be relieved of the command of the 29th National Guard Division at Camp McClellan, Anniston, Ala., and to be assigned to other duty, probably to command the Infantry Replacement Camp at Camp Lee, Virginia.

Major Gen. William H. Sage, national army, to revert to the rank of Brigadier General in the regular army. He will be relieved from command of the 38th National Guard Division at Camp Shelby, Mississippi, and assigned to other duty, probably to command the Machine Gun Replacement Division at Camp Hancock, Georgia.

Major Gen. Edward H. Plummer, national army, to revert to his commission of Brigadier General in the regular army. He will be relieved of command of 88th National Army Division at Camp Dodge, Iowa, and assigned to other duty, probably to command Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Major Gen. Thomas H. Barry, regular army, to be relieved from duty in command of the 86th Division, national army, at Camp Grant, Ill., and assigned to command the Central Department with headquarters at Chicago, relieving Major Gen. William H. Carter, United States Army, retired.

Major Gen. William A. Mann, former commander of the Rainbow Division in France, to be discharged from his commission in the national army, to revert to his rank of Brigadier General in the regular army, and to remain on his present duty in command of the Eastern Department with headquarters at Governors Island.

More to Undergo Test.

It was announced that each of these general officers had been adjudged by medical inspection and efficiency boards to be physically unfit for service in France.

Every general officer now in France who has been sent there as a division commander or in other capacity to familiarize himself with conditions on the western battlefront, will have to undergo a physical examination on his return to this country. This includes Major Gen. Leonard Wood. If the medical boards find that they are able to stand up physically under the strain, they will be sent back to France for active duty. Otherwise they will be assigned to duty in the United States in connection with the working out of the general war program and the rounding out of the great army machine of more than 2,500,000 men that will be under arms after the second call to the colors has been made.

It was also learned this afternoon that no officers from now on will be sent to France for active service if they fail to convince medical examining boards that they are physically fit for duty under the intense conditions of war and weather which they must experience in that country.

BIDDLE SENT TO ENGLAND.

To Relieve Gen. Bartlett in Command of American Troops There.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Major Gen. John Biddle, who was recently relieved by Major Gen. Peyton C. March as Acting Chief of Staff, is to command all American troops in England, it is understood. Army orders today show the assignment of two officers as aides on his staff.

Major Gen. George T. Bartlett has been in command in England, where several American units, including engineers and heavy artillery, have been training at British camps. It is not known to what post General Bartlett goes.

General Biddle was appointed Assistant Chief of Staff just before General Bliss made his first trip to Europe as a member of the Supreme War Council.

$375,074,465 FOR FORTS.

War Department Asks Large Sum for New Armaments.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Congress was asked by the War Department today for an additional appropriation of $375,074,465 for armament for fortifications and $6,300,000 for proving ground facilities. This large supplemental estimate will necessitate the framing of another Deficiency bill.

Besides this total, the department reiterated a request for $11,295,000 additional for other needs, embracing $5,000,000 for terminal storage and shipping buildings, $6,000,600 for the manufacture of arms, $195,000 for the Rock Island (Ill.) Arsenal, and $100,000 for the Watertown (Mass.) Arsenal.

HONOLULU, T. H., March 12.—W. A. Shryer of Detroit, a writer for business publications, was killed yesterday while on a visit to Kilauea Volcano, on the Island of Hawaii, when the steering gear of an automobile in which he was riding broke and the machine plunged down an embankment.

WOMEN VOTE IN OSSINING.

Mrs. O'Shea, ex-Policewoman, Fails to Beat Her Opponents.

Special to The New York Times.

OSSINING, N. Y., March 12.—Today at the first village election held here since the vote was granted to women it was estimated by the police that more women voted than men. The polls were open up to 8 o'clock at night, and the rainfall did not deter the women from turning out.

Four members were elected to the Board of Trustees. The Republicans captured three places, and the Democrats one. This gives the Democrats seven members and the Republicans five.

Anna O'Shea, former policewoman, who was ousted several months ago, spent the last two days here campaigning, and the wards where she opposed the candidates who had voted against her returned her enemies to the board. In the First Ward Mrs. O'Shea was out to beat James Owens, Republican. His plurality over his Democratic opponent, Michael Gallagher, was 112. He was aided considerably by his daughter, Miss Alice Owens, a member of the Washington Square Players, in New York, who spoke for him.

In the Second Ward Mrs. O'Shea supported Warren Odell, Democrat, and he was beaten by his Republican opponent, Howard Dunscomb, by 190 votes. In the Third Ward Mrs. O'Shea spoke for William Brundage, Republican, who lost to Patrick McCormick, Democrat, by 40 votes. She made no campaign in the Fourth Ward, where Robert Lenney, Republican, beat Frank Irvin, Democrat, by 362 votes.

LABOR AGITATOR TO JAIL.

Russian Advised Strike in Factory Filling War Contracts.

Magistrate Thomas F. Doyle in the Long Island City Police Court yesterday sent Herman Singer, 28 years old, a labor agitator, to jail for five days without the alternative of a fine in an effort to head off an attempt to stir up discontent in the Rosenwasser factory on Orchard Street, Long Island City, where containers for gas masks are being made. Singer is a Russian, who has been in this country for some years and had never made an attempt to get out citizen papers.

"We don't propose to have any interference with work that is to benefit our soldiers in France," said Magistrate Doyle to Singer.

Before leaving Indianapolis Chairman Hays telegraphed the Governors of the New England States, as well as the Republican National Committeemen of the same territory, to meet him at a dinner which he will give at the Union League Club tonight. The National Committeemen who are expected to be present are King of Connecticut, Estabrook of New Hampshire, du Pont of Delaware, Hale of Maine, Sheffield of Rhode Island, and Kingsley of Vermont. The Governors of Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Vermont are also expected to be on hand. Chairman Hays said his only object in meeting these Republicans was to get acquainted with them, as many of them were comparative strangers. He also wished to consult with them before he went ahead and selected his Executive Committee.

Chairman Hays declared last night that he was in favor of the Federal amendment granting woman suffrage and would be well satisfied if two Republican Senators now opposed to the amendment would change about and vote for it. Nine Republican Senators out of forty-two are opposed to the amendment, and the Chairman believes it would be good politics, aside from the question of the right of giving the vote to women, if two of them at least would vote for the amendment when it comes up and thus insure its passage. It is understood that there are twenty-three Republican and twenty-nine Democratic Senators in favor of the amendment at present.

Chairman Hays repeated his declaration that it was the duty of the Republican Party to stand by the President in his war policies and do everything in its power to bring the war to a successful termination.

"The Republican Party stands for a conclusive peace by victory," declared Chairman Hays, "and not by compromise bargaining.' After we get that it will then be necessary to prepare in the same manner for the reconstruction which is to come after the war. It is time for the Republican Party to prepare a forward-looking as well as a forward-stepping program regarding labor and industrial problems, so that they can be solved in an equitable manner.".

Chairman Hays will go to Washington tonight to meet the Republican Senators and Representatives whom he has not yet conferred with.

MARSHALL ON WAR BOARD.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The War Department today authorized the announcement that H. Snowden Marshall of New York, former United States District Attorney, has been appointed member of a committee which will make a "broad survey" of the Government's aeronautical program, "with particular reference to the industrial phases of the work." There will be three members to the committee, of which Mr. Marshall will be one and Edward Wells of the Babcock & Wilcox Company another. The third member's name will be announced later.

It was explained that the creation of this board was in line with the general policy of the Secretary of War to keep thoroughly advised of the detail workings of the various departments of the Government and with the industrial activities involved in the consummation of the various war programs.

"It is felt," said a statement authorized by the War Department, "that the advice of this committee will prove of the greatest aid in pushing the development of the air service."

VOTES REFERENDUM ON PROHIBITION

the bill sent to the printer. It will probably appear on the desks of members in its amended form tomorrow and can go on the Assembly calendar for final action by Monday night. The Senate in all probability will act before the end of next week.

Of course, the action today does not absolutely dispose of the question. There is nothing to prevent some member introducing a new resolution providing for ratification. But with the Assembly firmly on record, after practically everything that could be said regarding the merits of the proposition involved had been said, the Assembly, in the opinion of observers here, would be hard to budge.

Analysis of the vote cast for the MacHold amendment shows that 40 Democrats, 9 Socialists, and 35 Republicans were lined up against immediate ratification. Sixty-two Republicans, mostly from rural Assembly districts, and two Democrats—Parsons of Schoharie and Belknap of Westchester—voted against the amendment.

There was only one absentee—William Karlin, Socialist, of New York. Had he been present he would, it is believed, have voted with his nine Socialist brethren for the referendum. Assemblyman William H. O'Hare, Democrat, of Queens, was present, but happened to be out of the Assembly chamber when the vote was taken. Upon returning he announced that, had he been present, he would have voted for the referendum amendment. With Karlin and O'Hare recorded, the total vote would thus have been 86 to 64.

The amendment was not adopted until the lower house had worn itself out during a day of manoeuvring, the "drys" and "wets" endeavoring, by practically every known parliamentary move, to gain the upper hand in the battle. All through the day, the Assembly chamber and the galleries were crowded with spectators. Mrs. Ella A. Boole, State Chairman of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, sat with a large delegation of women from her organization and other advocates of prohibition. The Assembly lobby and the space back of the forum rail were crowded with representatives of the liquor interests, lobbyists and "rail birds" of every variety seen in the legislative precincts on days when a momentous decision is in the balance.

Assemblyman Martin G. McCue, Democrat, of New York, played an important part in the debate in the closing hours. Mr. McCue declared that only last year Assemblyman Walter Scott McNab of Schenectady, sponsor for the ratification resolution in the Assembly, had been an advocate of the referendum and that advocacy of the submission of this question to the people was also expressed by the State Anti-Saloon League. He said he could not understand the sudden change in attitude. He spoke of what he termed "lavish expenditures" of the "drys" and declared his belief that in cities facing local option elections next month the "drys" had "even purchased signatures to the petitions calling for the elections." He charged that those behind the prohibition proposal "never were fair, and far be it from me to hope that they will ever be fair."

Assemblyman McNab, in advocating the adoption of his measure without amendment, made much of the fact that in his opinion Governor Whitman would veto a referendum proposition.

"Does the gentleman speak for the Governor?" asked Minority Leader Charles D. Donohue.

"No," replied Mr. McNab. "But I have high regard for his judgment."

The reasons advanced for ratification were many and varied. Stock-in-trade arguments, familiar from public hearings on the prohibition bills, came in for monotonous repetition. Mitchell A. Trahan, Jr., Republican of Westchester, the youngest member of the House, injected a bit of humor.

"I'm for the referendum, because I cannot guess what my constituents want done," he said. "My opponent for the Assembly was the husband of a fortuneteller. If the people of my district had wanted their representative here to go by guesswork, they would have elected him, not me."

It was his maiden speech.

The battle started with the Socialists on the alert. They attempted for the third time most unsuccessfully to drag their referendum proposal from the Excise Committee to the floor of the House for discussion. Their move was debatable, and many Legislators took advantage of the fact. The Republican leaders, however, were not going to be placed in the position of playing into the hands of the Socialists, and the attempt was doomed as soon as made.

It afforded Socialist Leader Shiplacoff opportunity, however, to charge indirectly that advocates of ratification feared submission of the proposal to the people because women of the State would "show how they can do housecleaning."

A defeat was recorded, 92 to 53.

Assemblyman Elliot Tuckerman of New York kept the ball rolling by having read copies of the rollcalls by which Congress adopted the Federal amendment, certified to by the clerks in both houses, and then introducing a privileged resolution contending that the ratification proposal was unlawfully before the Legislature. This went into the discard by a vote of 94 to 48, but only after Majority Leader Adler had made a wholly unexpected move to offset the illegality charge.

His move was to postpone action in the Assembly on the ratification indefinitely. For a time it upset all calculations. It had at first the appearance of a party measure, but this notion was quickly dissipated, when Speaker Sweet left the rostrum and vigorously opposed postponement.

"I believe," he declared, "that we should go straight to the issue and vote for or against the adoption of the Federal amendment. I believe ratification is the only thing we should consider."

The Adler motion went down to defeat by a vote of 97 to 50.

The "drys" resent deeply the Assembly's action. William H. Anderson, State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, in a statement tonight declared that "the palpably bad faith of today's adoption of a scheme fathered by the 'wets' his insured this question being the overshadowing, dominant issue next Fall unless wise counsels yet prevail. His statement continues:

"The 'wets' evidently realized that they probably could not kill ratification in the Senate and must win, if at all, in the Assembly. The fight is not over, even for this session. Direct ratification is no more dead than city local option was dead when it received a setback last Winter.

"We shall advise every man who voted against the adoption of the referendum to refrain from voting for this absurd and extra legal measure with the referendum on it. It will then become apparent whether those responsible for the fake referendum, which is without warrant in law and would have no binding force, really want the measure submitted or vetoed, for it is merely an effort to block ratification at this session

"Today's record will have to be construed in connection with the actual outcome on all the vital phases of this question, for example, the future disposition of the 'wet' scheme for a State amendment, and what happens in the final stages of the Federal amendment fight, provided the 'wet' leaders are not afraid that passage of this referendum fraud would give Governor Whitman a chance to expose both its futility and its hypocrisy."

"DRY" LEADERS SURPRISED.

But Prohibition Can Win Without New York, Spokesman Says.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Leaders of the prohibition movement, having counted upon favorable action by the New York Assembly on the prohibition amendment to the Federal Constitution, expressed themselves tonight as greatly surprised at the action of the Assembly today in deciding to submit the issue to a popular referendum.

Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, said the fight for the prohibition amendment in New York had just started. The action of the Assembly, he said, would inspire the prohibition forces to greater efforts. He expressed the hope that public sentiment would be strong enough to compel the Assembly to reconsider its action and ratify the amendment.

"If the Assembly has referred the amendment to the people it has clearly avoided its plain duty, and I do not believe that the voters of New York will approve what it has done," said Mr. Wheeler. "On the other hand, we do not need New York's vote for the adoption of the amendment. There will be thirty-six States for it, without New York, although we should have been glad to see the rock-ribbed domain of liquor surrender first among the 'wet' States. I am inclined to believe that if the Senate of New York approves the action of the Assembly and submits the matter to a referendum the people will resent it, and decisively ratify a prohibition amendment."

Ask President to Close Breweries.

WILLIAMSPORT, Penn., March 12.—President Wilson was asked to shut off the supply of grains to brewers in a resolution adopted today by the Central Pennsylvania United Evangelical Conference. The report of the Committee on Temperance declared "we have meatless and wheatless days and it is now time to inaugurate beerless days." It was directed that these sentiments be communicated to the President.

Rhode Island Defeats Prohibition.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 12.—The State Senate today, by a vote of 20 to 18, defeated a resolution for the ratification of the Federal Prohibition amendment. There is pending in the Senate a bill, already passed by the House, providing for a referendum on the amendment at the election in November

STATE BUDGET $52,748,954.

With Other Scheduled Appropriations Total Will Reach $77,202,011.

ALBANY, March 12.—The annual budget bill, carrying appropriations amounting to $52,748,954, was introduced in the Legislature today by Senator Henry M. Sage and Assemblyman H. E. Machold, Chairmen of the Financial Committees. Items which the Legislature either has passed or will pass in separate bills bring the grand total to $77,202,011, or $1,256,198 less than Governor Whitman's tentative budget of $78,458,209.

In a statement accompanying the bill, Senator Sage and Assemblyman Machold called attention to the fact that the State's resources for the next fiscal year, according to the estimate of Controller Travis, would be $69,525,190, to which must be added the amount of the debt service, to be raised by direct tax, of $13,017,805, making a total of $82,542,995. If the total appropriations to be made at this session equal the amount suggested in the tentative budget, there will be a margin for safety of about $4,000,000. The Financial Committees therefore will attempt to hold the gross total to this amount, which will make the amount necessary to be raised by direct tax just the amount of the debt service.

PIEZ ASKS SENATE FOR NEW SHIPYARDS

Two More to Hasten the Building Program Will Be Authorized in a Bill.

PERIL STILL ACUTE, HE SAYS

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The speeding up of shipbuilding, if losses from submarine activity are to be offset, was urged by Charles A. Piez, Vice President of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, at an executive session of the Senate Commerce Committee today. Mr. Piez deplored too much optimism over the submarine situation, saying that the menace was still a grave one.

As an outcome of the statements made by Mr. Piez on the progress of work in American shipbuilding yards, the committee agreed to offer a bill to the Senate immediately, providing for the building of one yard to be owned outright by the Government and another to be built upon the fee system, such as the Hog Island yard near Philadelphia.

The two new yards, it is intended, are to have a capacity of ten ways each. The Government yard is to cost $1,500,000, and the private yard approximately the same. Mr. Piez urged the construction of at least two yards as necessary to carry out the building program of the Government.

The Government yard, it is contemplated by the Senate Committee, will be one-fifth the capacity of the Hog Island yard.

Mr. Piez spoke freely before the committee as to the work accomplished by the Shipping Board. Because of delays due to strikes and other causes, he said, the board's program had been retarded, while the need for ships had grown. Mr. Piez spoke of the recent utterance of Sir Eric Geddes, First Lord of the British Admiralty, that more ships must be built to catch up with the losses from submarines. The First Lord, he said, had made it plain that America's speedy aid was necessary.

Any impression that might prevail, Mr. Piez said, that the American and British Navies were sinking submarines so fast as to eliminate the undersea fighter as a menace was wrong. He warned against Americans lulling themselves into a false sense of security. The submarine, he insisted, was still a vivid, actual factor in the war.

The warning of Mr. Piez as to the submarine danger reflects a feeling among those in a position to know the actual facts, both in this country and Great Britain. While results in submarine hunting within the last few months have been pronounced satisfactory, there is, nevertheless, a feeling that only by the most active policy of fighting the U-boat menace, together with the speeding up of shipbuilding, can the advantage over the undersea fighter be attained.

Mr. Piez argued before the committee that it was necessary to use every particle of energy in shipbuilding within the next twelve months if America and the Allies were to feel secure against disaster.

Denies That Shipbuilders Lag.

PHILADELPHIA, March 12.—J. Howard Pew, President of the Sun Shipbuilding Company of Chester, Penn., said today that the statement by Rear Admiral Bowles that the Atlantic coast shipyards were laggards was not based on facts. He added that Admiral Bowles had never visited the plant of the Sun Company.

"We know nothing of the progress of work in other yards," Mr. Pew said. "Our staff is composed of men of long experience and ability in shipbuilding, who are to a man efficiently giving of their time day and night to accomplish the patriotic purpose of producing ships. Labor is co-operating in every way possible. The yard is already turning out 66 per cent. of its capacity, and expects to reach 100 per cent. by July."

The Sun Company completed its plant in 1916 and has contracts for eighteen 10,600-ton ships, two of which have been completed.

DEVICE MAY SPEED SHIPS.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—An official test of an electric welding apparatus, by the adoption of which, its inventor asserts, work on steel ships can be accomplished from three to four times more rapidly than by the use of riveters, was authorized today by the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

The invention will be given its tryout on a 9,500-ton steel ship in course of construction at the yards of the Federal Shipbuilding Company at Newark. Officials here are awaiting the outcome with intense interest.

The invention was submitted to the Government by the Universal Electric Welding Company of New York City, accompanied by the statement that it had proved successful in private tests

It can be stated that experts of the Emergency Fleet Corporation are enthusiastic over the reports concerning the private tests and believe that there is real hope of the most important results. It was pointed out that the output of steel ships depended to a large extent upon the speed with which the rivets could be driven and that the success of an invention such as that submitted for approval would be a development of tremendous importance.

Most of the details concerning the apparatus have been kept secret for obvious reasons. The voltage necessary to heat the steel to a point where the two pieces can be welded is small and is applied through the ends of large forceps. When the metal has been heated to the proper temperature pressure is applied to the forceps and the two pieces of metal hold firmly together.

It is asserted by the inventors that joining the sheets in this manner makes a stronger joint than is obtained by the use of rivets.

CASUALTY ORDER ATTACKED IN HOUSE

WILSON TAKES UP MATTER

Gives Personal Consideration to Reasons for Change—General Pershing Asked to Explain.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Representative John C. McKenzie of Illinois demanded in a speech in the House today that the War Department reverse its order withholding from publication the home addresses of soldiers killed or wounded in France. He based his argument upon the appeal of an Illinois woman who thought that her son had been wounded because in the first list under the new order she found the name, presumably of her son, Walter E. Moore. For more than a week, until Mr. McKenzie learned from the War Department that the wounded soldier was from Montana, the mother suffered unnecessarily, he said. After he had read the telegram of inquiry from the mother, Mr. McKenzie said:

"We are all aware of the fact that the War Department has issued an order that in reporting all soldiers killed and wounded in France the name of the soldier alone shall be given to the public. We are told that General Pershing requested this to be done and that he did so because of the request of the French Government. When the order was issued I felt, as I believe every member of this House felt, that it was a mistake, and that instead of doing the thing they expected it to do, it would only aggravate the matter. And this is only the first evidence from my district, and it is evidence that will be coming from every district in a few days unless that order is changed.

"It would do no harm to say, for example, that Walter E. Moore of Sterling, Ill., was wounded on a certain date, and not give the regiment or the company, or even the division to which he belonged."

"What difference would it make to the Germans," asked Mr. Little, "to know that the boy came from Austin, Texas, or Topeka, Kan.?"

"I cannot see," Mr. McKenzie replied, "what difference it would make if the regiment were not named."

Mr. Glass, of Virginia, asked: "Do you imagine that the French Government, after three years' experience, would have made an idle request of this Government? Of course, all of us ascribe a patriotic motive to the gentlemen; but do you suppose the French Government, after three years of actual experience, would have presented an idle request not backed by a good reason?"

"I do not," Mr. McKenzie agreed. "I impute no bad motive to the French Government, but I will say to my friends that in cutting off or denying the right to publish the number of the regiment or the division, in my judgment, is wise military regulation, but I cannot for my life see when the name of a man is published as having come from a certain place, giving no connection whatever with the military organization, why it would affect in any way the safety of the other Americans in France. On the other hand it would do away with this uncertainty that is bound to sweep over this land of ours if this order continues."

"There ought not to be any uncertainty," Mr. Glass continued, "if the people will just understand that the nearest of kin or nearest in friendship will always be first apprised of any casualty by the War Department. Then nobody else ought to have any apprehension."

"Does not the gentleman think it possible that a mother, seeing only the name of her son in the paper, might suspect that the War Department had failed to notify her or that the notification had not reached her?" asked Mr. Gillett.

"Yes," Mr. Glass replied. "That would be a very distressing circumstance." He stated again his faith in the French Government, and continued: "My own view is that there has been too much publicity about these matters."

Mr. McKenzie declared he believed a mistake in deciphering the cablegrams had been made, "because," he said, "I cannot understand how the French Government could raise this question."

Mr. Glass said if the parents were notified, that should be sufficient. "This thing of thinking that the public should be informed of everything that is done is a mistake, and I say that although I am a newspaper man myself,' he concluded.

Question Has President's Attention.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Protests against the War Department's new policy of issuing casualty lists without addresses continue to reach members of Congress.

President Wilson is understood to be giving personal consideration to the reasons for the change, and it is known that the department has asked General Pershing, who suggested it at the instance of the French Government, to forward a full statement of the military considerations involved so they may be laid before the American public. Members of the Cabinet said after today's meeting that the matter was not discussed there.

In connection with the plan now being considered of issuing lists twice a month or once a week, instead of daily, it has been suggested that under this scheme there might be no objection to giving addresses and names of relatives of the men. One of the chief objections to the old plan was the announcement of the dates on which the men were killed or wounded, thus giving the enemy exact information as to the results of certain engagements.

Impressed by Riker Ship Plan.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Plans for what he asserted would be an unsinkable ship were explained at an executive session of the Senate Naval Committee today by C. L. Riker, a marine engineer of New York. Members of the committee were so impressed that a resolution was adopted asking the Shipping Board to investigate the project. Riker said that his plan would not greatly reduce cargo space.

A storm was encountered, during which the cargo shifted and the vessel made port with the greatest difficulty.

McCALL TO RUN PAWNSHOP.

Court Names Ex-Judge to Conduct J. Simpson & Co. Business.

The appointment of Edward E. McCall, former Supreme Court Justice and Chairman of the Public Service Commission, to conduct a pawn brokerage business was made yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Donnelly in a suit for the dissolution of the business of J. Simpson & Co., which is entirely solvent. The application was made by Hazen F. Simpson and his son, Charles H. Simpson, against John F. Simpson, son and brother, respectively, of the plaintiffs. The father suggested that he be named to conduct the business pending the dissolution proceedings, but the defendant contended that he and his brother are the only partners in the business and their father is merely an employe at $4,000 a year.

Justice Donnelly held that, under the agreement between the parties, the father cannot be deemed a partner, and it was conceded by all parties that Charles H. Simpson would not be a proper person to conduct the business. The defendant asked the court to appoint him, but Justice Donnelly decided on the appointment of a disinterested person to conduct the business, and named Mr. McCall.

NEW PROFESSORS AT UNION.

Seminary Founds Chairs of Missions and Philosophy of Religion.

The Directors of the Union Theological Seminary at their regular quarterly meeting yesterday founded two new chairs and at the same time elected to the Chain of Christian Ethics, formerly occupied by Dr. Thomas C. Hall, the Rev. Harry F. Ward, Professor in Boston University and Secretary of the Methodist Federation of Social Service, who has been lecturing on his subject in Union Seminary in the last two years.

The new chairs are those of Missions, forming a part of the Department of Foreign Service, and of the Philosophy of Religion. The Rev. Dr. Daniel J. Fleming has been advanced to the Professorship of Missions, after having served as Director of the Department of Foreign Service for the last three years. The Rev. Dr. Eugene W. Lyman has been called from the Oberlin School of Theology, where he occupied a similar position, to the new Professorship of the Philosophy of Religion.

Why You Are Entitled to More Than a "Guarantee"

IF we could only be sure what a dealer means when he "guarantees" a product it would save us valuable time and much energy that could be diverted to constructive purposes these trying days.

The word "guarantee" has come to mean little more than the right to complain about your purchase—or a "fighting chance" to get money back.

The Regal Shoe Company believes there is something better and more to the point than this in a business dealing.

They know there is only one way to make a shoe deliver the right kind of service from the very start-off. Leathers must be carefully selected of soft, special tannage—tough and glovey. Skilled workmanship must show in every line and stitch. The shoe must have style and authority.

They check these facts by their experience through twenty-six years with hundreds of thousands of Regal wearers. Every shoe bears the Regal name as a sign of their direct responsibility and the mark of the great Regal institution.

You will find fifty-four Regal Stores in the Metropolitan centers and more than a thousand dealers in other towns and cities.

The shoe illustrated here is the "Manager." It can be had in tan or black, high or low—all the year 'round and every year. It's a Regal standardized shoe $6.00

WOMEN TO MARCH IN ST. PATRICK'S PARADE

MISS THE "FIGHTING 69TH"

Cardinal Farley and the Mayor to Review Marchers from Stand at the Cathedral.

In the absence of thousands of loyal sons of St. Patrick at the front in Europe, organizers of this year's parade, to be held Saturday, March 16, have issued a call to women to fill the gaps left by the men now in the service of the United States. For the first time women in large numbers will march carrying the green flag of Ireland entwined with the Stars and Stripes.

There will be other differences, too, this year. For the first time since the civil war, New York is going to watch a St. Patrick's Day parade in which there will be no "Fighting Sixty-ninth." The famous New York regiment, now a part of the Rainbow Division, is in France.

The Committee on Arrangements says the parade is going to be the "largest and most representative religious, national and patriotic parade ever organized. Every Irish man and every Irish woman who can walk is urged to come on Saturday and take his or her place in the line."

The committee yesterday announced that the contract for the reviewing stand in front of the Cathedral had been let, and that practically every detail looking to the success of the parade had been completed. In the reviewing stand will be Cardinal Farley, Monseigneur Lavelle, Bishop Hayes and Mayor Hylan. The announcement which the committee gave out today reads in part:

> The Ancient Order of Hibernians, Friends of Irish Freedom, and kindred Irish societies this year more than ever before are united as one body to make this parade memorable. The organizations, which have voted in their different societies as to leaders, representatives, Aids to the Grand Marshal, sub-Aids and Committee of Arrangements, are as follows:
> Fourteen divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of New York County and the Bronx.
>
> Innisfail Club.
>
> Twenty-six branches of Friends of Irish Freedom of New York and the Bronx.
>
> County organizations—County Roscommon, County Longford, County Limerick, County Clair, County Monaghan, County Leitrim.
>
> Central Council, Friends of Irish Freedom.
>
> Irish Benevolent League.
>
> Carmelite Branch, with over 1,000 men and their band.
>
> Ladies' First Auxiliary, No. 1.
>
> Wolf Tone Club.
>
> Geraldine Club.
>
> Bunker Hill Club.
>
> Innisfail Club of Brooklyn.
>
> Queens County Association, representing fifteen different organizations and societies.
>
> Kings County Association, representing twenty-three different organizations and societies.
>
> County Tyrone Association.
>
> Cumann na mBan.
>
> State Gaelic League.
>
> Philo-Celtic Society.
>
> Harlem Gaelic League Society.
>
> St. Endas Gaelic League Society.
>
> Sarsfield Club.
>
> Clan-na-Gael Society.
>
> Wautagh Club.

The officers who will manage the parade are:

Roderick J. Kennedy, Chairman Committee of Arrangements; Charles F. Connolly, Grand Marshal; Charles Sheeran, First Aid; John J. Regan, Second Aid; Major J. C. O'Reilly, Aid de Camp; Major Joseph I. Berry, Chief Special Aid; Captain B. Lyons, Chief of Staff; James O. Doris, Jr., Secretary Committee of Arrangements; Andrew Gargan, Treasurer Committee of Arrangements; M. J. O'Connor, Chairman Reception Committee; James Hebron, Assistant Chairman Reception Committee.

The parade will start at 2 P. M. at Forty-fifth Street, proceed north on Fifth Avenue to 120th Street, go west on 120th Street, around Mount Morris Park to Fifth Avenue, north on Fifth Avenue to 126th Street, east on 126th Street to Third Avenue, where the parade will be reviewed at that point by the Grand Marshal, aids and invited guests.

PELHAM BAY MEN MARCH IN FIFTH AV.

CONSTABLES PARADE TODAY

State Body to Make First Appearance in the City—Pigeon Brings Mrs. Wilson's Letter.

One thousand men of the 1st Regiment, Naval Reserves, under the command of Lieutenant B. C. McCullough, swung down Fifth Avenue yesterday morning and thrilled thousands with their first appearance in New York since they started training at Pelham Bay six months ago. The transformation which they had undergone was apparent in the erect, easy carriage, bronzed faces, and snappy manner.

The detachment came to New York to participate in the naval and military meet to be held in Madison Square Garden on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. They left the camp at Pelham Bay at 6 A. M., and marched the six miles to the West Farms subway station, whence they made the rest of the journey in a train of ten cars. Arriving at Fifty-ninth Street, they formed about the monument at Columbus Circle, and at 10 o'clock started on their mach to the armory of the 69th Regiment, Lexington Avenue and Twenty-sixth Street, where they will be quartered during their stay in New York. In Fifth Avenue they were greeted by a rolling cheer, which followed them to the armory. A brass band of fifty-five pieces led the procession in "company front" formation.

The naval reserves will participate in another parade today, arrangements having been made yesterday by the committee in charge of the military and naval meet for a detachment of the New York State Constabulary to appear for the first time in this city.

Under supervision of members of the committee, a corps of workmen began yesterday to transform the auditorium for the military show in which more than 5,000 men of the army and navy will take part. The decorations are being installed by the Architectural League. Posts have been erected on the Fourth Avenue side, from which curtains will be hung, to serve as an entrance into the arena. A sixteen-foot track is being constructed for the exhibition of the State Constabulary and other mounted military bodies. The centre platform will be used for many other exhibitions, including the performances of the naval reserves from Pelham Bay.

The carrier pigeon which left Washington on Monday morning with a reply to Mrs. Charles S. Whitman's invitation to Mrs. Wilson to attend the Military and Naval Meet arrived at its destination on top of the Belnord Apartments, Broadway and Eighty-sixth Street, at 10:30 yesterday morning. The message from Mrs. Wilson, which was signed by Peggy Baker, the five-year-old daughter of Secretary of War Baker, follows:

"Mrs. Wilson is very sorry that she cannot attend the military meet. She wants me to tell you so and send her good wishes. PEGGY BAKER."

The pigeon is thought by A. S. Vincent, the Superintendent of the Belnord, who trained it, to have been delayed by the strong winds which were blowing on Monday. The message was taken to the headquarters of the United States Signal Corps, 8 Bridge Street, under the direction of which the flight was made. Afterward it was sent to Mrs. E. R. Strange, the Executive Chairman of the committee in charge of the Military and Naval Meet.

Men from every company of the 7th Infantry Regiment, N. Y. N. G., will take part in all the performances of the meet, and the regimental band will play. An act to be presented by the First Field Artillery, in charge of Lieutenant Egan, will represent an oriental transport, including camels, bullocks, and mules, employed by General Allenby of the British Expeditionary Forces in Palestine. A score of Arabs from the cast of the "Garden of Allah," playing at the Manhattan Opera House, will act as a scouting party.

Benny Leonard, the world's lightweight champion, who has been assigned by the Government as a boxing instructor in the National Army, will give an exhibition on Sunday night.

On Saturday a special detail of officers from Camp Dix will participate in a "battle royal." Every regiment in New York will be represented at the meet, and there will also be British bayonet fighters, French marines, naval scouts, and representatives of the Women's Motor Corps of America.

APPROVE RAILROAD CONTROL

Pennsylvania Stockholders Take Step—$75,000,000 Bonds Proposed.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, March 12.—Stockholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at their annual meeting today unanimously adopted resolutions authorizing the Directors to enter into an agreement with President Wilson for Government control of the property.

This resolution provides that the agreement shall secure for the company "just and adequate compensation for the use of its properties during the period of Federal control," and that it shall make "proper provision for the maintenance, renewals, and depreciation thereof," and for the return of the properties "in substantially as good condition in all respects" as they were at the beginning of the period of Government control.

There was also submitted for the approval of the stockholders a resolution conferring upon the Board of Directors authority to increase the indebtedness of the company by $75,000,000, in addition to an increase of $21,000,000 already authorized and now available. It is provided in the resolution that such increase of indebtedness may be effected by the issue of bonds or other obligations from time to time, in such form and of such character as the directors may determine. This proposed authorization will be submitted to a vote of the stockholders to be held at the annual election of directors scheduled for March 26.

The stockholders unanimously adopted resolutions approving the acquisition by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company of the properties and franchises of the Cornwall & Lebanon Railroad Company, and the Susquehanna, Bloomsburg & Berwick Railroad Company.

WOMEN LEADERS IN BRONX.

Democratic Committee Decides to Give Them Powers Equal with Men.

The Bronx County Democratic Committee unanimously adopted resolutions at a meeting Monday night giving to women voters in that section the same representation in political affairs as is now enjoyed by men. This means that the organization will hereafter recognize women district leaders.

The representation in the Executive Committee of the Bronx Democratic organization will be equally divided between the men and women district leaders, each one having one-half of a vote. In districts where there are two men and two women leaders each will have one-fourth of a vote. The meeting was presided over by Arthur Murphy, Chairman of the County Committee.

DEMOCRATS ELECT FERRIS.

Oklahoma Man Made Chairman of Congress Campaign Committee.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Representative Scott Ferris of Oklahoma, Chairman of the House Public Lands Committee since the Democrats gained control, was elected tonight Chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee. He succeeds Representative Frank E. Doremus of Michigan, who after piloting two Congressional campaigns announced he could no longer serve because his time would be taken up by other Congressional activities.

Representative Lonergan of Connecticut was chosen Secretary; South Trimble of Kentucky, who is clerk of the House, was continued as Assistant Secretary, and Joseph J. Sinnott of Virginia, Doorkeeper of the House, as sergeant at arms of the committee.

Both Mr. Ferris and Mr. Doremus made speeches, expressing full confidence of the success of the party at the polls next Fall. It was agreed that there should be another meeting on April 5.

SECRETARY QUITS INEBRIETY BOARD

Mayor Removed One and Others Got Out, Resenting Hirchfield's Subpoena.

Asserting that Bird S. Coler, Commissioner of Charities, had repeatedly demanded his resignation because it was the "administration's wish," Charles Samson, Secretary of the Board of Inebriety, announced yesterday that he had resigned his $3,000 job. At the same time it was learned that of the seven other members four have resigned and one was removed recently by the Mayor. Samson's place was the only one that paid a salary. The only two members still on the board are Commissioner Coler and Commissioner of Charities and Correction James A. Hamilton, both Hylan appointees.

The four members who resigned were Dr. John Dorning, head of St. Francis's Hospital; Dr. William Browning, Professor of Neurology at Long Island and Kings County Hospitals; the Rev. John J. Hughes of the Paulist Fathers, and Thomas J. Colton, a brother of the late Bishop Colton. Bailey B. Burritt, General Agent for the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, was removed by the Mayor because he did not live in the city, being a resident of Yonkers, although he had been a member of the board since 1914, when appointed by Mayor Mitchel. Those who resigned were appointed by Mayor Gaynor and were continued in office by Mayor Mitchel.

Mr. Samson said several members of the board resented being served with subpoenas by Commissioner of Accounts David Hirchfield. He said the members felt that an effort was being made to intimidate them, and they resigned.

Commissioner Coler refused any statement on the matter last night. Asked whether he would deny that he had demanded Samson's resignation in the name of the "administration," Mr. Coler said, "I haven't got a thing to say." One of the former board members characterized the incident as "the most brazen reaching out for another man's job" that he had ever witnessed. Both the Mayor and Commissioner Hirchfield were in Albany yesterday.

According to Samson, the first meeting of the board this year took place on Feb. 8, and at that meeting, before any business was transacted, Commissioner Coler asked for his resignation.

"Commissioner Coler was asked for his reason, and he said that it was the administration's wish," said Samson. "The board refused to comply with the request and no further business was transacted that day."

The request for his resignation was renewed at the next meeting, Samson said, and it was again refused.

"Commissioner Coler was piqued at my refusal to resign," continued Mr. Samson, "and I heard nothing more of it until I learned that David Hirchfield, Commissioner of Accounts, had served subpoenas on some of the members and was preparing to subpoena the others. That was last Saturday. These men are of the highest standing in the community and they felt that a request would have been sufficient to bring them to the Commissioner's office."

The board's duty is to handle alcohol and drug cases at Warwick Farm. At present, according to Mr. Samson, the farm has thirty-seven residents, with a staff of six employes to care for them.

Policeman's Slayer Found Guilty.

After a trial lasting but two days, Jacob Cohen of Williamsburg, indicted for killing Policeman Samuel Rosenfeld, was convicted yesterday in the County Court in Brooklyn of murder in the first degree. Sentence of death will be imposed by Judge Robert H. Roy on Monday. Cohen, with two confederates, entered the clubhouse of the Twenty-first Assembly District Republican organization at 135 Leonard Street on Feb. 13 and robbed the members of cash and jewelry. Policeman Rosenfeld was shot by Cohen while the latter with his two companions were attempting to make their escape.

50 WOMEN IN TAMMANY CLUB

Washington Heights Organization in Campaign to Get More of Them.

In furtherance of the Tammany program to enlist women in its ranks on an equal basis with men, the Saqua Democratic Club, the pioneer political organization for both men and women in this city, has opened its doors at 517 West 173d Street, under the Presidency of John Williams, head of the Williams & Gerstle Construction Company of 198 Broadway. Mr. Williams announced last night that fifty women had joined the organization up to date, and 200 men. A vigorous campaign to increase the membership of women is now on.

At a meeting of the members held last night a resolution was introduced by Mrs. Charles C. Reed, urging the immediate installation of a new public high school for the Washington Heights section. Students in upper Washington Heights are now compelled to travel three miles into the Bronx to go to high school, or many blocks south in Manhattan."

Following the recommendations of a special committee, the Kings County Republican Committee last night voted to provide immediately for the election of women to membership on the committee. They will be chosen at primary election by voters, just as the men are.

DRAFT FOE KILLS HIMSELF.

Socialist, Fearing Arrest, Blows His Head Off with Dynamite.

AKELY, Minn., March 12.—William Peregrin, a Socialist leader in this section, committed suicide today by placing a piece of dynamite in his mouth, lighting a fuse and blowing off his head. The Department of Justice had been investigating his activities in connection with agitation for repeal of the draft law last June.

His wife decided that she and their daughter would also commit suicide at the same time, using dynamite. When Peregrin had obtained the dynamite his wife and daughter, who is 12 years old, withdrew from the agreement, Mrs. Peregrin said.

Peregrin left a note willing his property to his wife and declaring he was not afraid to die.

PEROTS QUIT CABLE CO.

Father and Son Retire from Management, but Retain Interest.

Edward S. Perot and his son, Edward S. Perot, Jr., have retired as the President and Vice President of the National Conduit and Cable Company. The new officers are George J. Jackson, formerly Chairman of the Board of Directors, President; Morton A. Howard, Vice President, and Hugh K. Pritchitt, Secretary and Treasurer.

The elder Mr. Perot wanted to retire as head of the company a year ago, but consented to serve for a year with the understanding that he was then to be relieved. His son also declined to continue serving as Vice President because his time was fully occupied as a Lieutenant of Ordnance at Washington. Both father and son will retain their holdings in the company.

Mr. Perot the elder has been the head of the company since it was established, thirty-six years ago, with a capital of $25,000. Its capital is now $8,750,000. The Government is now operating the company's plant at Hasting-on-Hudson as a munition plant.

The committee also will consider a protest filed by ex-Senator Chilton of West Virginia against the seating of his successor, Senator Sutherland. No action in this case is looked for.

OWNERSHIP BILL GETS A SETBACK

Senator Thompson Offers Measure to Include Villages, and Brown Proposes Inquiry.

BLANKETS HYLAN HEARING

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, March 12.—The fate of the Wagner-Hearst-Donohue Municipal Ownership bill was virtually sealed, for the present session at least, while Mayor Hylan, with a delegation from New York City and Mayors and city officials from up-State municipalities were converging on the Capitol this forenoon, prior to the scheduled public ownership demonstration before the Senate Committee on Cities. The demonstration was held as arranged, but it was comparatively mild.

Innocently, or with malice aforethought, Senator George F. Thompson of Niagara, who professes to be not unfriendly to municipal ownership, paved the way for action which may lead to the undoing of municipal ownership legislation, star number of the Hylan program. Senator Thompson, who lives in a "very rural" community in Niagara County, introduced a Public Ownership bill applying not only to cities, but to counties and villages as well. He moved that it be referred to his own committee, that on Public Utilities.

Senator Thomas H. Cullen, Democrat of Brooklyn, suggested that inasmuch as the Cities Committee already had the custody of a municipal ownership bill, that was where this new arrival ought to go.

Then Senate Leader Elon R. Brown, who is not a municipal ownership enthusiast, but the old-fashioned reverse, took the floor. He intimated that he had no doubt regarding what the ultimate destination of all municipal ownership legislation should be, but was greatly in doubt as to where the Thompson bill should be sent, pending the catastrophic inevitable. City bills, he said, belonged rightly to the Cities Committee, bills having to do with counties and villages to the Committee on Internal Affairs, but this measure applied to municipalities of all these classes.

Proposed an Investigation.

He said that under the circumstances he would advocate to the Senate the appointment of a special committee to take the entire question of municipal ownership under investigation, and to recommend a fixed State policy on the subject. He bluntly revealed his suspicion that the pending Municipal Ownership bill had been introduced for political reasons.

"There usually is no politics in political measures," he said. "I have understood for a long time that there was a certain class of people who could keep running for office for a long time, carrying on political campaigns, who never did anything in a political way, but I do not belong to that class."

Senator Brown recalled that, at a period not so remote that it has been wholly forgotten, the Legislature empowered municipalities to invest in railroads and that municipal bankruptcy followed in so many cases that the Legislature finally was forced to adopt a Constitutional amendment prohibiting municipal financing of such enterprises.

"I want to warn all of you that you are on a downward road," said the Senate leader, "and I want to ask every one of you to take the report which was issued and submitted to the Senate last year, showing the financial condition of the municipalities of the State, and then say whether or not you think this new enactment is a wise one for those municipalities.

"Any committee that I would suggest ought to investigate the isolated cases where there is municipal ownership, or quasi-municipal ownership, and ascertain the effect upon the utility and the effect upon the tax rate, and whether or not it is likely that such utilities are to be managed in a way that will save the municipality from loss."

Mayor Hylan was easily the star speaker at the hearing. He was greeted with applause as he entered the Senate Chamber, where the hearing was held, with his daughter, Miss Virginia Hylan; Commissioner of Accounts David Hirshfield, and H. Gordon Lynn. Prior to his appearance Mayor Hylan and the party had paid their respects to Governor Whitman.

Mayor Hylan read a municipal ownership speech, prefacing what he read with an extemporaneous announcement that he had just been informed that the New York Board of Aldermen had come out for the Wagner-Hearst-Donohue bill by a vote of 69 to 1.

"I do not know who the one is, but I do know that the people in his district will take care of him," said the Mayor grimly.

"In New York City," the Mayor said, "about a dozen men control the public utilities. It is absurd to permit such a condition to continue. If the city owned and operated its public utilities the cost of service could be materially reduced and the city could benefit to the extent of many millions of dollars each year.

"The City of New York does not intend to acquire all of its public utilities at one time, nor does it intend to acquire utilities that are not self-sustaining. I believe the city should acquire the gas and electricity properties, particularly the latter, whose earnings are grossly excessive. The physical properties of these corporations have been built up out of excess earnings contributed by the consumers, who paid exorbitantly for gas and electricity.

"It is needless to discuss the financial mishandling of the surface lines in New York City, which for many years were used as instruments for swindling the people through stock manipulation. The condition of travel on these surface lines in congested hours is scandalous. Public regulation is admittedly a failure, and so far as the Public Service Commission is concerned, it has done nothing of its own initiative to improve the quality of gas or to reduce the rates for electricity and transportation.

Up-State Cities Represented.

Buffalo, Jamestown, Lockport, Syracuse, Schenectady, Salamanca, Middletown, Oswego, Canadaigua, Watertown, Norwich, Beacon, Oneonta, Elmira, Auburn, and Port Jervis had spokesmen at the hearing in favor of the bill.

The speakers for municipal ownership from New York included Borough President Edward Riegelmann of Brooklyn, County Clerk William F. Schneider, William C. De Ford, Mr. Hearst's counsel; Professor Benjamin C. Kendrick of Columbia University, President James P. Holland of the State Federation of Labor, R. E. McGahen of the Citizens' Union, City Judge James A. Allen, and Register James A. Donegan.

The opposition, all of which came from New York City, was represented by Stewart Browne of the United Real Estate Owners' Associations; Frederick E. De Berard of the Merchants' Association; George A. Wheelock of the Harlem Real Estate Owners; Charles R. Sumner of the Tenth, Eleventh, and Seventeenth Ward Tax Payers' Association; Charles W. Eidt of the Tenth and Seventeenth Ward Tax Payers' Association, and Edw. P. Doyle of the Real Estate Board.

"The Real Estate Board," said Mr. Doyle, "feels that this is not the proper time for the city to make any further experiment in municipal socialism, especially an experiment that must result in increased taxes. It is said that this is desired by the people. There is always a question as to who the people are. The last city administration thought the people consisted of the City Club, the Citizens Union, and the Bolsheviki of the east side.

"Every recommendation of the City Club and Citizens' Union was adopted, and at least $30,000,000 a year for seven years was wasted on the east side of the City of New York. When Election Day came last Fall the Mitchel Administration relied on the people whom they had taken care of to re-elect them. They found, however, that the City Club lived mainly in Montclair, N. J., and the Citizens' Union in Stamford, Conn., and that the ungrateful east siders were supporting a millionaire coal and ice dealer who had never done anything either for them or the community."

APPROVE UTILITY BILL HERE.

Aldermen, by Vote of 69 to 1, Indorse Municipal Ownership.

By a vote of 69 to 1 the Board of Aldermen yesterday adopted a resolution presented by its Committee on State Legislation favoring municipal ownership of public utilities. The one dissenting vote was cast by Alderman A. L. Squiers, Republican, of Brooklyn. The report of the committee recounted that a public hearing had been held on the measure and that the prevailing sentiment was in favor of the passage of the Wagner-Donohue bill now pending before the Legislature. President Alfred E. Smith of the board pointed out that the bill contains no mandatory features and that it is an empowering act pure and simple. The committee reported that every safeguard was provided in the bill to obtain the fair and proper exercise of this power by a municipality. "That the finances of a city might not at the present time enable it to make any substantial expenditures for the purpose of taking over the larger public utilities is no ground for refusing this legislation," the report continued in part. "There are public utilities in this city such as the bus lines which, if this legislation is passed, the city is in a financial position to take over immediately, and by extending present routes relieve the intolerable congestion of the transit facilities that now prevail."

In conclusion the report stated that the people of New York City asked for this legislation and to deny their demand would be to make the principle of home rule for cities a meaningless phrase, and refusal to pass the legislation would be to announce a belief that the people were unfit and unworthy to be entrusted with a determination of such problems.

"It is the duty of the individual that can afford it to encourage that industry as an individual, buying the machine that he can afford—AND EVERY MAN CAN AFFORD SOME MACHINE NOW.

"Only the man whose time has no real value, whose brain amounts to little, whose energy is not worth while, can truly say, 'I do not need an automobile.' BUY YOUR AUTOMOBILE NOW."

SONGS OF THE ALLIES WIN FOR WAR THRIFT

Mme. Homer's 'Star-Spangled Banner' and Muratore's 'Marseillaise' Stir Great Throng.

JAPAN SENDS HER SOPRANO

Opera House Benefit Nets $7,000 for Campaign with Seats at Thrift Prices.

The war thrift campaign was promoted by a concert last night at the Metropolitan Opera House, which, even at the "thrift prices" of 50 cents to $2.50, brought in something like $7,000 for the educational campaign of the War Savings Committee, which is trying to instruct the public in the possibility and the need for saving quarters to win the war.

Every seat in the house was taken, and there were standees wherever the Fire Department regulations permitted; but they were all standees twice during the rendition of the program—when Louise Homer sang "The Star-Spangled Banner" at the opening, and when Lucien Muratore, in the uniform of a French officer of the Revolutionary period, sang the "Marseillaise." Muratore was recalled something more than a dozen times, sheathing the sword which he had waved during the song, to the imminent peril of those who stood up in the front row of chairs where the orchestra is usually imbedded; and among the most vigorous in the applause was Mme. Muratore, better known as Lina Cavalieri, who was in the box of the French Consul General, Gaston Liebert, and Mary Garden, in a box nearer the stage.

The concert was organized by a group of theatrical and opera managers headed by Charles B. Dillingham, now a Captain in the Aviation Service, and including Mark A. Luescher, David Belasco, William A. Brady, Cleofonte Campanini, Giulio Gatti-Casazza, George M. Cohan, Robert A. Franks, Daniel Frohman, Samuel H. Harris, Florenz Ziegfeld, Jr.; Theodore Bauer, Edward Ziegler, Edward L. Bernays, Paul Meyer, R. H. Burnside, and J. I. Bernat. The crowd which they assembled was doubtless drawn partly by interest in the war savings movement, but perhaps even more by the committee's announcement of "a $25 concert for $2.50," naturally appealing to the thrifty.

Nahan Franko, in command of the orchestra, opened the program, and was followed by Mme. Homer with the "Star-Spangled Banner."

Crowd Likes "Dixie."

Another ally was represented by Tamaki Miura, the Japanese soprano, heard here in past years with the Boston Opera Company, who sang "Un Bel Di Vedremo" from "Madama Butterfly," and Mabel Garrison, after the Polonaise from "Mignon," sang "Dixie" for an encore with the response which a New York crowd always gives.

The second part of the program opened with Muratore's "Marseillaise," the orchestra accompanying and the French and American colors flanking the singer under the guard of soldiers from the two armies.

Percy Grainger, in the uniform of a bandsman of the 15th Coast Artillery, then played two of his own Australian compositions, a Colonial song and "The Gumsuckers' March," with the band, under Conductor Rocco Resta, accompanying. Sascha Jacobson played the Meditation from "Thais" and Ketten-Loeffler's "Caprice Espagnol," and Grace Hoffman, after an aria from Verdi, brought the audience to another furore of applause with "Comin' Through the Rye."

Between musicians the Rev. Nehemiah Boynton, now a chaplain in Fort Hamilton, appeared before the curtain in his army uniform, and after expressing the appreciation felt for the efforts of the concert committee by Frederic W. Allen, director of the war savings movement in New York, introduced Augustus Thomas.

"This house is filled," said Mr. Thomas, "with the parents, the sisters, the wives, and sweethearts of American boys ankle deep in the mud of France or watchfully anxious on the decks of transports or training in the rough reality of Upton and Dix and other camps, making ready to go over. We are here on velvet not because we wouldn't take their places if we could, but because we're too old or unequipped or too useful elsewhere.

"We are not here in this glow and comfort because we've forgotten them, but, thank God, because we remember them. We can't hold them in our arms, so we get together and hold them in our hearts.

"We are here to tell those boys whom we cheered and applauded as they marched down Fifth Avenue that our approval was a contract to stand behind them, and that the terms are binding. We are here to help make the nation's war thrift drive a victory.

The Heroic Dollar.

"A great American once said: 'Nothing is so timid as a frightened dollar.' Well, things are happening now to scare the dollars a good deal, but we are coming also to know in America that, properly inspired, a dollar can be heroic too. A dollar can not only talk, but it can make its mark. Yes, it can make four marks, and if the frightened and the heroic dollars want to live they have each of them got to do that and do better.

"We are putting our boys into uniform. We'll put the dollars into uniform, too. We are putting Uncle Sam's stamp on the boys. We'll put our dollars into Uncle Sam's stamps. We are telling our boys to go where their country calls them. We'll make the dollars follow the flag."

Telegrams of regret were read from Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo and Theodore Roosevelt. "The committee is performing a great patriotic service," said Mr. McAdoo, "in helping the Government to inculcate the habit of thrift among the American people. Please accept my best wishes for the complete success of the war savings campaign in Greater New York."

"I regard war savings as an opportunity on the part of every man, woman, and child of our 100,000,000 people for loyal service to the Government and to our men at the front," Colonel Roosevelt said, "and for making character and credit in the people themselves upon whom the future civilization of the world so largely depends. I also send my congratulations for the great success already attained throughout the country."

The appeals of the committee in charge to keep speculators from making profit out of the patriotic cause led the leading ticket agencies to sell all tickets at their face value, and it was said that the sidewalk sellers had had no chance to boost prices on the event.

250 WAITERS, STRIKE IN DOWNTOWN CLUBS

Walk Out at Noon Hours When Demand for Wage Increase Is Refused.

More than 250 waiters went out on strike at noon yesterday in five of the clubs in the downtown district, according to a statement by N. J. Flattery, Secretary of the New York Club Employes' Association, 624 Madison Avenue. It was denied at the clubs, however, that they had been inconvenienced by the strike, and it was said that they would be able to serve their members as usual today.

Mr. Flattery said that the waiters were striking for a 25 per cent. increase in pay to meet the increased cost of living. He said that the strike at present was only being carried on in the downtown clubs, which employed only one-third of the members of the Club Employes' Association. The strike might be extended to the uptown clubs. The clubs in which the waiters had gone on strike, he said, were the Railroad Club, 30 Church Street; the Machinery Club, 50 Church Street; the Whitehall Club, 17 Battery Place; the Drug and Chemical Club, 100 William Street, and the Lawyers' Club, 115 Broadway.

According to Mr. Flattery, all the waiters in these clubs joined the strike, but this was denied at several of the clubs. At the Whitehall Club, it was said late yesterday afternoon, that there had been no strike there, although earlier in the afternoon it had been admitted that the waiters had struck. At the Lawyers' Club it was stated that all the waiters were at work. According to officials at the Drug and Chemical Club, only six waiters had struck. It was admitted at the Railroad Club that sixty waiters had gone out, and it was said that the waiters had struck at the Machinery Club.

FLONZALEY QUARTET PLAYS

The Flonzaley Quartet gave its third subscription concert last evening in Aeolian Hall before an audience of the musical elect of this town, as it will do elsewhere next month when it closes its season as guest in the People's Symphony wartime series. With a member serving in Italy and an artistic Frenchman in his place, the Flonzaleys have maintained the high standard of their past performances, among the best music offered to this public.

The Messrs. Betti, Pochon, Bailly and Archambault gave last evening Debussy's quartet in G minor, Op. 10, and Mozart's in D major, No. 575 in the Koechel edition, each the acme of delicacy, artfully contrasting the modern and classic schools. In conclusion there was also Dvorak's quartet in F major, Op. 96, and a hearty recall by way of farewell to the admired players.

Cathedral of St. John Choristers Sing

The sixty or more choristers of the Cathedral of St. John, led by Miles Farrow, who are soon to take part in Bach's "St. John Passion," and in Elgar's "Dream of Gerontius" with other choirs at St. Bartholomew's and St. Thomas's Churches, appeared last evening at Carnegie Hall in a repetition of Dvorak's "Requiem," recently sung by these men and boys in the cathedral. They were assisted by an orchestra from the Symphony Society, together with Inez Barbour, Mrs. Benedict Jones, William Wheeler, and Wilfred Glenn, as soloists, and by G. Darlington Richards at the organ. At the end of the "Requiem" a large audience joined in singing "America." The concert receipts were devoted to the war work of the Diocesan Auxiliary of the cathedral.

Next Week's Metropolitan Operas.

Two American novelties, Cadman's "Shanewis" and Gilbert's "Dance in Place Congo," already announced in a triple bill with "L'Oracolo" at next week's Saturday matinée, will bring the Metropolitan season within a month of its close. That evening "Carmen," with Farrar, Martinelli and Whitehill, will end the company's series in Brooklyn. Other operas of the nineteenth week will be "Rigoletto," next Monday, with Barrientos, Lazaro and De Luca; Wednesday, "Mme. Sans Gene," Farrar, Martinelli and Amato; Thursday, "Boris Bodunoff," Homer, Delaunois, Didur, and, Friday, "L'Amore dei Tre Re," Caruso, Muzio, Amato and Mardones. Next Sunday's concert soloists are Hulda Lashanska, Ethel Leginska, and Arthur Middleton.

Lou-Tellegen Now a Citizen.

Lou-Tellegen, the actor and husband of Geraldine Farrar, the prima donna, was admitted to full citizenship yesterday by Judge A. N. Hand of the Federal District Court. He was born in Holland thirty-one years ago. His present name was conferred upon him by the court. His original name was Isidor Louis Bernard Edmund van Dommeler. His father was a Greek and his mother was Dutch. He obtained his first papers June 10, 1915. His citizenship restores his wife as a citizen, because under the law a wife owes allegiance to the same country as her husband.

Sydney Rosenfeld Explains.

Sydney Rosenfeld, author and manager of "Under Pressure," until recently seen at the Norworth, said yesterday that he had ordered his company to assemble at the theatre on Monday night only as a legal precaution, and that he had no expectation of giving a performance. His play, he announced, will be sent on tour and then brought into a third New York theatre.

'A Pair of Petticoats' Next Monday.

"A Pair of Petticoats," a comedy by Cyril Harcourt, author of "A Pair of Silk Stockings," is announced to open at the Forty-fourth Street Theatre Roof next Monday night. The author will be in the cast, and the company will also include Norman Trevor, Laura Hope Crews, Maude Hanaford, Byron Russell, Henry Travers, George Giddens, Ray Gordon, and George Mudie.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

"The Cohan Revue" resumed performances last night at the New Amsterdam, although Nora Bayes, who sprained her ankle on Monday, did not appear. The role was played by Hilda Smith, and some of the songs were sung by Dorothy Jardon. Miss Bayes, it is expected, will reappear tonight.

Edith Wynne Matthison and Charles Rann Kennedy will be the guests of honor at the fourth annual dinner of the Playwrights' Club, which will take place at the Great Northern Hotel on Friday night.

The four one-act plays recently given by the East-West Players, in their theatre at 52 East Seventy-eighth Street, will be repeated on the evenings of April 4, 5, and 6.

William A. Brady is organizing a company to play "The Man Who Came Back" in the cantonment theatres.

Colored motion pictures made possible by a new process, the invention of Leon Forrest Douglas, are being shown for the first time in New York during the first half of the week at the Eighty-first Street Theatre.

Ethel Hopkins has been engaged for a role in "Rock-a-Bye Baby," scheduled to open early in April.

The Thursday matinees of "The Book of Job," at the Booth Theatre, it is announced, will be continued indefinitely.

Tomorrow night's performance of "Her Country," at the Punch and Judy Theatre, will be in aid of the Russian Orphanage.

DR. MANNING JOINS ATTACK ON DR. MUCK

MEN IN SERVICE BARRED

Soldiers and Sailors May Not Accept Free Tickets to Boston Symphony Orchestra.

American soldiers and sailors will not be permitted to accept free tickets to the Boston Symphony Orchestra's recital at Carnegie Hall tomorrow night, according to Mrs. William Jay, who has been leading the efforts of many persons, including George L. Ingraham, formerly Justice of the Appellate Division of the New York Supreme Court, to prevent the orchestra giving any recital here while Dr. Karl Muck remains its director. Mrs. Jay also made public a letter which she said had been dictated from Camp Upton by the Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity Church, supporting her contention that loyal Americans should not go to concerts where Dr. Muck had a leading part. Dr. Manning's letter says:

May I express my unqualified approval and support of the stand taken by Mrs. William Jay, Judge George L. Ingraham, and others against the appearance in New York of Dr. Karl Muck with the Boston Symphony Orchestra? We are in the midst of the greatest conflict in all history, in which every ideal and principle which we hold is at stake. It is our duty to do everything in our power to stir and strengthen the spirit of our people for the struggle before them and not to dull and weaken that spirit by our attitude of tolerance toward those with whom we are at war.

While our boys, fighting at the front in our defense, are being assailed by liquid fire, poison gas, and other like inventions of German Kultur, is it not fitting nor decent for us at concerts, or in any other places, to give our countenance and support to the avowed friends and upholders of the Kaiser.

Mrs. Jay's opposition to Dr. Muck, commencing at the time when he announced that he would not play "The Star-Spangled Banner" at concerts of the Boston Symphony Orchestra because the national anthem was not comparable as music to the rest of the program is based, she says, on the fact that he is a subject of the Kaiser, formerly the favorite musical director in Berlin, and that his appearance here is a subtle form of German propaganda.

Mrs. Jay said last night that she heard from Dr. H. D. Fairbairn of 249 McDonough Street, Brooklyn, that the management of the Boston Symphony Orchestra was accustomed to give away seats to soldiers and sailors in uniform with the result that audiences which listened to the German director had a distinctly patriotic appearance. Accordingly, she said, she got in touch with Rear Admiral Usher, commanding the Brooklyn Navy Yard, and with Major Gen. Mann, commanding at Governors Island, and both officers assured her they would not allow soldiers or sailors in the Government service to accept free tickets to the concerts.

"The abominable use," said Mrs. Jay, "that is being made of our soldiers and sailors to support an enemy alien in his arrogant conduct could only have sprung from the modern German brain. To use these fine men to support German propaganda through the medium of love of music, should be condemned by every loyal American and lover of fair play. Among the letters I received this morning was one from a Swiss school teacher who suggested that a public appeal be issued to the principals of the leading girls' private schools in and around the city to leave their seats unoccupied if these concerts are held."

Mrs. Jay made public a letter from Mrs. Henry Ashton Crosby, 29 Washington Square, in which she says:

"There can be no half measures in the Muck case. It is either loyalty or treason! I am particularly interested in the attitude you have assumed, as there is but a handful of women in Boston, my daughter, Mrs. Allan Forbes, being one, who love their country more than their music, and who have been willing to give up the symphony seats. Is there no possibility of awakening in the minds of those who are in power, the all-important and vital need and duty of having justice done by public hanging of spies until they are dealt with as other nations treat them? We are ignoring the most alarming menace, and it is an attitude which, as a nation, is ignoble."

David Bispham, she says, wrote to her as follows: "I am much in sympathy with your crusade against Doktor Muck. Of course, this fellow ought to be expelled from the country or interned. I wish I might help do either."

Dr. Muck, who denies he uttered any resolution not to play the national anthem at concerts he directed, and who has played it, in fact, everywhere since the first of last November, came to this country in 1912 to become director of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. He has been supported in the face of every criticism by Major Henry L. Higginson, sponsor for the orchestra. In Baltimore last Fall citizens declined to permit the orchestra to give its recital, and so much feeling was aroused that its engagement was canceled.

"HER COUNTRY"

The Most Subtle, the Most Intellectual, the Most Effective War Play Yet Seen.

The "Her Country" of Rudolph Besier and Sybil Spottiswoode, which was produced by Walter Knight in Charles Hopkins's Punch and Judy Theatre, ran through two seasons in a London theatre. Of all the war plays yet seen here it is the most subtle, the most intellectual, and, for those who see clearly the full force of its message, the most effective. What Mr. Besier can do in the way of incisive, brilliant, and suggestive dialogue is known from his "Don," and he seems to have found a most capable coadjutor in Sybil Spottiswoode. On the surface their joint work is a comedy of manners—very bad manners—dependent for its theatrical effect rather upon its broad strokes of comic satire than upon any of the emotional and heroic thrills of which the ordinary patriotic war drama is chiefly compounded, but actually it is a ruthless castigation and exposure of the whole tyrannical and conscienceless Prussian military system, the blasting effects of it upon the moral and human instincts of the peoples subjected to it, the insane vanities and ambitions upon which it is based and reared, and the menace which it offers to the liberty and happiness of the world. Incidentally, it illustrates some of the perils attending incautious international marriages and the contrasted weaknesses of Western and European civilizations.

It is a sordid story of domestic slavery, of which the tragic suffering is largely veiled by superficial comedy. But here and there are tense moments where the grosser elements in human passion are suggested with an unsparing directness and most poignant appeal. Doubtless the picture is drawn with a bold and sometimes extravagant touch, but the whole is governed by a fine sense of artistic point and proportion. Mr. Besier is no mere melodramatic dauber. And it should be noted particularly that, throughout, the play is an attack not upon the German people as such—who are credited with many conspicuous virtues—but upon the remorseless and conscienceless system that has transformed them and threatens, unless checked, to subject the civilized world to a similar transformation. At the last the heroine is shown hopelessly tearing up the certificate of her German rights, as she prepares to return to America with her aunt and cousin.

The play is very well performed. Time will only permit brief reference to the actors. Rosa Lynd, a newcomer, enacted the heroine with grace, intelligence and spirit, and Alexander Onslow gave a most conscientious and unflinching sketch of the passionate and overbearing bridegroom. Redfield Clarke was another admirable German officer, while Winona Bridges was a delightfully homelike housewife. Charles Fleming lent a touch of distinction to the somewhat incredible American millionaire, and Maude Milton was altogether charming, if also altogether English, as the rich aunt.

SEIZING SINEWS OF WAR.

Judging from the fact that the amendment to the Urgent Deficiency bill, providing that property in the United States owned or controlled by Germans should be sold for the account of the Government, passed the Senate by a vote of 64 to 0, Senator KNOX's exception to the measure must have been academic. He invoked the Treaty of 1799, which in the event of war permits merchants of either country residing in the other to remain nine months to settle their affairs and carry off their effects, and the Senator asked: "Are we discharged from "the sacred obligation to observe this "treaty, as we are bound to observe "the law of nature and the law of nations?" The implication of the Senator was that the spirit of the treaty required the Government to stand guard, as it were, over the property of the German merchant, and at the end of the war restore what he had not carried away with him. And there was another implication: If the Treaty of 1799 did not protect him in his ownership, international law should step into the breach.

A brief by the State Department defending the amendment was read to the Senate as an answer to Mr. DILLINGHAM, who also wanted "light," to use Mr. KNOX's expression. It was there contended that at the end of the nine months named in the treaty for removing property the interest of the owner in it could not be asserted, presumably during the continuance of the war. That was one answer to the critics. Another was given by Senator UNDERWOOD, who dealt with this question of Mr. KNOX: "Does the "State Department regard the Treaty "of 1799 as still in force?" Mr. UNDERWOOD did not speak by authority of the State Department when he said:

> Germany trampled the Treaty of 1799 when she fired on the American flag on merchantmen crossing the seas. Germany insisted, as one of the clauses of that treaty, on the right to traverse the seas unmolested. Yet she violated that very provision herself in cruel, shameless manner.

Germany is estopped by her atrocities at sea from invoking the Treaty of 1799 to preserve to her merchants their property in this country. Could she invoke the general rule of international law? She is in no position to do even that, for she has flouted international law when it has suited her purpose. "In former times," says OPPENHEIM, "all private and public "enemy property, immovable or "movable, on each other's territory "could be confiscated by the belligerents at the outbreak of the war, as "could also enemy debts"; but, while some writers still maintain that the old rule of law is valid, confiscation between honorable enemies is no longer practiced.

The United States in this case is not dealing with an honorable enemy, but with a nation that has been guilty of assassination and piracy, as if there were neither moral law nor a law of nations. To give Germany the benefit of the Treaty of 1799 would be a weakness that German statesmen would privately deride. She has treated it as a "scrap of paper." Why should the United States be governed by Senator KNOX's affected academic scruples when the nine months named in the bond have expired? Is the Government under more than a sentimental obligation to turn to the modern rule of international law when the question is whether German property shall be seized as a security for the redress of infamous wrongs that were perpetrated in defiance of all laws and in violation of an express treaty with the United States?

There is no intention, as Mr. PALMER, the Alien Property Custodian, has intimated, of converting the "ordinary investment of the plain German citizen"; the plan is to take over and realize on "investments in "this country so close to the German "Empire's control that they amount "to a part of the German industrial "and commercial hold upon America "and American insular possessions." That is to say, German "sinews of war" are to be used to impose upon the Imperial Government the terms of a lasting peace that shall insure the welfare and security of the whole civilized world. In the day of accounting a balance will be struck between what the United States holds of German belongings and the compensation which the German Government will be required to pay for its misdeeds.

WELL DONE.

The Assembly has acted wisely in voting that the people of New York shall be heard before action is taken on so momentous a matter as the prohibition amendment to the Constitution. Despite all arguments to the contrary, there would always have remained a sense of injury, a feeling that snap judgment had been taken, if this State had been committed to a revolution in its customs without its voters having a chance to say whether they approved or disapproved it. There was no argument in favor of this summary action except that the Constitution named the Legislatures as the bodies to which action on constitutional amendments is committed. The Legislature of New York will take such action when the time comes; but it should not take that action in defiant indifference to the opinion of the people, and so far as the Assembly is concerned it does not intend to.

The cause of prohibition will lose nothing by the deferring of action until the wishes of the people, men and women alike, can be ascertained; or, if it does, it will deserve to lose. Whether it loses or not, the propriety of consulting the people is obvious to them and has now been recognized by the Assembly. The Senate and the Governor should recognize it, too. The real force back of a movement to prevent the people from being heard has been solely that of an anonymous lobby of unknown inspiration which feared nothing more than an expression of the popular will. Between the wishes of that lobby and the wishes of the people the Senate should not hesitate. It should acquiesce in the decision of the Assembly.

THE BATTLE OF WISCONSIN.

Ex-Governor FRANCIS E. MCGOVERN has done a fine and patriotic thing in withdrawing from the race for Senator in the Wisconsin Republican primary. As long as both he and Congressman LENROOT remained in the race there was danger that the La Follette candidate, THOMPSON, who will get the whole disloyal vote, would slip in between them; and Mr. MCGOVERN retires, as he truthfully puts it, "so my party may not be dis"graced and discredited for years to "come" by the triumph of the disloyalists. In Wisconsin a man may vote in any primary he likes, and there is every likelihood that THOMPSON will get the votes of disloyal Democrats and Socialists, cast in the Republican primary. There is no disloyal Democrat running, so that Democrats of that stripe have every temptation to go into the Republican primary and vote for THOMPSON. The Socialists have a different temptation; there is no opposition to VICTOR BERGER, who is running in their primary, and since his nomination is a foregone conclusion, many of them may prefer to help THOMPSON out. In this situation the danger of having two loyalist candidates in the Republican primary was obvious, but Mr. MCGOVERN's splendid action has put an end to it.

The issue is now as clear as it can be. In the Democratic primary the candidates are DAVIES and MCCARTHY, of whom Mr. LENROOT himself says: "Whether Mr. DAVIES or Mr. MCCAR"THY is nominated by the Democrats "is immaterial from the standpoint of "loyalty, for they are both loyal and "neither will receive any disloyal sup"port any more than I will." The Socialist candidate, VICTOR BERGER, is of course openly against the United States. The fight is in the Republican Party, between LENROOT the loyalist and THOMPSON the candidate of the disloyalists.

The eyes of the country are on Wisconsin and on the Republican Party in Wisconsin. Mr. LENROOT did not exaggerate one whit, he spoke with entire restraint and truth, when he said in opening his campaign at Madison on Friday night:

> The ballots that fall one week from next Tuesday will not fall silently like the snowflake, but they will be heard around the world. They will be heard in Berlin. They will be heard in Paris, in London. They will be heard in every corner of the United States. * * * If it shall go forth on the night of March 19 that the forces opposed to this war, the forces whose sympathies have not been with the Government in this war, the forces made up in part of those who want Germany to win this war against the United States, if the wires shall carry the news that these forces have won in Wisconsin, then there will be joy in Berlin, then there will be joy in every disloyal heart in America. Then, indeed, shall we be compelled to admit that Wisconsin would rather be a province of Germany than one of the United States.

It is, in fact, a battle between Germany and the United States for the possession of one of the United States. Some of THOMPSON's supporters are merely pacifists, but many are out-and-out pro-Germans, disciples of Kultur and the Kaiser, whose "beautiful and profitable task," as one of them, a University of Wisconsin professor, put it, is "to prepare the way "in this country for the German "spirit and the German conception of "life." That is the thing Wisconsin has got to meet and smash, or meet and be smashed by; and they were no friends of hers who urged her to put off the test of strength. No State in the Union can afford to be under suspicion. Again in entire truth and soberness was the speech of ex-State Senator A. W. SANBORN, introducing Mr. LENROOT to his Madison audience:

> On March 19 VON HINDENBURG will attack the first-line trenches in Wisconsin. The people of the State will be fighting the same forces that our boys are fighting over there. Make it your business to be in the trenches and shoot straight by voting for IRVINE L. LENROOT.

And to the trenches the eyes of all her sisters follow Wisconsin.

THE PRESIDENT TO RUSSIA.

President WILSON's repeated assurances of the good-will and interest which this country entertains toward the people of Russia have been treated contemptuously by the Bolsheviki. They are a knowing lot, and they know how to appraise all utterances by "capitalistic Governments"; one and all such utterances are mere masks for diabolical plots against the proletariat. But the President has not let himself be disturbed by this sort of treatment, nor has he ever failed to seize an opportunity to repeat what he and his country sincerely feel toward Russia.

And this last repetition may, it is reasonable to hope, have an effect, not perhaps upon the Bolsheviki but upon those for whom it is meant, the Russian people. It is not that constant dropping will wear away a stone, but that the sobering effect of the late calamities must have forced the Russian people a little away from cast-iron theories and a little nearer to the facts of life. Even the Bolsheviki must have been forced to rearrange their formulas a little, those rigid formulas by which they interpret all the actions and reactions of other minds than their own.

There are even some indications of this. It is not so long since TROTZKY was making the admission, a great one for him, that perhaps Russia and the United States might be able to travel temporarily along the same road; and now the Bolshevist newspaper Pravda specifically exempts the United States from the bloodshot view it takes of the other anti-German Powers. With regard to them it has the same hallucinations as before, but in its nightmare of suspicion there is one ray of reason—"all except America," it says, "which is trying to modify the Allies' policy of vengeance" on Russia.

The Allies have no "policy of vengeance" against Russia, but it would be too much to expect a Bolshevik to see that yet. This Bolshevik does see, however, that the United States is, whether from evil motives or not, friendly to Russia, and that is a thing which would not have been dreamed of a month ago. Something has taught Bolshevism something. But what Bolshevism thinks is not, after all, the point; it is not Bolshevism but the Russian people whom the President so steadily and earnestly addresses with these repeated assurances, so often falling on deaf ears; and if even Bolshevism is beginning to listen we may hope that the Russian people are ready to do so.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP VS. MUNICIPAL CONSTRUCTION.

The Public Service Commission is strangely silent under the Mayor's punishment. He declared that the Commission was a failure, and not in sympathy with the people. He is the people's true friend, and he would prove it if only the city owned and operated its subways. The incapacity of the Public Service Commission is shown, in the Mayor's very words, by the fact that it has done nothing for the people, although it has cost $10,000,000. The malice of the Brooklyn railway is shown by the fact that it has put on 101 new cars and taken off 133. The people are clamoring for relief, which he will give them, or at least will promise them, if the people will only stand by their true friend.

The Public Service Commission attacks the subject from another angle. The Commission seems to think that the construction of railways is more important and more immediate than the ownership and operation question. The railways are needed today, and the other question can be argued through many elections. It has been fought over before, and voted on already, and the matter stands where it did. It is different with construction. The Commission has overlooked the production of a half billion dollars' worth of rapid transit at a cost of something more than a hundred million dollars less. The system now would be as unobtainable as the moon for any money if the work had not been nearly completed before the Mayor took up all that was left of the subject—that is, ownership and operation—as his share. He is welcome to it. But the people would like to see the construction finished. Is it possible that the Mayor scolds the Commission because the Commission points out that the Mayor is not hastening construction?

The do-nothing Commission remarks that the city is obligated to pay $8,100,000 interest annually on work necessary for the full use of the 600 miles of track, which will cost $400,000,000 all told. Only 7,000 men now are on the work, and the contractors face embarrassment because the delay on the work has prolonged it into the period of the war, with all its labor and cost troubles. The Mayor might show his friendship to the people by hardening his heart toward their predicament, but it is clear that he could only do so by ending their work along with that of their laborers. No one can tell how long that would delay the completion of the few miles of track necessary to round out the system. That would be objectionable even to those who would like to own and operate the roads others built. A finished road is better than an unfinished one for anybody to operate, or to ride on. The Commission's idea of service to the people is nearer in time than the Mayor's. On reconsideration the Mayor will see that the Commission is helpful even to the cause which he has staked out for his claim and which it will take him years to exhaust. From no pity for the Commission, but in the cause of the Mayor and the people, it may be hoped that the roads will be finished before the Mayor carries the State and the city for ownership and operation. It was an imposing delegation which he took to Albany to press his proposal. It is easy to see what there is in it for the office holders and politicians.

There are some simple people who think that the troubles of the riders, and of the companies also, are due to expecting full benefits from an incomplete system. They think that those who obstruct the completion of plans which cannot be abandoned are responsible for creating difficulties to remedy in their manner. They believe that the enormous benefits already received are merely an installment of what will follow if only the work, which must be finished some time, is hurried along. The road which the Mayor uses suffers more than the Mayor from conditions which he uses as a base for his attack. The line across the Williamsburg Bridge now carries more passengers then enter and leave the Pennsylvania Station, the Grand Central Terminal, and the Long Island Railway Station in Brooklyn combined. It carries more than the old bridge ever carried, and that was a world record. It carries more trains than the Interborough express service in Manhattan, although its tracks are fewer. It is thought to create congestion of traffic for profit, whereas the fact is that it must pay the cost of facilities used only for a few hours daily, and only in one direction, while empty cars must be hauled the other way. There were parallel routes promised it, but not delivered. The theory of the dual system was that the long-distance riders would be taken off the surface system, thereby making more cars unnecessary. But the company is ordered to provide more cars for surface riding when they would cost most and when the need is about to be reduced.

The company is as silent as the Commission under the Mayor's reproaches. It is only inference that the large new cars it has furnished contain more seats than the old cars, and run so much oftener that they supply better service than the more numerous cars which the riders are abandoning as fast as the dual accommodations are provided. If the national experiment with the steam railways furnishes any precedent, the prospect is that city ownership and operation would reduce facilities rather than increase them, and perhaps at a higher fare. Director General MCADOO is taking off duplicate trains, and has taken power to make his own rates. The outlook for the railway shareholders improves as that of the shippers deteriorates. That experiment may decide the matter for this State. Anyhow, this city's case is different from that of any other city, town, or village, and the bill puts all the municipal subdivisions of the State into one class. The Mayor will find that such a proposal hinders a like proposal for this city alone. Also he will find that the up-State Republicans will oppose the down-State Democrats. The result will be politics, not tracks and seats. Meanwhile, the riders will remark that the Commission and the railways work while the Mayor promises.

WON'T SOMEBODY SPEAK OUT?

Rear Admiral BOWLES, who is Assistant Manager of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, does not seem to be impressed by promises of ships to be launched on a rapidly ascending scale of production from the yards. To listen confidingly to some of the optimists is to believe that the great problem will be solved in due course and to cease worrying about it. But while the plants are rising, as if under a magician's wand, and materials accumulate, there is always the human equation. Admiral BOWLES finds it very uncertain. As things are going now, he cannot figure out how the four or five million tons are to be built this year. He declares that all the shipyards on the Atlantic coast, including the big Philadelphia plant, are lagging in the good work. He had expected much of the Philadelphia yard. He now says:

> Taking into account all the conditions, the Philadelphia district is not doing all that it ought in the vitally important work of producing cargo ships for the new merchant fleet. However, my criticism is general. I could place my finger upon the weak spots, but I don't think that it would be best to tell where they are. In the matter of lagging behind, the Philadelphia district is not different from all Eastern shipyards. Not one of them is showing the proper productive power that their equipment, personnel, &c., ought to show.

What is the trouble? Is it to be found in materials or transportation, one or both? Are the yards interfered with by the Government, or is politics the blight? Not at all. Admiral BOWLES says that "the trouble lies in the yards themselves." That is to say, the management is at fault, or labor is not doing its whole duty. The American people would like to know the truth. Admiral BOWLES is not in the dark. He says that he could place his finger "upon the weak spots," but doubts whether it would help if he did.

If somebody does not speak out, there can be no remedy for the ailment that cripples the great shipbuilding enterprise. Everybody engaged upon it says it must be a success if the war is to be won and protests his patriotism. But it is not going well; it lags; energetic men like Admiral BOWLES are beginning to despond. Won't somebody speak out?

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

They'll Get What They Want.

Of all "drives" to raise money to be used for the benefit of our soldiers and sailors, only one—the recurring appeal for everybody who can to buy Liberty bonds—has deserved or will deserve to receive a heartier and more generous response than will the "drive" which the Catholics are preparing to begin next Sunday. At its close, on March 25, their hope is that $2,500,000 will have been raised for the continuance of a work already well begun, and there can be no doubt that this aim will be achieved.

Not to make a comparison equally invidious and unnecessary, as it would be to say that the clergy and lay members of the Catholic Church, ever since the war began, have excelled those of other churches in the manifestation of effective patriotism, it is enough to assert that they have taken a place among the foremost exponents of unqualified Americanism. As a body, they have left nothing undone to make clear their position. In word and deed alike they have supported their country and made its policies and purposes their own, and they have been not less forward in filling the ranks of the two fighting services than in the various activities of relief and encouragement here at home.

The minute fraction of their membership who have allowed an ancient animosity to make them the auxiliaries—fortunately futile—of the national enemy have received no countenance from the leaders of the Catholic Church, and are therefore quite negligible in forming a judgment of its claim to recognition as an essential element of the nation's strength in this great emergency.

The Catholics have a right, therefore, to expect that their appeal for aid in the conduct of their war work will get responses from outside their own circle as well as in it. The expectation will not be disappointed, and they will get their $2,500,000, not, indeed, "without half trying," as the phrase is, but by the intelligent employment of the energy which the accomplishment of a great task demands.

He Mingles Comedy and Tragedy.

It is not alone in having probably done, as was said the other day, more harm to the world than any other man that ever lived, that LENINE is unique. In other ways, too, he is solitary, and in at least one of the other ways there is in him something that can almost be called amusing. For, so strange are the workings of his mind that he does not hesitate, in signing a treaty with Germany, to make open announcement for himself and his followers that his and their intention in putting their names at the foot of this solemn document is to abide by its terms only until they are able to ignore them.

Many statesmen, presumably, under the stern duress of military defeat, have signed treaties of peace with a conscious determination to do exactly what LENINE, assuming to speak for Russia, says he will do, but surely never before did a Premier even nominally responsible frankly declare his own signature worthless and the treaty on which it was placed a mere scrap of paper, to be torn up like any other as soon as interest or inclination prompted or conditions made it safe to do so.

If the Germans were people of a different sort, one might well wonder why they wanted or valued a treaty with such a party of the second part, but of course what LENINE says openly they are whispering to each other, and, as a matter of fact, they have not observed for a moment the terms of this treaty. Before the ink on it was dry they had violated those terms, and perhaps they are cynical enough to expect from others no more fidelity to plighted word than they accord themselves. LENINE, after all, takes no chances in threatening to fight as soon as he can. He knows that he never will be able to do it, and as the Germans know it even better than he does, they can afford to smile at his vaporings.

Casualty Lists Delayed.

As a solution of the question as to how casualty lists should be made public, the suggestion that they be given out only once a week will not excite much satisfaction among the relatives of the men who are doing our fighting for us, and it will be still less pleasing for the newspapers, as for the latter it will create difficulties of several kinds. Of course nobody desires the disclosure of information useful to the enemy, but it is so hard for civilians to see what danger there was in making known the names of dead and wounded Americans in the form that was first adopted that the change of it should be justified by full explanation.

That we have not yet had. It does have weight with us all, as it should, that a request for less explicit news of losses in battle came through General PERSHING from the French Government. It is not for us to teach men on the ground in France how to conduct the war in a matter like this, or in any other, but even civilians are not unable to understand a military necessity when the facts are given to them.

Discussing Prayers for Victory.

One correspondent of The Christian Register wrote to that paper recently, and it printed, a letter proclaiming in a tone of virtuous superiority that in the writer's church they never did such a reprehensible thing as to pray for victory. Now another, and evidently very different, correspondent of The Register asks the pertinent question, "What under the heavens can they pray for if not for victory?" That he is a decidedly militant churchman the rest of his communication shows, for it runs thus:

> If we are ashamed of what we want to do, let us say so, and be interned, as we ought to be if we will not help save the country. But if what we are doing is worth finishing, and prayer will help in the finishing, by all means let us say so when we pray.
>
> If I were the nation I would thank no one for prayers for me, if they were not at the same time prayers for the one thing that would enable me to keep on being a nation.
>
> This limpid sort of piety reminds me of CRABB ROBINSON's story of the two sisters in London, driven from affluence to selling matches for a living. They drew their shawls over their faces, timidly murmuring, "Matches for sale," and one of them whispered to the other, "Oh, I hope nobody hears me."

"Limpid" is a good word, for it seems to mean "thin" or "watery," as well as "clear." The story of the sisters, too, is one that ought to be applicable to more people than those who are not sufficiently sure that what they want is right to dare to pray for it. Still something should be said on the other side, and presumably will be.

THE CASE OF STIELOW.

Though Saved from the Chair, This Man Is Still Held in Prison.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Serving a life sentence in Sing Sing Prison today is the victim of an attempt that came within eighteen minutes of being successful to murder an innocent man under forms of law, for the sake primarily of a reward offered for the aprehension of the perpetrators of another crime. The name of this unfortunate is Charles F. Stielow. He is under sentence for the murder of a farmer and his housekeeper in the western part of the State in March, 1915, just three years ago, and since that time has been before the courts nine times, and sentenced to death six times. Three times the executioner has gone to Sing Sing to inflict the death penalty upon him. He came within eighteen minutes of execution in July, 1916, when, at the last moment, Justice Guy of the Supreme Court went over the Governor's head and granted a stay of proceedings after the latter had refused the condemned man a reprieve.

Stielow was proved to be innocent by the confession of the real murderer in August, 1916, but as Judge Rodenback of the Supreme Court adjudged the confession to be "only valuable as a psychological study," it became necessary to corroborate it at an expense to the State of $25,000, a process covering a period between March and December, 1917. George H. Bond of Syracuse, a former District Attorney of Onondaga County, was appointed a Special Deputy Attorney General to investigate the entire Stielow case and lay the evidence before the Grand Jury of Orleans County, in which the crime was committed and where public sentiment is all against Stielow. Mr. Bond completed his task and laid the evidence before the Grand Jury last December, and while fourteen of the twenty-one men composing this body refused to believe the confession of the real criminal, (obviously believing that he was trying to force himself into the electric chair for ulterior purposes,) Mr. Bond and the District Attorney of the county both declared their belief in his guilt and in Stielow's innocence.

This occurred last December; that is, the agent appointed by Governor Whitman to ascertain whether or not Stielow was guilty, and the prosecuting officer of the county in which the crime was committed—for which the prisoner had already unjustly suffered many deaths—pronounced Stielow innocent ten weeks ago. And the victim of a miscarriage of justice remains a victim of executive inaction! Why, in the case of a man who for three years has suffered mental and physical torture in prison for a crime known to have been committed by another, the processes of law should be retarded rather than accelerated it is difficult to understand.

The Main Purpose.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I would like to ask "A Graduate Student" if his house was on fire he would not first bend every effort to putting out the flames before calling a family council to discuss ways and means for preventing future disasters of that kind. This academic discussion of remote causes and this complacent way of speaking about conditions that may exist after the war is won are especially unfortunate because they seem to indicate a lack of appreciation of the great task immediately before us, and also because of their influence on those without settled conviction about the war. A great military power has openly announced its purpose to dominate the world by force of arms. In such circumstances it would seem simply elementary wisdom to devote our best thought and efforts to dealing with a situation that actually exists, rather than theorizing about the future, and thus diverting our energies from the main purpose.

War Taxes in Installments.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I think it would be very desirable that the McFadden bill providing for the payment of the excess profits and income taxes in quarterly installments should become a law, as payment in one lump sum would be a great hardship on many corporations and large businesses. The necessity of paying a large tax in cash in one lump sum would greatly hamper future business, might compel many mills, factories, and other undertakings to stop, and would compel borrowing and the throwing over of securities which would seriously interfere with the Liberty Loan and generally disturb business; while, on the other hand, the gradual payment of the tax would not seriously disturb the United States Treasury, because the money is not all needed at one time. Lump sum payment would also necessarily impose a heavy burden upon the banks which will be called upon to lend money and will affect their ability to finance both the needs of the Government and the needs of business.

SHIPBUILDERS, TO ARMS!

Come, men of eager arm and brain,
Come swing into that moving train
Of those who march at Freedom's call.
Come with the war-light in your eye

Oh, start the hammers swinging;
Set all the anvils ringing
With glowing rivets singing,
And flying sparks a-stinging—
Come, men, and build us ships!

Men of this young and clear-souled land,
Come swell that noble-blooded band
Of those who lift Old Glory high!
Come rushing in from every side,
All brimming with a manhood's pride.

Where ruddy fires are roaring,
Where high belched smoke is soaring,
And hungry augers boring—

You must not let Old Glory fall!
Oh, keep her far above us all;
And when your country's trumpets call,
Give answer while it's not too late.
Toil till the world is new again—
New washed with Freedom's sun and rain—
And every star in Freedom's sky
And tyrants are meted a tyrant's fate!

Set all the anvils ringing
And flying sparks a-stinging—

EDWARD WILLIAM MARTIN.

PACIFISM AS EGOTISM.

Why We Hear Some American Pacifists Talking Strangely Like the German Kaiser.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The controversy started by the address of Dr. Speer has opened up a whole new line of thought to many of us. It is becoming more and more evident that the pacifist has a particular kind of mentality. (I am not now speaking of Dr. Speer, but of the pacifist at large.) His brain cells record differently from those of the rest of us. They cause him to be belligerent where his own interests are attacked, but supine and sedate where those of others are at stake. This, of course, is easy, but it is also "a bit thick." To go out and stab and slay when your own home is menaced, but to remain inert and conversational when the home of your neighbor is in danger, argues a peculiar mental attitude, an insidious "kink," and one deserving of analysis.

I have often sought to explain to myself the singular discrepancies which occur not only in the viewpoints of different pacifists, but in the viewpoints of the same pacifist. And at last I think I have hit on the key which turns the lock. It is this:

The war in Europe does not draw out their interest or command their service because it does not affect their own personal lives, as yet, in any but indirect and inconsiderable ways. And as long as they can spill other blood than their own to keep us safe from the Destroyer, as long as they can save their own valuable corpuscles, they are very glad to have it that way. And until the Hun is at the gate, the Golden Gate or Hell Gate, we shall hear them talking pacifism.

But if the day ever comes when Germany is at our throat, these same pacifists will cease to "talk through their hats," and will talk through helmets, instead, along with the rest of us, because then their own lives and the lives of their families and friends will be in supreme peril.

However, till that day comes, to try to get them to change their point of view, or even to be quiet, is a lean hope. As long as it isn't "their ox that's gored," they will talk pacifism, and we shall have to hear them, though we may not always listen. We reserve the right of the unhearing ear yet a while longer as our last defense against this bloodless foe.

But wait till the danger becomes imminent, till America itself is threatened in people and property, and then they will suddenly fall silent. We may even hear them stop talking, for it is easy to hear silence after a very vast noise, and these pacifist folk do make the most unconscionable row about themselves of any sect, race, or "persuasion."

If they are allowed by the Government to be "conscientious objectors" to all that we want them to do and be, surely we have the right conscientiously to object to them and their loud-voiced racket on peace. (Especially when the only peace in sight is being brought about by the efforts of others more patriotic and less selfish than they.) They ought to be "looked into" by the agitators on a noise campaign; New York traffic has nothing "on them."

These pacifists, I submit, are afflicted by the paranoia known to the medical profession as "exaggerated ego." Their whole life is the intensive expression of themselves, and their desires, and what they most want for the thing which means most to them. No other ego than their own matters to them, or will, to the end of time, if they are never threatened at close range. And if the war is never brought as far as our own shores, these pacifists will always be as they are today, disputatious, illogical, and self-impressed. Certainly they impress no one else.

But let our very own America be menaced, let their personal ego be imperiled, their own mental and physical citadel be stormed, and you will hear no more about pacifism, I'm thinking.

The point is that nothing speaks to them which does not pander to them as sensory individuals, which does not further them as units in a universe of which they are the incontrovertible centre and apex. They have no collective soul, no social sense, no racial morality. They live purely for themselves and their own advancement.

Many of them are canny enough to cloak all this in the platitudes of idealism; many are wholly "taken in" by themselves and their viewpoints, and talk idealism with sincerity and singleness of heart. But all of them are alike at least in this one respect.

They wish to keep out of the affray until their own personal interests are at stake; and then, when that happens, no power on earth can keep them out of it. Simply because that is the way their mind works. Their ego is exaggerated till it covers the man. Am I not right in saying that it is a matter of brain cells? For who else among us reacts to the world war in this isolated, impervious, personal way?

We have our own brand of "Me and God" here among us, not "made in Germany" at all. The Kaiser has no corner in God. The pacifist is precisely as prone to talk in that sort of "pink thought" as the veriest Prussian pedant or Junker, aping the War Lord who dominates his thinking and directs his jargon. No wonder the pacifist has long since been dubbed "the tool of the Kaiser." Their earmarks are identical.

We have all heard the Kaiser called a paranoiac, and many have said that he suffers from "exaggerated ego," the very obsession I have discussed above. So, again, we have the pacifist and the Kaiser bracketed in a disgraceful proximity, in a similarity of mental attitude induced by a like pathological abnormality of brain cells.

So perhaps we should not blame "the poor dears." We know they can't help us because they can't help themselves; but they can hurt us, and they can hurt themselves. And they are doing it every day they live and disseminate their perverse ideas. To be sure, they are conditioned by their own limitations, their own neurasthenia. We must grant them that. It is only normality, physical and spiritual, which frees from all limitations and makes a man not only captain of his own fate but the fate of the world. Many pacifists are the most arrant egotists that the Lord ever let live. And the worst of it is they will live the longest because they won't go to war and get killed. So they "have us" at every point, it sometimes seems.

However, we do not envy them their lot or their ascendency over meaner minds. They are their own worst punishment. They carry their own nemesis in vest-pocket edition about with them, in that they are the butt of all free, forward-moving people who today have purged themselves of egotism and are thinking in terms of universal progress.

I would never do Dr. Speer the dishonor to call him a pacifist. I have no idea what he is, besides being a Christian gentleman, an able speaker, and a zealous worker for the right. But I do know that if by any words of his to impressionable young people he has increased the spirit of pacifism, the spirit of egotism, in this country, then he has done himself and others incalculable wrong. And so do all speakers and leaders who use their earnest oratory along the same line, even with the best possible motive and intent.

Therefore, it is well that attention has been called to the matter at this time.

Here is the upshot of my argument: We must, as a nation, as individuals, put up a fighting front to this subtle pest of egotism, of selfism, parading under the platitudes of pacifism, for it is a wolf in sheep's clothing, either when it unwittingly deceives itself or when it is conscious, treacherous, and aware.

THE DUTIES OF MAN.

A French Revolution Statement Applicable to the Present Time.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The following statement of the "Duties of a Man and a Citizen" was added to the Declaration of Rights of the French nation during the reconstruction period after their Revolution. I find it in the New York newspaper called The Herald: A Gazette for the Country, in its issue of Oct. 14, 1795. It is one of those statements of fundamental truth which the well-meaning people of any nation at any time might do well to examine and take to heart. As it was applicable to the Jacobins of that earlier time, so is it directly applicable to the Bolsheviki of today. It has a most potent application to the people of Germany, particularly their military rulers. It is also applicable to the forgetful and negligible pacifists of the United States, who should know and remember that this country is grounded and rooted in law and justice, and that one of the fundamental principles of our law is the right of property. This is the statement:

> Article I. The support of society requires that its component members should equally know and fulfill their duties.
> II. All the duties of the man and citizen are derived from these two principles, which are engraved by nature in all feeling and just hearts, namely, first, do not to others what you would not wish that others should do unto you; secondly, do constantly to others the good which you wish to receive.
>
> III. The obligations of every person toward society consist in defending it, in serving, to be obedient to the laws, and to respect those who are the organs of them.
>
> IV. Nobody is a good citizen who is not a good son, a good father, a good brother, a good friend, and a good husband.
>
>
> VI. He that openly violates the laws declares himself to be in a state of war with society.
>
> VII. He who, without openly violating the laws, eludes them artfully or cunningly, hurts the interest of all; he renders himself unworthy of their benevolence and their esteem.
>
> VIII. It is the respect and support of property on which depend the cultivation of the ground, all productions, all the means of work, and the whole of the social order.
>
> IX. Every citizen owes his services to the country and for the support of liberty, of equality, and of property at any time when he is summoned by the laws to defend them.

In view of the new selective draft and the forthcoming issue of Liberty bonds, this old statement of principles of our sister republic, France, should have a special appeal now.

PRISONER PROPAGANDA.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

"A German Propaganda Among Russian Prisoners" is the theme of an enlightening article in last Sunday's TIMES. It affords one more revelation of the resourcefulness of the Central Powers. Isn't it about time to call a halt on the "blundering diplomacy and stupid propaganda" of the Central Powers, and turn to more vigorous action ourselves along those lines? Several weeks ago I inquired of the Security League if anything had been done to sustain a systematic and efficient propaganda among prisoners captured from the Central Allies. We have heard little on that subject, yet we must believe that such an opportunity to reach the German Army has not been entirely neglected. Of course, the State documents of President Wilson, translated into idiomatic German beyond all chance of misrepresentation or mutilation, should form the mental pabulum of the German prisoner, part of his prison diet, his medicine, if you please; books, pamphlets, papers and maps presenting the aims of the United States, the operations of Imperial Germany in "Free Russia," and the facts so carefully censored from the German people are good food of the same sort. A prisoner propaganda, under the direction of loyal Americans of German birth or ancestry, or loyal Frenchmen or, better yet, loyal Socialists, would light up the darkness of the German mind, so far as the prisoners are concerned. Some day these prisoners will get back to Germany and we shall have in them at least a nucleus of knowledge, sufficient to provoke inquiry or start a doubt in our favor; possibly, if we do our work well, a solid block of enlightened opinion which will stand us in good stead in peace or war. May the German people learn to trust their own saying: "Hinter dem Berge sind Leute auch." This is a soil worth cultivating.

Pershing's Advice About Letters.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

THE SUNDAY TIMES prints a "Message from General Pershing" urging the constant and cheerful writing of family letters to our soldiers in France.

To one American family this advice is superfluous, and in its behalf I wish to suggest that it is now up to General Pershing to help all concerned by doing something to insure the receiving of such letters by those to whom they are written.

A First Lieutenant, Signal Service, Aviation Corps, left for France on Dec. 9 last. Since then he has received no letters from home. A cable and eight letters have been received from him; the last, received last week, wonders why he does not get any, as he is sure many have been sent. He always puts service address on his letters, "Am. Expeditionary Forces, France," but, of course, no name of place.

There have been sent to him about twenty letters—his father writes every week—and six small packages. None of them have reached him. He is well and in active aviation practice, but getting homesick, and no wonder! He has moved but once from the seaport where he landed, writing from Paris en route. What can be done about it? We shall keep on writing strictly family letters that will not need censoring, and keep up hoping some of them may reach him.

WAR ASPECT IN PICTURES

There were the usual crowds at the private view of the National Academy of Design at its ninety-third annual exhibition yesterday. There were certain war notes in the pictures exhibited, and war affixes to a few of the names of the artists. There were barely half the number of pictures sent in for competition this year. This may have been because the artists, older as well as younger men, are doing war duty, or it may have been due to the difficulties of transportation. After stupendous efforts several artists having private exhibitions in the city have finally been obliged to give up bringing their pictures here. It frequently takes longer to bring things by rail than by automobile, and undoubtedly many artists were influenced by this fact in sending academy exhibits.

In this year's prize winners, Paul Daugherty carried off the Altman prize of $1,000 for "Bottalack Cove," a small, blue-toned body of water walled in by rugged rocks, a narrow opening at the back, the outlet for the cove, giving a glimpse through the rocks of a larger body of water and boats. Childe Hassam's "Allies Day," which took the Altman prize of $500, is a perpetual wonder that anything so difficult as flags could be manipulated with such skill and produce such a really beautiful picture. There is the deep red of the large Union Jack directly in the foreground, the Stars and Stripes, the flag a little larger, given its proper significance in the etiquette of flags, but with a modified color tone; the deep blue of the French Tricolor striking another deep note, and a wind-crumpled flag breaks the monotony of straight lines. There is another flag, the Stars and Stripes, one of the highest, again taking its place of preeminence, but without assertiveness; there are the softened gray walls of the buildings and a glimpse of the crowds in the street—a charming picture of a difficult subject and a historic scene.

"Going East," by Walter Ufer, takes the $300 Thomas B. Clarke prize. The winner of the first of the Hallgarten prizes of $300, $200 and $100 is Leopold Seyffert for a portrait of his wife, a large painting, a vigorous portrait of a young woman in an outing suit, wearing a large hat, seated, the brilliancy of the figure accentuated by the whirls of color which form the background. Lazer Raditz takes the second for a self-portrait, and Felix Russman the third for "The Black Bottle," an agreeable still life.

Carlton Chapman shows an "Indian Summer" in the woods, soft red-browns and moss-covered rocks; a nice, ripply water scene is "Boy with a Boat," by Elliot Torrey, a small boy wading under a pier, where the waves run blue and green and one can feel the refreshing coolness of the shadows on a hot Summer day; everything is a deep blue in water and hills in Joseph H. Boston's "Moonlight—Adirondacks," and quite a different study in blues is Emil Carlsen's "The Caribbean at St. Thomas," a big, placid stretch of blue, a light blue as it nears shore and deeper in tone further out. There is an outline of the land running along the foreground of the picture, with one straggly trunk of a tree, and at one side can be seen a slender point of land jutting into the water. It is a broad, placid scene, in strong contrast to many of the Carlsen marines. Another blue of the water is to be seen in "The Line Storm," by Frederick J. Waugh. Here is all water, deeply moved, the blue waves with deeply frothed caps, a turbulent sea, such as one sees in midocean, under lowering skies. A cheerful low coast scene is "Morning on the Rocks," by Howard Russell Butler; a small bay curves into the land, and down near the water is the figures of a woman with a red umbrella, which makes a gay note in the picture, while the figure of another woman is on the rocks a little above.

There is a portrait of Cecelia Beaux, a kind, strong face, the face of a woman who loves children, a strong note of blue in the waist she is wearing, by Robert B. Brandegee, and another portrait is a clearly outstanding one of Mrs. Adrian Iselin 2d, by William L'Engle. The green background outlines clearly the head, which is without a hat, and a coat or sweater that is worn is of a shade deeper tone.

"Clinging Snows," by Gardner Symons, is one of the notable Winter scenes. The snows are melting, the water in the stream shows blue, there are blue notes to the snow as it lies thinning on the ground, leaving here and there clear spaces where the green of coming Spring can be seen. On the trees, notably on those of the evergreen, heavy patches of snow are still clinging.

Still another snow scene which has a familiar note is "Central Park," by Everett L. Warner of the United States Navy, as well as Associate National Academician. There is a round pool in the centre of the picture, in the foreground, just in front the bare branches of a tree stand out. The buildings outside the park, not too distinctly outlined, form a background for the picture, and over and around them is the glow of the setting sun falling upon the pool and the tree.

DR. FRIEDLANDER QUITS.

Will Not Go to Palestine for Red Cross—Withdrawal Regretted.

Dr. Israel Friedlander of the Jewish Theological Seminary, who was named as the Jewish member of the Red Cross Commission to Palestine, wrote yesterday to the Joint Distribution Committee of the American Funds for Jewish War Sufferers resigning the position. Dr. Friedlander said that assertions, though entirely unfounded, that his sympathies were not pro-British had caused him to fear that his usefulness as a member of the commission had been impaired. Commenting on the report which caused his resignation, he wrote:

"I must indignantly repudiate this allegation. As a self-respecting man, I should never have dreamed of accepting the task of acting in a public capacity in a land subject to British rule were this, even in the remotest degree, to conflict with my innermost sentiments. As a matter of fact, I was one of those who welcomed with intense and unqualified joy the progress of British arms in Palestine."

The committee adopted a minute recording its approval of the selection of Dr. Friedlander and regretting his withdrawal.

VIRGINIUS J. MAYO MARRIES.

Manufacturer Weds Lois D. Waterbury, His Former Stenographer.

Special to The New York Times.

STAMFORD, Conn., March 12.—Lois D. Waterbury, 27 years old, of New Haven, was married here this afternoon to Virginius J. Mayo, 57, of New Haven. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace Francis S. Tipper. Miss Waterbury was formerly Mr. Mayo's stenographer in his New Haven factory.

"I have never done anything I was ashamed of," said Mr. Mayo as he drove off with his bride after the ceremony.

Miss Waterbury, it is understood, will make her home in the house near New Haven which Mr. Mayo fitted up for Mrs. Wilhelmina Meyer Mayo, who sued him for $250,000 damages in 1915 because at the time he married her he had another wife. She obtained a verdict of $100,000. Meantime Mrs. Florence Weeks Mayo of Scranton, Penn., to whom he was married on May 14, 1890, brought suit for divorce, which she obtained.

Miss Waterbury, who always protested her love for Mr. Mayo, since his double life was publicly revealed in 1915, said that she was glad that he was finally free legally to wed her and legitimatize their two daughters.

Mr. Mayo had been living at the Murray Hill Hotel in New York of late. He has business interests in New York, and is no longer connected with the Mayo Radiator Company of New Haven.

ESTIMATED WAR TAX HITS THE RICH HARD

John D. Rockefeller Expected to Pay $38,400,000 on an Annual Income of $60,000,000.

H. C. FRICK COMES NEXT

Three Women Among Thirty Wealthiest Americans Who Will Give Much Toward Victory.

Collector William H. Edwards of the Second, or Wall Street, revenue office, commented yesterday upon the estimated taxes of America's richest individuals, pointing out that, right or wrong, the estimates should dispel any idea that the rich were not bearing their share in the war.

It had been estimated that John D. Rockefeller would be called on to pay a tax of about $38,400,000 this year, based on an income of $60,000,000. It had been figured, also, that Henry C. Frick was Mr. Rockefeller's closest rival, who would pay a tax approximately $7,100,000. The twenty-nine wealthiest individuals after Mr. Rockefeller would pay taxes, it was estimated, aggregating $86,100,000.

"While these estimates were not given out by this office," said Collector Edwards, "I think the showing made is of a character to dispel the erroneous idea that the rich are not called upon to bear their share of the war's financial burdens.

"In this connection it should be borne in mind that all incomes of $2,000,000 or more must pay a surtax of 63 per cent. In addition there are normal taxes and the excess profits tax. Few of the richest men will have to pay an excess profits tax, as their incomes are derived from securities, the taxes on which are paid by the corporations. While, as I have said, the list shown to me cannot be considered official, there is no law against estimating an individual's wealth."

Three women figure in the list of the thirty wealthiest Americans. They are Mrs. E. H. Harriman, with an estimated income of $4,000,000; Mrs. Russell Sage, $3,000,000, and Mrs. Lawrence Lewis, $2,500,000.

The list of the thirty wealthiest Americans with their estimated incomes and accruing income taxes could not be verified as to amounts at either Collector Edwards's or Collector Eisner's office. Collector Edwards said all income tax transactions were held strictly confidential by the Government. While expressing no opinion as to the correctness of the figures as put before him, the Collector was not inclined to regard the estimates as fantastic. Incomes and taxes payable of these thirty persons, as estimated, are as follows:

	Estimated	Income Tax
	Yearly Income.	Based on This Estimate.
Rockefeller, J. D.	$60,000,000	$38,400,000

Lewis, Mrs. Lawrence	2,500,000	1,600,000
Phipps, Henry	2,500,000	1,600,000

The operation of the income tax as well as the excess profits tax has come as a big surprise to many, especially to the men whose incomes were increased by war activities last year. One of the most notable examples was cited yesterday by Collector Edwards. It was a case where a man who made $100,000 last year was obliged to turn over to the Government in taxes $63,000. "When this man got through paying his taxes he had only $37,000 left out of his $100,000," the Collector said.

Practically all the persons named in the above list draw incomes from corporations whose offices are located in Collector Edwards's district, and nearly all live in that part of Manhattan included in the Third Internal Revenue District, of which Mark Eisner is Collector.

LODGE PLEADS FOR ARMY.

Says War Will Be Won in France and We Must Back Our Men.

BOSTON, March 12.—Belief that Russia would never be a factor in the war again and that the conflict would be won on the fields of northern France was expressed by United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge before the Massachusetts Senate today.

"I wish the people of Russia nothing but good," he said, "but I believe that its Government will never be an active factor in the war again. Therefore, the duty of taking up the fight devolves upon the United States. I believe that the war will be won on the fields of northern France—where our American boys are. It is the duty of every citizen to see to it that the greatest possible measure of assistance is given to them."

The Senator also spoke on the war before the House of Representatives, and gave his pledge that he would never give a partisan vote on war matters. He warned against a shallow optimism, which, he said, was as dangerous as pessimism. The American people, the Senator said, will fight all the better if they knew the full truth.

SAILOR KILLS HIMSELF.

Albert E. Thodd of Brooklyn Was Under Arrest for Overstaying Leave

NEW LONDON, Conn., March 12.—Chief Machinist's Mate Albert E. Thodd, aged 35, whose home is in Brooklyn, killed himself with a revolver shot in the head here this afternoon while under arrest in charge of a navy guard from the State Pier. He had been arrested for overstaying his leave.

Gregory Sale of Antiques, $6,790.

Returns for the sale of the antiques and curios of the late Charles Gregory of New York, which closed at the American Art Galleries yesterday afternoon, were $6,790. The returns for the afternoon were $2,974. There were large numbers of articles of a kind which kept down the prices. Antique gold poison and puzzle rings were sold in lots of five to ten. An old violin brought the highest price of the day, going to Landon for $65. With a name on the inside were the words "Romani Cremona 1720." A pair of old French earrings and a neck ornament, each earring set with thirty-five rose diamonds, went to J. Z. Noonan for $62.50. A collection of several hundred semi-precious stones went to C. C. Elder for $35.

Moving Picture Actor Asphyxiated.

George Denton, 53 years old, a movie actor, was accidentally ashyxiated last night in a furnished room he occupied at 366 West Forty-sixth Street. His body was found by Patrolman Hardy of the West Forty-seventh Street station, who forced open the door to the room. Gas was escaping from a small gas stove standing on a chair beside the bed. The people with whom Denton lived said he was a Mason.

SUES RICH COAL OPERATOR.

Special to The New York Times.

ALLENTOWN, Penn., March 12.—John Markle, coal operator and capitalist of Hazelton, was made defendant today in a suit for $250,000 damages brought by Mrs. Alice Dillinger Jessup, divorced wife of Albert B. Jessup, Vice President and General Manager of the G. B. Markle Coal Company, of which concern the defendant is the President.

Mrs. Jessup is the daughter of the late Colonel Jacob S. Dillinger, a prominent member of the Lehigh County bar, and is now living in this city with her daughter, 14 years old. The suit was brought in Lehigh County, and the papers were served on Mr. Markle on a train as he was en route to his Hazelton home from New York.

The case is the outcome of the domestic troubles of Mr. and Mrs. Jessup, culminating in a divorce being granted to the husband in Idaho last year. The grounds, it is stated, were "cruel and barbarous treatment," as well as desertion. Mrs. Jessup now alleges her husband was not a resident of Idaho, but that he lived at Montclair, N. J., and continued in the service of the Markle Coal Company. Mr. Markle aided her husband to establish a false residence in the Western State, she asserts.

Mrs. Jessup also alleges that Mr. Markle was instrumental in having witnesses commit perjury in the divorce proceedings. She cites in particular the testimony of Mrs. Jane Griffith, who, she declares, was provided by an employe of Mr. Markle with a typewritten statement of the things to which she was expected to testify in order to strengthen the case of the husband.

GIRLS CHEER MISS MORGAN.

Her Talk on Needs of French Prompts Them to Give to Fund.

Girls of the Vacation Society of which Miss Anne Morgan is Treasurer gave her three cheers at the big ball in the Metropolitan Life Building Hall last night after she had told them of the reconstruction work she was doing in France and then gave all the pennies and nickels they had with them to buy rabbits.

Miss Morgan showed a series of moving pictures illustrating the actual work that was going on in the twenty-seven French villages around Blerancourt, where she and the women with her were working. She showed great tracts of lands covered with wrecks of French farm wagons and implements, showed them the French soldiers getting these again into shape and finally the wagons and plows in use on the fields.

"Let us give Miss Morgan three cheers," said Miss Robinson-Smith, Chairman of the Vacation Society, when Miss Morgan had finished, and the girls gave three rousing ones.

"And rabbits are cheap," she added. "It takes very little money to buy one and anything you want to give tonight—it is not compulsory—will be a help to those poor people."

Some one took money in a basket in the front of the hall and a man held his hat for loose change at the back, and in the two there was the equivalent of 300 rabbits to go to France before the girls had left the hall.

YEAR'S AID TO ANIMALS.

Society for Prevention of Cruelty Makes Annual Report.

In the yearly report of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals made public yesterday Alfred Wagstaff, President, gives the happenings of a single day at headquarters as indicating just what the society has to face in a Winter such as that just passed. The day selected was one when street conditions were bad as a result of snow and ice.

"The complaints received by telephone," he said, "totaled 137, proper action being taken in every case. If you will stop to consider the time and labor involved in making a personal investigation of an average case, you can form some idea of the work involved in this day's activity."

Mr. Wagstaff gives this condensed summary of the year's work:

Offenders arrested and prosecuted by the society	895
Offenders arrested by police and prosecuted by the society	135
Total arrests and prosecutions	1,030
Animals suspended from labor	5,472
Horses, mules, and other large animals, disabled beyond recovery, humanely destroyed	1,439
Disabled horses and other large animals removed from the streets in ambulances	985
Complaints of cruelty received and investigated	8,710
Calls made for unwanted, sick, and injured animals	97,169

The report of the Treasurer showed that the total income for the year was $150,234.52, the expenses were $163,249, leaving a deficit of $13,015.

CATHOLIC WAR FUND GROWS

Women's Committee Makes Report and Men Arrange Big Drive.

The Women's Committee of the Catholic War Fund brought in $8,000 at the Hotel Plaza yesterday afternoon. Harvey J. Hill, Secretary of the American Red Cross War Council, addressed the women and urged them to renewed effort.

Preparatory work is going on for the big drive next week by the men, who are to bring in $2,500,000 for the Knights of Columbus Camp and overseas service to the men. A group of bankers and business men organized yesterday at the Bankers' Club and Morgan J. O'Brien was made Chairman. The next meeting is to be held at Delmonico's tomorrow evening. Among the team captains appointed were Nicholas F. Brady, James S. Carney, Robert J. Cudahy, Joseph P. Grace, Henry Heide, Ernest Iselin, Roger P. Kavanagh, Peter McDonnell, Peter J. Maloney, Thomas F. Ryan, Alfred E. Smith, John C. McCall, Clarence H. Mackay, William Fox, William D. Guthrie, John G. Agar, Harvey J. Hill, Hubert McDonnell, and Peter Brady.

RADICALS CHEER WILSON.

Ask President to Recognize Bolsheviki in Russia.

Three thousand members of various radical organizations, who met last night at the Star Casino in Harlem at the call of the American Bolshevist Bureau of Information, adopted resolutions calling on "the President of the United States and the proletariat of the world" to protest against the proposed Japanese entry into Siberia. The resolution also asked President Wilson to recognize the Bolshevist Government.

References to the President's message to the Congress of Soviets were cheered. Arturo Giovanitti, the I. W. W. leader, urged that radicals all over the world should support the Bolsheviki in their struggle against Germany, but asserted at the same time that the Bolsheviki had done a thousand times as much as the United States to rid the world of Prussianism. Louis C. Fraina announced that it was planned to hold a meeting later and send a committee to President Wilson to ask his permission for the organization of an American Red Guard, to be composed of volunteers who would go to Russia to fight Germany.

CONFERS ON COAL PLANS.

Garfield Aid Says New York Will Be Well Cared For.

L. A. Snead, an assistant of National Fuel Administrator Garfield, conferred here yesterday with New York Fuel Administrators on plans for storing half a million tons of coal in New York City to insure a reserve supply for next Winter and to consider the proposed zoning system. Discussing plans for New York, Mr. Snead said:

"New York is receiving particular attention from the National Fuel Administration in planning storage facilities to prevent a possible shortage next Winter. Heretofore New York has had room for about one week's supply of coal. Now we are working on a system whereby half a million tons reserve coal may be stored here. New York City will be well taken care of."

The Distribution Committee of the State Fuel Administration yesterday began work on a distribution plan, details of which may be announced within ten days. Mr. Schley said it was the aim to store coal principally in the bins of the industrial concerns and the householders. To do this, he said, there must be a free delivery of coal during the warm months and an equitable distribution.

LUXBURG HAS NOT ESCAPED.

Rumor That Ex-German Minister Had Fled Is Denied in Argentina.

BUENOS AIRES, March 12.—Reports were current here today that Count von Luxburg, former German Minister to Argentina, had fled. It was said he had been missing for several days from the house in the suburb of Lomas de Zamora, where he was supposed to have been under strict surveillance, and that last night he, the former German Naval Attaché and a large group of other Germans passed through Puente del Inca, in the Andes, on the international train for Chile.

After an investigation of these reports the Foreign Office said they were untrue, and that it had been assured by the police that the Count was still here under guard. The Foreign Office states the reports were due to a mistake as to the identity of the Germans seen on the international train.

The British Government having declined to issue a safe conduct for a German physician to accompany Count von Luxburg on his voyage home, the Foreign Office is endeavoring to make arrangements to have a neutral physician go with him.

MEMORIAL TO DR. LEIPZIGER

Special Building for Public Lecture Bureau Proposed.

A special building for the Public Lecture Bureau of the New York Department of Education, which could serve as a memorial to the late Supervisor, Dr. Henry M. Leipziger, is suggested in the annual report, which has just been submitted to the Board of Education by Acting Supervisor Wendell M. Thomas. The report contains a diagram in which the development of the lecture system is traced from its beginning.

The number of auditors since 1889, the first year of the lectures, has increased or decreased as the appropriations have been augmented or lowered. The attendance increased rapidly up to 1902, fluctuated as financial support was slightly decreased, dropped quickly in 1909, and was gradually restored until 1914, when a sudden withdrawal of public funds resulted in the closing of many centres and the administration of a blow to the hopes of the lecture advocate. Between Oct. 1, 1916, and June 30, 1917, however, the attendance showed an increase of 1,385 over the preceding year.

In that period the total attendance was 933,486, an average of 203 for each lecture. The lectures were delivered in 130 centres by 700 lecturers, speaking on 1,648 topics before 4,603 audiences. The report contains a picture of Dr. Leipziger and many tributes to his character from prominent men. Among them is the following letter from Colonel Theodore Roosevelt:

"I mourn the death of Dr. Leipziger. It was my privilege to number him, for many years, as one of my friends. I do not believe that in all New York there was a more devoted, zealous, and entirely disinterested public servant. He did an incalculable amount of good for our city, and was emphatically one of the best citizens I know. For thirty years of a really noble and useful life he devoted himself to the public service of New York. Every good citizen owes him a debt of gratitude."

NATIONAL LEAGUE PRESCRIBES STRICT RULES OF CONDUCT TO GOVERN PLAYERS

NO SILVER SPOON FOR BALL PLAYERS

STARS DENIED PRIVILEGES

Recruits, Plodders, and Hard Workers Get Equal Recognition Under New Rules.

For the first time in the history of baseball, all players in the National League will be treated alike this season. There will be no more petted and pampered player who will receive special privileges because he has a grand opera singer's temperament. A new set of iron-clad rules has been adopted by the league, and some of the players are going to be shocked when they get their first glimpse at the new code.

Not since many of them attended the little red school house will they have been forced to live up to a set of rules such as the league has laid down this year. The iron hand of discipline will fall heavily on busher and star alike, just as soon as they hit the Southern training camps. There is a binding clause in the players contracts which enforces them to obey the rules to the letter.

Hereafter the players will have to stop at the hotels designated by the clubs or their expense money will be withheld. In the past many players visited with friends or relatives in various cities and received their expense allowance just the same. Now they must stop at the hotel with the club. Each player is allowed $3 a day for meals in cities where the club stops at hotels on the European plan. Meal money on trains will be allowed at the rate of $1.25 each meal. When the train is scheduled to leave after 6 o'clock P. M. no allowance will be made for the evening meal, nor will any allowance be made for breakfast unless the train does not reach the club's destination by 9 o'clock A. M.

There is one rule which is sure to bring forth a storm of protest from the superstitious players. That has to do with sending their uniforms to the laundry. The rules require the players to keep their uniforms in as clean condition as possible, both at home and on the road. While at home the uniforms will be laundered at the expense of the club whenever requested. When a club is having a winning streak, many players and managers firmly believe that it is bad luck to touch the uniforms, and so in the past many of the players appeared in uniforms which looked as if they had been dragged through the mud. Good luck or bad luck, they will have to be in close touch with the cleaners this season, and the baseball club will make a better appearance even if it does not play any better.

No Taxis for Players.

Here's another rule which will make the lordly players come down to earth: "Players must care for their own baggage in getting to and from the depot and their homes. Players must make their own arrangements in seeking their homes upon arrival at the home city of the club. No taxicab fare will be allowed in visiting cities." That rule smashes a precedent which has been established in the National League for a good many years. Players got into the habit of traveling back and forth from the hotels in taxis and could not think of carrying even a grip. Now they will have to travel like ordinary mortals.

No persons other than members of the team and officials of the club will be allowed in the clubhouse or on the players' bench. Another rule which will make it hard for some of the players reads: "None of the players will be permitted to use intoxicating liquors or cigarettes to excess during the training or playing season, and the question as to whether liquors or cigarettes are being used to excess by any player is to be determined by the manager, and no one else."

The rules relating to the fining of players will be stiffer than ever before. When a player is fired for using obscene language during a game the fine must be paid by the player and will not be refunded under any circumstances. In the past ball players have gone to extremes in rowdyism because they knew that if they were fined the money would be paid by the club. There will be no more paying of fines by clubs, for if a club fails to deduct from the player's salary the amount of his fine the club will be fined $250.

There is still another rule which says: "No player will be permitted to be guilty in public of gross misbehavior, including intoxication, fighting, quarreling, indecency or scandalous conduct, whether off or on the playing field, during the playing season."

Salaries May be Withheld.

The new rules hit the player pretty hard in the pocketbook, because there is provision that "players who are unable to perform their duties properly because of injury or illness not incurred in the discharge of their duties will not receive their salaries, or any allowance incident to such injury, for time incapacitated."

The players will have to be more prompt than ever before in reporting at morning or afternoon practice, for one of the new club laws requires that "whenever hours have been fixed by the manager for practice purposes, in the morning or afternoon, either at home or abroad, during the playing season, or before the season commences, all players will be required to report at the time prescribed, unless permission to absent themselves has been obtained from the manager."

Copies of the new rules have just been sent to all players in the National League, and it is believed that by the time the clubs return from the training trips in the South they will have become reconciled to the innovations. The rules were adopted by the league only after a long controversy among the club owners. Several of them, who have temperamental stars on their clubs, put forth the argument that it would be difficult to keep these privileged balltossers in line if they pinned them down to a set of rules. However, after a long discussion, the rules were made uniform, and it was decided that all the players should be treated alike. The players haven't seen the new rules yet, but when they read them over the storm of protest will be heard for miles.

ALEXANDER TO JOIN CUBS.

Holdout Pitcher Ready to Leave for Training Camp.

CHICAGO, March 12.—Grover Cleveland Alexander, star pitcher with the Chicago Nationals, who has been holding out for $10,000 as a bonus for his transfer from Philadelphia, advised President Weeghman of the club today that he would join the team en route to the Pasadena, Cal., training camp at Kansas City tomorrow.

Weeghman exchanged telegrams with Alexander at his home in St. Paul, Neb., but he said the subject of a bonus was not discussed. The pitcher's willingness to join the club is taken to indicate that his demands will be adjusted.

The players will leave for California tonight.

Swim Record to Miss Durack.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—The world's record for women for the 440-yard swim was broken by Miss Fannie Durack, at the Australasian championships at Melbourne, Feb. 16. Word to this effect was received by mail today by William Unmack, an official of the Pacific Athletic Association. Miss Durack swam the distance in 6:03. She won every championship on the program.

GIANTS STOP AT ST. LOUIS.

Break Long Trip to Marlin with Pause at Mound City.

Special to The New York Times.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 12.—After a tiresome ride of thirty-two hours the New York squad of Giants arrived here tonight, four hours behind schedule time. The monotony of the trip will be broken up by a short stay in St. Louis, where the players will have the advantage of stationary beds during the night.

A party under the command of Captain Arthur Fletcher was picked up here, and the merged parties will leave for Marlin at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Fletcher's party consisted of Walter Volse, George Gibson, George O'Neill, Eddie Hemingway, Joe Shepner, Clarence Pitt, and Roy Johnson.

The Giant batterymen, who have been boiling out at Hot Sprinks, Ark., left for Marlin this afternoon under the personal leadership of John McGraw. McGraw went to Boston last Saturday to confer with President Haughton on the Doyle deal, and proceeded direct from there to Hot Springs.

The party here now consists of sixteen players. In comparing notes, several of them found out that they may soon be in the army. Benny Kauff had his medical examination transferred to Marlin, next Friday, and says he is ready to go whenever called. Adam Swigler, the former Pennsylvania pitcher, is a Lieutenant in the Dental Reserve Corps, but has not yet been called into active service.

Several of the players have heard directly from Davey Robertson that he would not be with them this season. However, he intimates his retirement may not be permanent, as he wrote, "so this is one season in which I will not play ball."

PHILLIES REFUSE TO SIGN.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, March 12.—Although the Phillies are scheduled to leave for their training camp in two days, seven of the best players are holdouts. The men who have not yet signed their contracts are George Whitted, Milton Stock, Cy Williams, Bert Niehoff, Chief Bender, Fitzgerald, and Dillhoefer. Gabby Cravath and Muesel have not yet signed, but it is understood that Muesel has come to terms.

Nothing has been heard from Cravath, but he is always late with his contract, as he never signs until he reaches the training camp. The players who have signed are Mayer Oeschger, Jack Adams, Eddie Burns, Luderus, Bradley Hogg, Bud Weiser, Woodward, Main, Davis, McGaffigan, and Pearoe. Shortstop Bancroft is the only member of the team working under a long contract. His agreement has one more year to run.

TO RUN MARATHON MAY 4.

Third Repetition of Local Race Expected to Draw Great Field.

Announcement has been made that the annual Evening Mail Modified Marathon race will be run this year on May 4. This will be the fourth running of the event, which in past years has proved the distance running classic of the metropolitan district. The course, as in former years, will approximate twelve and one-half miles.

The chase will be held earlier this year than last. In 1917 the race was run from the Concourse and 175th Street to City Hall, and resulted in a stirring test of endurance between Hannes Kolehmainen and Villar Kyronen, the two lusty-lunged Finnish runners. Kolehmainen eventually pulled up at City Hall the winner, with Kyronen second and Charles Pores, Millrose A. A., third. The team trophy was captured by the Millrose A. A. team, composed of Kyronen, Pores, Nick Gianakopolus, the Greek runner; Joe Scarlata, and W. Johanning.

Providence Player Triumphs in the Belleair Tourney.

Special to The New York Times.

BELLEAIR, Fla., March 12.—Dr. C. H. Gardner of Providence, counted on to win the Belleair championship, triumphed in his first match round today, defeating W. A. Alexander of Chicago by 8 and 6. The medal winner, W. W. Flanagan of Pittsburgh, could not live up to his reputation and fell among the discards. T. A. Ashley of Woodland, who came through easily in the last tournament here, was eliminated by J. R. Hanley of Bay City, Mich., by the close margin of 1 up. Clarence Hobart won his first match by a decisive margin.

TWO TIE AT PALM BEACH.

Elwell and Hutchinson Each Make 78 in Golf Tourney.

Special to The New York Times.

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 12.—A high wind made low scoring in today's qualifying round of the annual golf tourney for the Palm Beach championship an impossibility. On the sand greens the wind often blew the balls several feet and the wonder was that any of the players broke 80, which two did, tying for the medal score. They were Joseph B. Elwell, Apawamis, and J. C. Hutchinson, Bala, each with 78.

F. S. Wheeler, President of the United States Golf Association, turned in a card of 83 after getting into serious trouble on the seventh green, which was particularly wind swept.

The scores:

First Sixteen.—J. C. Hutchinson, Bala, 78; J. B. Elwell, Apawamis, 78; B. H. Kroger, Hamilton, 82; F. S. Wheeler, Apawamis, 83; John Shepard, Jr., Rhode Island, 83; A. Mowell, Hackensack, 85; J. G. Connor, Trenton, 86; E. G. Van Vleck, Montclair, 86; P. Corbin, Shelter Meadow, 87; A. F. Huston, St. Davids, 88; S. L. Folger, Shelter Island, 88; Wilmot Smith, Oakland, 89; D. D. Dayton, Minnekahda, 89; Dr. C. J. Downey, Springfield, 91; L. Washington, Midlothian, 91; C. Elmer Smith, York, 91.

Second Sixteen.—H. B. McClellan, Fox Hills, 91; H. M. Stornbach, North Shore, 91; G. Altmeyer, 92; J. E. Rumbough, Asheville, 92; W. L. Waines, Calgary, 92; Edward Wylde, St. Davids, 92; C. D. Smithers, Nassau, 92; H. K. Bolton, 92; G. D. Wilkinson, Oak Park, 93; J. Speidell, Jr., Wheeling, 93; G. Singer, Pittsburgh, 95; R. M. Fair, Midlothian, 95; G. F. Barnes, Englewood, 95; C. W. Brackett, Minnekahda, 96; A. Krippendorf, Cincinnati, 96; C. Cady, Oak Park, 96.

HUGGINS SETS FAST PACE FOR YANKEES

Special to The New York Times.

MACON, Ga., March 12.—The pace stiffened for the Yankees today. It has not reached a drive yet and no player is asked to do more than he wants to, though the small band which Huggins has here at present are all willing workers. Nobody has been looking for a chance to sit down. Still the hours today were longer, and in two lengthy infield sessions—the same makeshift infield of the day before operation, Lamar, Vick, Ward, and Camp—the work was sharper.

Aaron Ward, the only confessed infielder of the quartet, is as diligent a lad as ever cast ambitious eyes on a big league berth. He is out there doing something when, of the others, the last tired man is pointed for the shower bath and the rubbing table.

Huggins, who is long on work and short on words, had only this laconic comment to make on the developments of the second day: "Nothing new. Don't know any more about them than the day before." A reticent chap, Huggins, and one of very serious mien.

The only thing new was regular work for the pitchers. The mound squad, Love, Caldwell, McGraw, Thormahlen, and Monroe, did regular pitching. None of them did any hard pitching or extended labor in that line. Monroe came the nearest to putting something on the ball, but that something was slight.

Caldwell has made a bet with Huggins. He is speedy afoot, Caldwell is, and has wagered that he can step off a hundred yards by the first of May in better than thirteen seconds. Caldwell declares he has seen the time when he could do the hundred in ten. Sam Vick is another fast stepper.

Huggins's youngsters drove wicked liners through the infield in batting practice, but it was soft pitching. By way of variety, when a big lad from Mercer College hurled to them they faced what was more like real pitching. Huggins, by the way, took McGraw and Thormahlen in hand for a short spell of pitching under his own special supervision. When the day was over there was not a man of the ten that had not had all the exercise he cared for.

George Stallings, who visited the Yanks again today, knows nothing new in the Herzog matter, but does say that unless Herzog reports to the Braves Doyle and Barnes will come back to the Braves. "I think the deal will turn out as planned," he said, "but in the meantime we can only wait and see what Herzog is going to do. It would not grieve me to have Barnes and Doyle back, and if they do come they can get in condition as well training with the Giants as with me."

AUTO RACING IS RESTORED.

National Association Decides to Promote Meets Again.

The Contest Board of the American Automobile Association, at a special meeting yesterday, decided to resume its control of motor racing competitions for the season of 1918. It was agreed to rescind its discontinuation order of last November and to conduct the sport on a larger and more elaborate scale than ever before.

An almost universal request from motorists for the resumption of speed contests had its effect. Another element which prompted the A. A. A. to lift the ban was the hearty approval expressed by high Government officials, including the nation's Chief Executive, for the continuation of all sport competitions during the war.

Still another factor was the assurance of international competition, as several of the European champion drivers have signified their intention of coming over in quest of the big prize, moneys and glory attached to winning the speed classics. Chairman Kennerdell of the Contest Board said last night that his colleagues would shortly take up the matter of the 1918 circuit.

Three dates for speed carnivals have tentatively been assigned to the Sheepshead Bay Speedway, these being May 30, (Memorial Day,) Aug. 18, and Sept. 21. The two meets decided at this course late last Summer drew more than 125,000 enthusiasts to the seaside track.

PORES ENTERS TITLE GAMES

Berry, Too, Will Compete in National Chapionship.

Reports that Charles Pores, five-mile national champion runner, was about to sever his connection with the Millrose A. A. were discredited yesterday when he sent in his entry as a representative of that organization for the national A. A. U. indoor track and field championships, which will be held next Saturday night in the Twenty-second Regiment Armory. The entry of Pores was one of a number received on the closing day for entries. He will compete in the five-mile event.

J. Howard Berry, the University of Pennsylvania all-around athlete and football star, was another of the late entrants, as were Loren Murchinson, Columbia A. C., St. Louis; E. R. Coughey, U. S. A. Ambulance Service; D. C. Sinclair, Princeton University; Ensign Howard G. Cann, U. S. S. New Mexico; Charles L. Seibert, Chicago Turngemeinde; Dorsey Griffith, Georgetown University; Graham A. Burwell, Syracuse University; Gordon T. Nightingale, New Hampshire State College, and Lieutenant Frank Stephenson, Spartanburg, S. C.

Berry, a member of the Officers' Training School, Camp Dix, will compete in the 60-yard dash, and as a member of the Camp Dix team in the one and seven-eighths mile medley relay race. Other contestants from Camp Dix will be O. C. Anderson, last year's all-American football quarter back; Lieutenant Finch, former Cornell University half-miler, and Lieutenant William Anderson, one of the best mile runners in the metropolitan district prior to the war. Coughey was a member of the American team that toured Australia in 1913-14, and on that occasion created several new records with the weights, some of which still remain. He will compete in the 16-pound shot put, as will Ensign Cann and Sinclair. Seibert is the present national high jumping champion. Murchinson, Griffith, and Burwell will start in the 300, and Nightingale in the two and five mile races Lieutenant Stephenson will start in the 60-yard dash.

HOL IN GYMNASTIC MEET.

Former Champion to Strive for Laurels Again.

Officials of the Amateur Athletic Union announced yesterday that Peter Hol, national all-around gymnastic champion of 1914-15, had entered for the Metropolitan Association gymnastic championship tests, which will be held at the Twenty-third Street Y. M. C. A. on March 30. Hol will represent the Norwegian Turn and Athletic Club of Brooklyn. This entry brings the field of competitors up to nine. Two of Hol's most formidable rivals will be Joseph Cessy, West Side Y. M. C. A., and Frank Kriz, Bohemian Club.

COLUMBIA CLUB IN LEAD.

Standing of the Clubs.

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Columbia Club	5	2	.714
Harvard Club	4	2	.667
Yale Club	3	4	.429
Princeton Club	2	4	.333
Crescent A. C.	2	4	.333

The Columbia Club squash tennis players went into the lead in Class B division of the Metropolitan League team matches yesterday when they scored a victory over the Princeton Club players on the Columbia Club courts by a score of 4 to 3. At the same time that the Blue and White racquet wielders were earning a triumph, the Harvard Club representatives were suffering their second defeat of the season when the Yale Club men were victorious by a score of 3 to 2 on the Harvard Club courts. The Columbia Club men are now within sight of victory in the championship race, for they have only one more match to play. The Harvard Club team has two matches scheduled.

There was spirited competition in both of yesterday's events. The Columbia Club men were in several instances hard pressed to gain the laurels. There were two thrilling three-game contests which were decided by a scant margin. In one Frank Chambers of the Columbia Club was the victor over E. Ellsworth of the Princeton Club at 17—18, 18—16, 18—14. The other also resulted in a victory for the Columbia Club contender, H. R. Burt defeating R. L. Monks of the Princeton Club at 13—15, 18—16, 18—15. Columbia was aided in the victory by a default on the part of the strongest Princeton Club player, H. R. Mixsell, who recently won the national Class B championship. He was to have opposed R. L. Strebeigh.

By agreement the Yale and Harvard teams played only five men each. A. E. Ells and J. W. Burden were the victorious Harvard Club players.

Columbia Club vs. Princeton Club.

R. L. Strebeigh, Columbia Club, won from H. R. Mixsell, Princeton Club, by default; S. H. Bird, Princeton Club, defeated H. Kellock, Columbia Club, 15—9, 15—3; A. L. Marvin, Columbia Club, defeated A. G. Mittendorf, Princeton Club, 10—15, 15—8, 15—5; G. E. Harvey, Princeton Club, defeated R. E. Wigham, Columbia Club, 15—6, 15—3; H. R. Burt, Columbia Club, defeated R. L. Monks, Princeton Club, 13—15, 18—16, 18—15; G. Graham, Princeton Club, defeated H. W. Warner, Columbia Club, 15—10, 15—6; F. Chambers, Columbia Club, defeated E. Ellsworth, Jr., Princeton Club, 17—18, 18—16, 18—14.

Yale Club vs. Harvard Club.

A. E. Ells, Harvard Club, defeated J. C. Tomlinson, Jr., Yale Club, 15—7, 15—9; J. W. Burden, Harvard Club, defeated W. Adams, Jr., Yale Club, 15—10, 15—12; E. J. Clapp, Yale Club, defeated J. W. Lee, Harvard Club, 15—9, 15—5; R. A. Granniss, Yale Club, defeated H. S. McKee, Harvard Club, 18—15, 18—17; H. De Forest, Yale Club, defeated J. Corbin, Harvard Club, 15—6, 8—15, 15—9.

BOY HOCKEY RACE CLOSE.

Flushing Has Chance for Second Place in Game Tonight.

The Flushing High School hockey team will have a chance to move into a tie for second place with Poly Prep if they are able to defeat Commercial in the schoolboy championship series at the Brooklyn Ice Palace tonight. In the other game of the double header, Manual will cross sticks with New Utrecht. This will mark the end of the season for these teams.

Although tonight's contests will have a bearing on the minor positions in the league race, the real contest of the schoolboy season, will be played on Friday night at the Brooklyn rink, when Erasmus, now leading in the race, will play Poly Prep. The championship will be decided in this contest. The teams are evenly matched, and the game should attract a large crowd. Friday night's game will begin at 8 o'clock.

Lewis Perfects Head Hold.

Ed "Strangler" Lewis, the Kentucky wrestler, is perfecting a new head hold to use on Wladek Zbyszko when they meet on the mat in Madison Square Garden Tuesday night. This announcement was made last night by the promoters of the match. Lewis is doing his training at Rochester.

SHOEMAKER GAINS VICTORY WITH CUE

Titleholder Defeats Fulton in Pocket Billiard Match by a Score of 125 to 67.

J. Howard Shoemaker made his entrance into the national amateur pocket billiard championship at the New York Athletic Club last night when he defeated Charles R. Fulton by a score of 125 to 67. After the first few innings the titleholder had the contest well in hand. His play was brilliant and Fulton had little opportunity to get in big runs.

Fulton was a bit nervous in playing against the champion and hardly did himself justice. He failed several times on comparatively easy shots. During the first four frames he made the contest something worth while. Shoemaker gained an early advantage, but when Fulton secured all but one of the balls in the fourth frame he was practically on even terms with his rival.

In the next frame he swept the table and had a momentary advantage, but it did not last long against the superior quality of play which Shoemaker at this point injected into the controversy. Toward the close the champion was racing along at top speed, and he compiled one pretty run of 28, which is the highest that the tournament has thus far brought forth.

The afternoon match was a decidedly one-sided affair, in which Charles Shongood, Jr., earned a victory over Ardie Wickers by a score of 125 to 36. It was the first appearance for both men in a national championship event and in the case of Wickers particularly there was evident a bad case of stage fright. He came into the tournament with a reputation for making high runs, but yesterday he could never get started.

Shongood opened in the first frame with a fine bit of shooting, and Wickers was soon hopelessly behind in the struggle. He missed easy shots time and again, and in only one frame did he succeed in pocketing the majority of the ivories. Shongood was well along in the sixties when Wickers was stalled at 8.

Shongood's game showed that he may develop into one of the real contenders of the tournament. He was cautious during most of the time, not daring to take chances even when he had a commanding lead, but there was evidenced now and then an ability to execute brilliantly, and some of his shots won a round of applause. There was no long-sustained runs on the part of Shongood, but he counted consistently and three times made clusters of 14. Wickers had one run of 12, but aside from that it could hardly be said that he had a run. His next best effort was 5, which is hardly moving along at a pace for championship company.

The scores:

Afternoon Game.

Charles R. Shongood, Jr.—14 13 12 13 9 2 14 14 11 12 9 4. Total—125. High runs—14 14 and 14. Scratches—2.

BRESNAN IS TWICE VICTOR.

Defeats Carrol and Lowenthal in Balkline Billiard Tourney.

Three games were played in the Billiard Players' Ambulance Fund handicap tournament at Maurice Daly's Academy yesterday. In the afternoon the winners were Thomas Bresnan and Edward Carrol. Bresnan defeated Fred Lowenthal, a former Class B contender, by a score of 185 to 114. The winner's average was 6 11-29, and his high run 33. Carrol's victim was F. Tobias. The score in this case was 185 to 117. Carrol made an average of 5 10-35 and a high run of 28. In the evening game Bresnan gained his second victory of the day when he defeated Carrol by 185 to 95. Bresnan's average was 7 3-26.

American Amateur Billiard Association Gaining Recruits.

It developed yesterday that the new amateur billiard association which will strive for supremacy in the sport against the control of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players is to be known as the American Amateur Billiard Association. It is said that it already numbers among its members many of the prominent players hereabout, and that it will have a wide following. A representative of the new organization appeared before the meeting of the Billiard Room Keepers' Association yesterday and asked the support of that body in its struggle against the N. A. A. B. P.

A vote of the roomkeepers indorsed the new association. There has been wide dissatisfaction among the roomkeepers with the N. A. A. B. P., and they were glad to lend their aid to a new organization. The chief cause for complaint lay in the fact that the N. A. A. B. P. demanded that if amateur tournaments were played in the rooms, with members of the N. A. A. B. P. competing, the proprietors would have to pay $25 to become allied members of the organization.

The report of the committee from the Roomkeepers' Association, which has in charge the Billiard Players' Ambulance Fund, showed that $4,000 has been collected from the New York district. It was called to the attention of the proprietors of rooms that there was petty grafting going on with respect to the fund by people who were representing themselves as agents of the billiard fund. The proprietors of the academies were warned that they must be responsible for all money collected.

Clare, National Turn Verein; J. J. Dolan, Irish-American A. C., and Robert Stoll, New York A. C.

Leonard will make his appearance in the ring on Sunday night. A "battle royal" by a special detail of officers from Camp Dix, N. J., is announced for Saturday night, when two sides of twenty-five belligerents each will compete. The proceeds of the meet will go to the Women's Overseas Hospital.

METCALF TO RETIRE AS COLUMBIA COACH

Accepts Appointment as Director of Athletics at Oberlin —Thorp May Succeed Him.

Nelson Metcalf, head coach of the Columbia University football team for the last three years, has resigned his place with the Blue and White to take a position as athletic director of Oberlin College, from which university he was graduated. He will take up his new duties on Sept. 1, succeeding C. W. Savage. The latter has been given a leave of absence for a year, and Metcalf is to have charge of athletics in his absence.

It was said at Columbia last night that nothing definite had been decided as to Metcalf's successor. Officially there has been no assistant coach, but Tom Thorp, the old Blue and White 'Varsity tackle, has been an eager director with Metcalf of the Morningside elevens, and it is possible that he may succeed to the position of head coach. Thorp was prominently spoken of for the position of head coach when football was revived at Columbia in 1915.

Metcalf has had only one big year as director of the Blue and White 'Varsity. That was in the first season of the revived gridiron game. Columbia then made a commendable record, even though the calibre of elevens which were played was far below the standard that prevailed when football was dropped at Columbia in 1905.

Five games were on the schedule, and in each Columbia was victor. The big game was with Wesleyan, the Connecticut collegians being defeated by 18-0. The succeeding year, 1916, proved to be one of disaster for the Blue and White forces. A more pretentious schedule was undertaken, and while there were several tie games played—one with Williams—there was only one victory to grace the record. Last year Columbia did not do a great deal better.

Metcalf developed one player of national prominence, Howard Miller, who has a place with the famous drop-kickers of the game.

Jewell and Servatius Win.

Louis A. Servatius and Walter Jewell were the winners in the Metropolitan Class C billiard tournament at the Broadway Billiard Academy yesterday. In the afternoon Jewell was the victim of Servatius, who made an average of 5 5-29, one of the best that the tournament has brought forth. The score was 150 to 65. In the evening Jewell defeated J. Jaeger by 150 to 129. Jewell's average was 4 10-37.

This Year Choose a Car That Won't Require Repair Men

The Best Mechanics Have Gone to War. Fifty Thousand Owners Know the Reliability of the Hudson Super-Six

When one could turn his car over to an expert repairman every time it failed to operate just right, it wasn't so important that the car itself should be one of proved reliability.

But this year it will not be so easy to get such efficient service. The best men have been enlisted to repair aeroplane, truck and tank motors. Every repair shop has lost one or more of its best mechanics. This makes it more important than ever that cars as they leave the factory must be of right design and right construction.

There is no question about the way the Hudson Super-Six qualifies in this particular. There is hardly a person who does not know the intimate history of some Hudson Super-Six as it has served its owner. There are fifty thousand Super-Sixes now in service.

They have proved their reliability and endurance in every kind of test that could be thought of in the way of speed, long and constant operation in the hands of every type of user.

What it has done is the assurance that makes it the car you can rely upon when you know expert service men are not always at hand. You must have observed how your neighbor's Super-Six has met every requirement he has made of it with the same reliability with which you depend upon a tried and proved time-piece.

With these facts in mind there is no need to call attention to such details of design and body detail as is usually referred to in an automobile advertisement. There are ten different body types of Hudson Super-Six cars. Every taste can be satisfied.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC SOON NORMAL AGAIN

EXPORT SUPPLIES PILE UP

Not Enough Ships Available—Start Made on Nation-Wide Purchasing System for Roads.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Ordinary commercial traffic soon will be handled by the railroads in a normal manner, Director General McAdoo announced today, in commenting on reports that the Railroad Administration contemplated a permanent system of restricting shipments of nonessential commodities.

"It is not the intention of the Railway Administration," said the Director General, "to interfere with the normal commercial shipments. It has been necessary to give preferential service to supplies of food, fuel, and munitions. It is expected that within a short time the railroads will be in position to handle commercial shipments in the usual way.

"We have not at any time issued orders interfering with commercial business, except when it was necessary to do so on account of special service being required for the commodities above mentioned. Embargoes have been placed on the various railroads, due to conditions caused by the extreme weather and the accumulation at certain Atlantic ports."

A. H. Smith, Regional Director for the East, reported today that 8,016 loaded cars of freight for export were held at North Atlantic ports. In addition, material from 6,760 cars has been discharged on piers and 15,713 cars have been unloaded on the ground.

This indicates, officials said, that ships are not being supplied in sufficient number to carry away the freight now delivered to the ports. Because of the slow unloading of frozen meat at New York for export, the movement of this product from Chicago for export has been limited to fifty cars a day, Mr. Smith reported.

"The bunker coal situation at New York Harbor today is in better shape than it usually has been at this season in previous years," said Mr. Smith. "The reserve for bunkering transports has been built up to such a point that orders have been given to hold off on shipments for two weeks. It is felt the situation is in shape to take care of any emergency demands that may arise."

Purchasing Committee Named.

Director General McAdoo tonight announced the appointment of a number of assistants to John Skelton Williams, Director of the Railroad Administration's Division of Finance and Purchases, which is to spend between a billion and two billion dollars this year.

The Advisory Committee for Finances is composed of Franklin Q. Brown of New York, Festus J. Wade of St. Louis, and Frederick W. Scott of Richmond, Va., all bankers.

The Central Advisory Purchasing Commitee, with headquarters at Washington, is composed of Henry B. Spencer, Washington, Vice President of the Southern Railway, in charge of purchases; Samuel Porcher of Philadelphia, purchasing agent of the Pennsylvania, and George G. Yeomans of New Haven, purchasing agent of the New Haven.

The Regional Purchasing Committee for the East, with headquarters at New York, follows: E. H. Bankard, general purchasing agent of the Baltimore & Ohio; H. B. Wight of New York, purchasing agent of the New York Central, and E. T. Burnett of Roanoke, Va., purchasing agent of the Norfolk & Western.

The Committee in Charge of Purchases for Roads West of the Mississippi, with headquarters at Chicago, consists of Charles A. How, purchasing agent of the Missouri Pacific; L. S. Carroll, general purchasing agent of the Chicago & Northwestern, and Ira O. Rhoads, general purchasing agent of the Southern Pacific.

The Purchasing Committee for the South, with headquarters at Atlanta, is composed of F. H. Fechtig, purchasing agent of the Atlantic Coast Line; Albert C. Mann, purchasing agent of the Illinois Central, and H. T. Shanks, purchasing agent of the Louisville & Nashville.

Nationwide System Planning.

As soon as the pending railroad bill has been finally enacted, a nationwide purchasing system for all railroads will be established by Mr. Williams and his advisory committees. Locomotives, cars and steel rails will be bought through the central organizations. Most other materials and supplies will be ordered individually by the roads, as under private control, except that the contracts will be supervised by the regional committees. A special committee will be appointed soon to buy coal for New England roads.

NEW HAVEN NEEDS TAKEN UP.

No Decision by McAdoo Yet on Meeting Road's $45,000,000 Obligations.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Reports that the Railroad Administration had offered to provide for obligations of $45,000,000 of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad were denied today by John Skelton Williams, Director of the Division of Finance and Purchases of the Railroad Administration. No decision has been reached as to the extent of Government aid to the road, he said, although the subject is under consideration. Mr. Williams issued this statement:

"Director General McAdoo authorizes me to say that newspaper reports to the effect that the Railroad Administration has stated that the New Haven's obligations of about $45,000,000, maturing shortly, have been or would be provided for by the Government, are incorrect. While it is hoped that the road may find some way to protect its obligations, no decision has as yet been reached by the Government as to the extent, if any, to which it may extend aid to the system. The subject is now under consideration, and as soon as a decision is reached official announcement will be made."

BOSTON, March 12.—Nathan L. Amster, President of the Investors' Protective Association of America, announced today that he had called a meeting of stockholders of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad in Boston for March 19, to consider provisions of the Railroad bill under which they will receive returns on their investment while the road is operated by the Government.

"A movement is under way," Mr. Amster said in a statement, "to lay before President Wilson anad Director General McAdoo a special plea for consideration of the right of stockholders of the New Haven to adequate and equitable compensation. Under the bill the New Haven stock income would be less than 2 per cent., which obviously would be inadequate and unfair."

Ford Expects to Employ That Many at New Plant.

Special to The New York Times.

DETROIT, March 12.—Henry Ford announced today that eventually 100,000 men will be employed in the manufacture of tractors at his Dearborn plant. He emphasized the importance the manufacture of tractors is bound to bear on industry. Following the completion of the permanent plant, the present shops will be used as one of the numerous assembling plants which will be scattered all over the country.

"The tractor industry is bound to become one of the leading industries of the world," said Mr. Ford, "and we are making our plans accordingly. I plan on devoting most of my time to the building of tractors. The tractor is and always has been my pet hobby. It is something that will do much toward the betterment of mankind, and that is what I am largely interested in.

"With Viscount Northcliffe and the tractor, Junkerism is facing its death in England," said Mr. Ford. "Vast estates will be a thing of the past. They will be supplanted by producing farms. The nobles will be forced to give away to the common people, and then the English people will once more get back to the soil. The tractor means all this and more in the development of the world.

"That's why I am going to stick by the tractor! I am determined to do everything in my power to drive Junkerism from the world. I'm for peace, first, last, and at all times, but not until it brings about the right conditions. And so I'm going to help fight for it. I'm at the Government's call."

UNIONS GIVE THEIR VIEWS.

Statement of Principles Presented to Labor Planning Board.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Representatives of organized labor presented a statement of principles to the Labor Planning Board today for comparison with the outline previously submitted by representatives of employers as a basis for working out a national labor policy.

After the conference adjourned, former President Taft and Frank P. Walsh, neutral members of the board, said progress had been made. They declined to discuss the two statements of principles, or to indicate what differences exist.

Air Mail Service Postponed.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The start of the airplane mail service between New York, Philadelphia, and Washington will be delayed probably as lae as May 15 because landing fields at Philadelphia and New York have not been found. The service was to have been begun April 15.

City Note Sale Reflects Money Supply for Short-Term Investments—Stocks Recede.

The sale of New York City corporate stock notes and revenue bills to a total of $20,000,000 yesterday reflected current money conditions in a clear light, not only in respect to the relatively low interest rate which the loan commanded, but also as regards the large participation in the bidding. The basis of 4.79 per cent. for the successful bid compared favorably with the rate of 4½ per cent. which short-term Treasury bills have commanded since January, and the total of about $111,000,000 for all the applications indicated that the supply of funds seeking investment of brief maturity is large. It is worthy of mention that the $12,000,000 stock notes mature June 28 and the $8,000,000 revenue bills on July 9, both subsequent to the date when the Federal income and excess profits taxes are due for payment into the United States Treasury. It is fair to assume from this that the bidders were in position to finance whatever tax demands may come up, and had funds available, over and above these demands, to invest in the city's paper on proposals in most cases under a 5 per cent. interest basis. In the latter part of January the city disposed of $5,000,000 notes on a 4.52 per cent. basis and only a few days ago another $5,000,000 warrants, maturing in June, went on a 4.75 per cent. basis. Considering these terms, together with the $20,000,000 note sale earlier in the year at 4.31 and 4.32 per cent., it is seen that the burden upon capital in these war times is having only a gradual effect in stiffening the price of short-term accommodations.

The unimportant movements in the security markets gave the financial district ample time to study the bids for the city's securities as they were recorded in detail over the news tickers. While the general tendency of stocks was downward, there were no significant movements outside of a decline of more than 4 points in American Telephone and Telegraph shares. The reason for this rather broad shrinkage in the market valuation of an investment appeared to be contained in the annual report issued the day before, showing earnings for dividends only slightly in excess of the amount paid out. At the same time the selling indicated bearish pressure. The railroad group lost a part of Monday's upturn, and among the industrials the declines recorded seemed to denote more the operations of short sellers than the appearance of long stock for sale.

Again Italian exchange supplied the feature of particular interest in the exchange market, its erratic movements being explained in part by hurried buying because of news that the Italian Government had begun to exercise control of dealings. From a quotation of 8.56½ lire to the dollar for cable transfers, urgent bidding carried the price as high as 7.97 by midday, with a subsequent sharp reaction to about 8.30. The turnover was not large, according to bankers interested in the market, and the fear that supplies might be more restricted in the near future than they have been apparently prompted some hurried covering by the short interest.

Approves More Rate Increases.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today approved an application by Western railroads for increased import and export commodity rates between Pacific Coast ports and interior points. Increases asked on sisal used in making binder twine were denied. Application for increased terminal charges at Seattle and Tacoma, Wash., and Vancouver, B. C., made by the St. Paul road was approved.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

Gain in Nation's Gold Supply.

According to figures published in the March bulletin of the Federal Reserve Board, the imports of gold into the United States since the outbreak of the European war (Aug. 1, 1914) until Feb. 15, 1918, amounted to $1,720,027,000, while the exports during this period aggregated $669,116,000, making the net gain in imports $1,050,911,000. The "circulation statement" of the Treasury Department as of March 1 places the gold stock of the country (including bullion in Treasury) at $3,041,643,270, compared with $1,887,270,664 on Aug. 1, 1914, or an increase of $1,154,372,606.

Thirty Years Ago.

Old-timers in Wall Street recalled yesterday the great blizzard of thirty years ago, which isolated New York from the rest of the country and worked havoc with Stock Exchange operations. Not only was business curtailed because of the lack of telegraphic facilities, but the absolute suspension of traffic made it practically impossible for brokers and others to reach their offices. Automobiles were unheard of then, but it is doubtful if even that present-day luxury could have been operated in the snow-banked streets. On the first day of the storm, which, by the way, was a Monday, the total number of shares dealt in on the Stock Exchange amounted to only 15,805 shares. On the following day conditions were even worse, and many of those who ventured out on Monday and reached their offices afoot refrained from chancing such an ordeal a second time. The result was that only a very small percentage of the usual attendance appeared on the floor of the Exchange, and the Governing Committee held a hastily arranged special meeting and closed the Exchange at noon, after 2,075 shares had been dealt in—a minimum record that will probably endure for all time.

New Haven Prospects.

Any definite news regarding the ultimate fate of the New Haven's $45,000,000 note issue must come, apparently, from Washington, and it also appears that such news cannot reasonably be expected until Congress passes the Railroad bill, and possibly the War Finance Corporation bill also. Chairman Elliott of the New Haven is in Washington conferring with Mr. McAdoo and his aids, but it is scarcely likely, from the viewpoint of either propriety or expediency, that anything public will emerge from these conferences until Mr. McAdoo is officially endowed with the power to act. In the meantime, much of the commodity known in Wall Street as "dope" is being scattered lavishly abroad. This much can be said: From the very day that the President took over the railroads the New Haven management has gone on the assumption that the Government would take care of the note issue in one way or another. They have practically permitted the plan for a preferred stock issue to lapse, and have no other alternative in reserve.

Pennsylvania Financing.

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania, with the formal submission of the resolution authorizing the issue of $75,000,000 of additional bonds, adds point to a curiosity which is felt to some extent in railway financial circles as to the manner in which this money is to be employed. According to President Rea's statements in his annual report, the money is needed to improve the equipment and extend the facilities of the road to care for the great increases of traffic brought by the war. But since the plan was first undertaken the Government has taken over the railroad. Will the company, none the less, go ahead with its new construction, as a project independent of the actual road operation, now a Government affair, or will the bonds be held in the treasury until the end of Government control?

Savings Increase in Canada.

Although the report of the New York State Superintendent of Banks shows that the period of the flotation of the last Liberty Loan saw a reduction of about $105,000,000 in savings bank deposits in this State, experience of Canada and other countries indicates that, despite war financing operations, deposits of savings institutions have greatly increased. The Canadian reports show that in July, 1914, about the time the war began, savings deposits in the Dominion amounted to $663,650,000, and that on Jan. 1, 1918, the total approximated $1,000,000,000, or an increase of about 50 per cent. The growth of savings deposits is ascribed to the fact that working people have been receiving much higher wages and have been able to increase their weekly or monthly savings. Moreover, it is reported that despite the higher rate of interest paid by Government war loans a great many wage-earners have preferred to retain their money with the banks rather than withdraw the same for investment in bonds.

Cotton and Labor.

Of no very good augury for next year's crop are reports received from the South by some New York cotton men, which say that the current crop suffered, if anything, even more in quality than in quantity by the labor scarcity. From lack of pickers, it is said, some cotton stayed out in the fields until it was good for little but paper stock, and the percentage of low-grade cotton in the entire crop is said to be discouragingly high. Spinners are being forced, through sheer inability to get anything better, to take the poorest grades of cotton they have ever attempted to work up, and the effect of the war will be felt next year in shirts that not only cost more, but also wear out sooner, than any which the humble ultimate consumer has ever had to grapple with.

Bank Agencies for Soldiers.

The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, which has been appointed by the Treasury Department a depositary of public moneys, both in London and Paris, issued a statement yesterday regarding the maintenance of special agencies in the war zone occupied by the American troops. The old plan of using letters of credit has been supplanted by an arrangement under which funds may be available to soldiers, as required, at any of the special war agencies. Officers serving abroad may make remittances to their families at home through the trust company. The transfer is effected by means of duplicate letters of advice, the same being forwarded to the trust company's offices in this city, where a check is drawn and forwarded in accordance with instructions. At the office nearest the front an automobile is maintained to assist in extending banking facilities to army camps in other nearby camps. Cornelius R. Agnew, Vice President of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, and in charge of its foreign department, said yesterday that the banking which his company had been doing for the various departments of the Government had brought its foreign offices in close touch with the army and navy disbursing officers, thus making it easier to render personal service to the officers and men in France and England.

Jewel Tea Co. Earns $1,558,351.

The report of the Jewel Tea Company, Inc., for the calendar year 1917 shows net sales of $15,847,603, with net profits, after deducting all charges and reserve for war taxes, of $1,558,351. In 1916, without any deduction for taxes, the net profits amounted to $1,532,061, on gross sales of $12,892,506. The company has a current surplus of $2,136,954, an increase of $785,142. It is announced that during the year the company commenced a profit-sharing plan for the purchase of common stock of the company and its distribution to employes.

DOUBLE LORILLARD CAPITAL

Stockholders Take Action—Tobacco Company Earns $8,312,343.

Stockholders of the P. Lorillard Tobacco Company yesterday, at a special meeting, voted to double the authorized capitalization of the company. The previous authorized total of capital stock, all outstanding, amounted to 151,556 shares. The increase in capitalization is the preliminary step toward the declaration of a 20 per cent. stock dividend, expected about April 1, which will take the place of the extra cash dividend ordinarily paid on that date. The remainder of the newly authorized stock will be held in the treasury. The plan was devised to conserve working capital under existing uncertain conditions.

The report of the company for 1917 shows a net income of $8,312,343, against $5,874,077 for 1916, and a balance available for the common stock, after deducting all fixed charges, preferred dividend, and a reserve of $1,100,000 for excess profits taxes, of $5,136,947, against $3,792,424, when no reserve for taxes was made. Common stock dividends of $2,728,008 were paid, while the company's surplus was increased from $5,642,002 to $8,050,942.

KNOCKS OUT 2-CENT FARE.

Federal Court Upsets Oklahoma Constitutional Provision.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., March 12.—The two-cent passenger rate provision of the Oklahoma State Constitution was permanently enjoined today in an opinion handed down by Judge Frank A. Youmans of the United States District Court.

The case has been pending since 1909. In 1916 the plaintiffs filed amended bills, challenging rate orders made by the State Corporation Commission. The opinion also sets aside these orders.

The opinion upholds the contention of the railroads that the constitutional provision for a two-cent fare is confiscatory, and that such passenger rates and rates for freight as fixed by the Corporation Commission discriminate against interstate business of the roads.

A higher passenger rate probably will be one of the first effects of the decision. While it was held that the two-cent rate was unjust, a new rate was not fixed, and officials speculated today as to how it might be determined.

New Investments Created by the War

Since August, 1914, the pressing need of funds has forced the greatest nations and their strongest corporations to issue securities bearing rates of interest such as the present generation had never seen in combination with equal security and marketability. The investor's problem is to know which of these high-yield securities are most attractive.

FAVOR FIXED RATES FOR BANK DEPOSITS

NAMES COMMITTEE TO AID

Personnel Indicates That All Banks in New York Are Ready to Work in Harmony.

Representatives of the trust companies attended a luncheon yesterday at the Bankers' Club, where they had an informal discussion with respect to interest rates paid on deposits. The general sentiment of the gathering was that everything should be done to co-operate with the Federal Reserve Board and the New York Clearing House in their effort to curb the movement for increasing rates, and the opinion was confidently expressed that some feasible and satisfactory way would be found to attain the desired end.

Toward the close of the meeting, which was presided over by Charles H. Sabin, President of the Guaranty Trust Company, it was decided to appoint a committee which should confer with the Clearing House Committee and endeavor to aid in modifying the proposed amendment to the association's by-laws—action on which was deferred on Monday until a subsequent meeting—so as to make it acceptable to the trust companies as well as to the national banks. The committee which was appointed consists of Mr. Sabin, Edward O. Stanley, of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, Howard Bayne of the Columbia Trust Company, Edwin P. Maynard of the Brooklyn Trust Company, James N. Wallace of the Central Trust Company, and Alvin W. Krech of the Equitable Trust Company. The Central Trust Company, as well as the Union Trust Company, with which it is to merge, are not members of the Clearing House, and the Equitable Trust Company is likewise a nonmember.

The fact that non-member trust companies have been appointed on the committee indicates that the Clearing House will have the co-operation of institutions outside of its membership, and that all the banks are willing to work in harmony.

According to the trust company men, their early opposition to the proposed amendment of the Clearing House by-laws was due largely to a misunderstanding of the statement issued by Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Board, in which he failed to specify whether his remarks were directed to all deposits or only to out-of-town bank balances. At the meeting held Monday Governor Harding, in his speech, made it clear that he was not concerned with the rates paid on local deposits, but was desirous of having the banks refrain from paying unreasonably high rates on out-of-town bank balances. As a matter of fact the local trust companies have a relatively small line of out-of-town bank accounts, that character of business being handled largely by the national banks.

National bankers who were interviewed yesterday said that they believed that with further consultation it would be possible to work out an amendment that would be satisfactory to all members of the Clearing House. The Clearing House Committee has not yet set a date for a meeting of the members, but as soon as it completes its work on the proposed amendment, it will send out a call for another meeting.

The report published by one of the news tickers that some trust companies had threatened to withdraw from membership in the Clearing House was not credited, and in fact met emphatic denials. The origin of the rumor was traced to a jocular remark made by a trust company official a few days ago.

HARDING AGAIN URGES CAUTION ON INTEREST

WASHINGTON, March 12.—In a further movement to check the competitive movement among interior banks to obtain demand deposits by increasing interest rates, Governor W. P. G. Harding of the Federal Reserve Board today telegraphed Reserve Banks to use their influence with banks to discourage this practice, pending action by the New York Clearing House Association to restrict higher interest rates, which have drawn many deposits there. Another step taken by the Federal Reserve Board was to call a conference of Governors of Federal Reserve Banks here March 22 to discuss interest rates, the third Liberty Loan, and other matters.

Hundreds of banks in interior cities have protested to the board in the last few weeks, it was disclosed today, over the action of a few banks in raising rates on checking accounts from 2 to 2½ per cent. to prevent the removal of these accounts to New York State banks or trust companies, which always have maintained rates of 3 per cent. or even more.

In his telegram today Mr. Harding said:

"The board is anxious to have you watch the situation in your district with respect to competition for deposits through advancing interest rates with a view of getting banks contemplating advances to defer action, and of inducing those who are paying more than normal rates to reduce them. The board feels that Government financing should have the right of way, and that the reserve strength of the banks would be increased by encouraging the public to invest in Treasury certificates of indebtedness and Liberty bond issues rather than by banks competing for these funds, and thus necessitating heavy investments in these securities for their own account.

"Deposits throughout the country show a general tendency to increase in volume, and there seems to be no good reason to increase rates of interest paid for them, thus adding to the cost of money. The transfer of balances from one bank to another does not add anything to the strength of the bank's position as a whole. The board urges that a broad national view be taken of this question. In view of the approaching Liberty bond campaign a sharp nation-wide contest among banks for deposits would be particularly unfortunate."

Governor Harding cited the New York Clearing House's action condemning the movement to raise rates and the possibility that some step might be taken within ten days to reduce the interest rates now paid by New York trust companies.

THE COTTON MARKET

Old Crop Months Off 2 to 12 Points and New Months Up 9 to 12 Points.

A rather marked distinction developed yesterday in the local cotton market between the new and old crop months. Most of the business of a rather quiet session seemed to be created by the efforts of trade representatives to pick favorable spots for transferring their long hedges from old to new crop positions, houses with Liverpool connections taking the same course to undo old straddles, and some tendency by such speculative long interest as exists in the market to follow this trend of the market. As a result, the close found the market steady, with old crop months off from 2 to 12 points and new crop months up from 9 to 12 points.

March, although the current month, was very inactive and had little influence upon the market. The short interest in this position, which a few weeks ago was a strong factor, appears to have been pretty thoroughly liquidated, and most contracts in the hands of the trade to have been satisfied by advance sales, at premiums for spot delivery, out of local stocks.

Some Southern holders showed a little more willingness to sell the current crop positions yesterday, and this tendency was a factor in easing the market. The opening was from 5 points up to 13 down, and after a fair early advance on trade demand and covering, the Southern selling and realizing sent all prices off until the strength in new crop deliveries became evident, toward the close of the day.

Exports yesterday totaled 13,029 bales, or 2,849,014 for the season. Southern spot markets were 15 points lower to 25 higher, but generally unchanged.

Yesterday's quotations follow:

WHEAT.

The weather over the Winter wheat belt was generally clear and mild, with temperatures ranging from 36 to 60 degrees above. The milder temperatures of late have started the wheat plant growing, and many reports received indicate a very promising condition. It seems to be the general impression that the crop has passed through the Winter without even the usual amount of damage, and when it is considered that the acreage sown last Fall of 42,000,000 acres is a record area, the outlook for this year's wheat crop is very promising at the present time. The heavy drain on supplies to fill the big demand from abroad is expected to result in a very active distribution, however, during the balance of the season, and it has been intimated that the Food Administration is expecting or hoping for quite extensive importations from Argentina.

RYE.—The market was unsettled and nominal. Prices in the West were unchanged to 2 cents lower, with No. 2 Western in Chicago quoted at $2.88.

CORN.

For one reason or another the corn market has developed an easier tone. This is not particularly noticeable as far as contracts are concerned, owing to the big discounts at which contracts have been selling, but cash corn was lower. Advices from the West said that good cash corn was 5 to 10 cents lower and that some of the lowest grades were down 10 to 20 cents. This represents a loss of 10 to 25 cents during the past day or two. The action of values in the West was attributed largely to the fact that export allotments have ceased and buyers generally are inclined to wait until some of the corn purchased has been delivered. In the local market kiln dried No. 2 yellow was quoted at $2.15½, No. 3 yellow $1.93½, No. 3 white $2.14½, cost and freight New York.

OATS.

The oats market was also easier, futures in Chicago closing with net losses of ⅝c. Cash markets were also somewhat lower and the demand seemed to be less urgent. Local cash handlers were not inclined to express any bearish views on the situation at large, as there were evidences of further export inquiry, and oats are badly needed for Eastern distribution. Embargoes are still in force, however, and buyers see little to be gained by making further heavy contracts, as it seems to be getting more difficult all the while to secure permits. The local cash market was nominally easier; natural quoted at $1.07½@$1.09½; clipped white, $1.08@$1.11, all elevator.

PROVISIONS.

There was only a moderate volume of business in the provision market, but prices were easier. Hogs were lower and this, together with a slow cash trade, had a depressing influence on values. Receipts of hogs at Chicago were 45,000; estimated for Wednesday, 40,000; Kansas City received 9,000 and Omaha 17,800 hogs.

COFFEE.

The coffee market was upset yesterday by the publishing of press dispatches from Washington defining the question of reasonable profits in the handling of coffee, and business was extremely quiet. The market opened at declines of 4 to 5 points on a little outside liquidation and sustained further losses as the day progressed, the close being net unchanged to a decline of 6 points. The local spot market was quiet with a poor demand and dealers have not quite thoroughly digested the latest ruling from Washington. Range of prices:

SUGAR.

The weekly Cuban figures show a heavy increase in exports from the Island which would indicate easier freight conditions, and press reports state that Danish and Norwegian ships have been turned over as sugar carriers between the United States and the West Indies recently which, it is believed, will allow raw sugars to reach here more regularly. In refined sugar the Government is taking much of available sugar, which lessens the amount distributed for domestic use, but improvement is expected from now on. The International Sugar Committee announces purchases of 23,600 bags San Domingo and 10,626 bags Surinams, at 4.74c c. i. f., afloat for Canada. No purchases were made of Cuban raws.

BUTTER AND EGG MARKET.

BUTTER.—Receipts yesterday, 7,188 packages. Market still unsettled, with prices in buyers' favor. Quite a heavy accumulation of fresh goods still on hand, and there is some urgency to sell, notwithstanding the fact that fresh arrivals are somewhat lighter. There is, however, a little export demand, chiefly in fresh creamery, from 45½@46c. Ladles and packing stock lower. A Monthly Income From Money at 6%

MANY investors desire monthly payments of interest on their invested funds. This is especially a convenience in the case of army and navy officers going abroad, who wish to provide a regular, assured income for their dependents.

THIS can readily be obtained through the purchase of first mortgage serial bonds, safeguarded under the Straus Plan, netting 6%. An investment in these safe bonds may be so diversified as to interest dates as to pay interest every month.

WRITE for literature describing these bonds and our tested and proven methods of safeguarding them. They are issued in $1000, $500 and $100 denominations and mature in two to ten years. Ask for

The Ault & Wiborg Company is organized under the laws of the State of Ohio and does a general business in the manufacture and sale of dye-stuffs, acids, colors, printing ink, etc.

The Company has branches in many of the larger cities in the United States; in Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay, South America; also Shanghai, China, and has affiliated companies in London and Toronto.

The Company was established nearly forty years ago by Messrs. L. A. Ault and Frank B. Wiborg, and has been in continuous successful operation since that time. During the past three years since the supply of dye-stuffs ordinarily obtained from Germany has been unobtainable, owing to the war conditions, the Ault & Wiborg Company has undertaken the development of the dye-stuff industry and today is furnishing the equivalent, and, in many cases, a better product than was formerly obtained from Germany. On account of this development, the Company has extended its plant and equipment largely, and the proceeds of this preferred stock will be used for the purpose of liquidating obligations incurred principally in the development of the dye-stuffs industry and the general extension of its business in this and foreign countries.

The following financial statement is based upon the statement of the Company for January 2, 1918, after giving effect to the proceeds of the sale of $1,000,000 common stock and $2,300,000 preferred stock.

A sinking fund equal to 10 per cent. of the net surplus earnings shall be created after the payment of preferred stock dividends.

CITY NOTES AT 4.79 TO GUARANTY TRUST

Entire Issue of $20,000,000 Awarded on That Company's Offer.

BIDS TOTAL $111,680,000

Bids were opened yesterday in the office of Controller Craig for $12,000,000 of New York City corporation stock notes dated March 12 and maturing June 28, and $8,000,000 of revenue notes dated March 12 and maturing July 8. The Guaranty Trust Company, on its bid of 4.79, got the entire amount of both issues, totaling $20,000,000. This bid was at the lowest rate of interest for the whole issue which the city must pay. Thirty-one financial institutions submitted bids totaling $111,680,000, which is 550 per cent. of the entire offering.

About a month ago the city sold $20,000,000 of notes, half of which matures on May 10 and the other half on May 20. J. P. Morgan & Co. were the successful bidders at 4.31 and 4.32. The last sale of city warrants, amounting to $5,000,000, brought 4.75, and in the latter part of January $5,000,000 were disposed of on a 4.52 basis.

Controller Craig expressed himself as being gratified at the confidence reflected in the credit of the city as shown by the number of bids submitted and the satisfactory interest rates quoted at a time closely approaching the issue of the Third Liberty Loan. Many of the thirty unsuccessful bidders, in submitting scale figures, though quoting a somewhat higher interest rate than that submitted by the Guaranty Trust Company, offered figures averaging well under a 5 per cent. flat rate.

Among the bidders were: Salomon Brothers & Hutzler, all or none, both issues, at 4.86; J. P. Morgan & Co., 4.90 for all or none, and 4.92 for all or any part of $8,000,000 revenue bills maturing July 8; Gallaway, Fish & Co., $130,000 of either maturity at 4.25; White, Weld & Co., $3,000,000 of either issue, $500,000 at 4.74, $500,000 at 4.84, $1,000,000 at 4.94, and $1,000,000 at 5; Kountze Brothers, $200,000 of stock notes at 5.25; Spencer, Trask & Co., corporate stock and revenue bills, $75,000 at 4.90; Equitable Trust Company, $3,000,000 corporate stock notes, $1,000,000 at 4.90, $1,000,000 at 4.95, and $1,000,000 at 5; Central Trust Company, $3,000,000 of corporate stock notes, $400,000 at 4.85, $400,000 at 4.87, $400,000 at 4.90, $450,000 at 4.92½, $450,000 at 4.95, $450,000 at 4.97½, $450,000 at 5, and for revenue stock notes: $400,000 at 4.90, $400,000 at 4.92¼; $400,000 at 4.95, $400,000 at 4.97½, and $400,000 at 5.

SHIFT IN ITALIAN EXCHANGE.

Hurried Buying Causes Swift Advance, but Reaction Follows.

The Italian exchange market, which had been moving steadily against Italy since the middle of November until a recovery began late last week, went through some exceptional movements yesterday. Opening at 8.56½ lire to the American dollar, the rate shot forward until a quotation of 7.97 lire per dollar was reported. Around midday the trend changed abruptly as offerings increased, with the result that a reverse swing to around 8.30 for funds to be transferred by cable occurred. At the highest quotation, the rate still showed a discount of about 35 per cent. from the normal level of 5.1826 lire to the dollar.

The swift advance appeared to result from hurried buying by persons who feared that the restrictions put by the Italian Government on dealings, in exchange in Italy would reduce the supply in the New York market. Following a preparation of several months, the Italian authorities are reported by cable to have established the National Exchange Institute at Rome to handle all dealings in lire. The purpose is to stabilize rates and prevent speculation in lire in foreign markets. Since the United States Government began to extend substantial credits to Italy, the lire market here has been much smaller than in normal periods. In consequence concentrated buying easily moves rates forward, and a little selling quickly depresses them.

Net earnings from these sources aggregated $46,546,018; surplus, $36,316,875. Net revenues available for dividends were $33,848,192. WESTERN UNION TO PAY 7%.

American Brake Shoe & Foundry Co. Declares Extra Dividend.

Directors of the Western Union Telegraph Companay declared yesterday a quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent., placing the stock on a straight 7 per cent. per annum basis. The dividend is payable April 15 to holders of record on March 20. Heretofore the company has been paying dividends at the rate of 1½ per cent. quarterly, and last year an extra dividend of 1 per cent. was declared.

The American Brake Shoe and Foundry Company has declared an extra dividend of 1 per cent. on the preferred stock, payable March 30 to holders of record on March 22.

RULING ON INCOME TAX REPORTS OF EMPLOYES

Items of Payment Which Employers Are Not To Include in Source Statements.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper has combined in a single ruling a large number of items of payment which may not be reported by persons, corporations, partnerships, associations, and insurance companies in making reports at the source of all incomes which they pay to employes or officers above the limit of $800. The nonreportable items have been embodied in instructions to Collectors of Internal Revenue.

The payments which do not require reports of information under this part of the income tax law are as follows:

Payments made to corporations, associations, or insurance companies for the year 1917.

Bills paid for merchandise, telegrams, telephone, freight, storage, and similar charges.

Bills paid to employes for board and lodging while traveling under orders or when employe is employed on a salary basis.

Payments of premiums made to insurance companies for annual protection.

Interest accrued on bank deposits before it has been passed to the credit of the individual depositor.

Salary, wages, and other compensation for services rendered in December, 1917, but paid in 1918, unless the amount was fully due and passed to the credit of the individual in December, 1917.

Payments of rent made to real estate agents. (But agent must report payments to landlord, if the same amounts to $800 or more during 1917.)

Payments made to employes in factories where the brass check or number system was in use during 1917, and a record of sufficient detail does not exist and cannot be obtained because employes are no longer in the employ of the company. However, in all such cases an accounting system must be installed that will enable such employers to keep an accurate check, so that full information can be given in the future.

"Living quarters" referred to in Paragraph 235, Regulations No. 33, (revised,) are quarters furnished for the benefit and convenience of employes only. When living quarters, such as camps, are furnished for the convenience of the employer only, the cost need not be added to the compensation of the employe.

In the case of an employer having a large number of employes who are moved from place to place as the exigencies of the service require, and who consequently has no complete record of annual payments to them at any one place, the salary of two representative months may be taken to establish a fair monthly wage, and unless yearly payment based on this estimate in the case of an employe amounts to $800 or more, no return of payments to such employe is required for 1917.

Payments made by branches of business houses located in foreign countries to alien employes serving in foreign countries need not be reported.

Returns of information will not be required from disbursing officers of payments to sailors, soldiers, or civilian employes of the United States Government, the records in these cases being available to the Treasury Department at any time.

URGES NEW AETNA BOARD.

Stockholders' Committee Asks for More Representative Body.

The Stockholders' Protective Committee of the Aetna Explosives Company has sent a letter to shareowners in connection with a request for proxies to be voted at the annual meeting on March 19 outlining the personnel of the Board of Directors desired by the committee.

"The election of the Board of Directors," the letter says, "is a matter entirely separate and distinct from any plan of readjustment of the securities of the company, and whether or not the suggested plan appeals to you it should not affect your judgment as to the importance of selecting a proper Board of Directors at this time. From the last balance sheet of the company that has been published by the receivers, under date of Dec. 31, 1917, it appears that the current assets of the company amount to $16,293,523 and the actual liabilities, including the bonds of approximately $2,350,000, and all other libilities except back dividends on the preferred stock, amount to $10,186,563, leaving a balance of current assets of $6,106,959, an amount sufficient to represent $100 a share for the $5,500,000 preferred outstanding, and, in addition thereto, enough to pay back dividends on said stock."

The letter states that the present board seems to be dominated by the same interests which directed the company when the receivership occurred. The committee asserts that a board more representative of the actual owners of the property should be elected.

Refuses to Raise Chicago Gas Rate.

CHICAGO, March 12.—The Illinois Public Utilities Commission today refused permission to the People's Gas Light and Coke Company, which supplies gas to the entire city, to increase its rates 15 per cent.

PLUMBERS' SUPPLIES SOAR.

Convention Reports 400 Per Cent. Increase Since War Began.

Prices for plumbers' supplies in the wholesale trade have jumped between 400 and 500 per cent. since the start of the European war, this entailing an even greater advance to the general public. This development was the outstanding feature of the thirtieth annual convention of the New York State Association of Master Plumbers, which met yesterday at the Hotel McAlpin.

Jeremiah L. Murphy of New York, President of the association, called the 300 members present to order and introduced Dock Commissioner Murray Hulbert, who welcomed the delegates to the city in the absence of Mayor Hylan, who was in Albany.

One of the officers of the association said that, while prices for materials were unprecedented, the master plumbers were not worried. "We simply have to pay the prices asked," he continued, "with the knowledge that the public understands the situation and will share its burden of the additional costs."

There was considerable complaint by members that master plumbers had been ignored by the Government in the letting of contracts for army cantonments, hospitals, and other structures being erected for military purposes. The statement was made that under the existing system of Governmental contracts the general contractor usually employed a mere journeyman plumber to supervise the installation of plumbing fixtures. The master plumbers hold to the view that, as the installation of sanitary plumbing is an engineer's job, recognition of that fact should be given by the Government. A special committee was appointed yesterday to cooperate with the National Association of Master Plumbers in urging the Washington authorities to place the plumbing features of construction work in the hands of master plumbers.

Coal Plan Meets Approval.

The Fuel Administration's announcement concerning Spring and Summer anthracite prices has the approval, the Coal Trade Journal will say today, of all factors in the coal industry. The new plan has the advantage, it is said, of multiplying by five the numbers of consumers who can be supplied with at least part of their annual requirements at the lowest price of the year. It is thought that this will relieve the pressure somewhat in the early months of the discount period, and at the same time forestall complaints of favoritism. Producers will apparently receive about the same average price for their Spring and Summer output as under the old system, while the retail trade will not be affected one way or the other.

CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE

Weakness marked the closing dealings on the Consolidated Stock Exchange. A period of irregularity at the opening was succeeded by a rally and then by a softening in prices. The action of the railroad stocks, to a large extent, controlled the general movement of the list. Reading, the most active of the rails, early sold as high as 87⅞, which was five-eighths of a point above its closing on Monday, but it subsequently got down to 80½, closing at 80¾. There were some early special upward movements, including advances in the Mercantile Marine shares and Corn Products.

CAPITAL "TURN-OVER"

The antiquated system of carrying your own Receivables until maturity limits you to a turn-over once a season. This obviously deprives you of the profits you might make if your Capital were to revolve two, three, or four times as often. Cash On Shipment will enable you to do this.

We can serve you most advantageously.

Retailers Are Reassured.

There were a few retailers in various parts of the country who, since placing their orders for Fall merchandise, had begun to have a slight attack of "cold feet," as one manufacturer put it, over the prospects for business next Fall. But it seems that the briskness with which the Spring business has already set in, in spite of the approach of another call to the colors under the selective draft, has tended to reassure those few doubtful merchants to a large extent.

***

Spring Sales of Women's Shoes.

Reports from retailers in many sections hold out great promise for the Spring business in shoes for women, according to local manufacturers. Women are said to be taking to the new 8½-inch shoes with a patriotic ardor, which is very gratifying to the whole trade, and to an extent quite unexpected by many. Glazed kid seems to be the favorite in most sections. Such shades as light gray, tan, and black seem to be the most generally preferred.

Spring Corset Sales Large.

Despite the fact that the Spring lines of corsets show little change from the low bust, flat back, straight front effects dominant in the Fall models, buyers are ordering them very freely. Particularly favorable is their opinion in the case of models in which the natural incurve at the waistline is slightly accentuated by the under arm curve. The favored materials show no change from Fall, but in the colors there is a marked improvement in the demand for pink in corsets retailing at $2 and up. The so-called sports models are doing very well this season. Not only are they being featured for this purpose, but for wear by women war workers as well. They are said to "fill the bill" very acceptably in both cases.

Crude Rubber Market Quiet.

Buying of importance continues lacking in the local market for crude rubber, but in spite of this fact prices are holding up pretty well here. Yesterday up-river fine, which is still quoted here well below the level at Para, was held at 56¼ cents for spots, while similar lots of up-river coarse and upper Caucho ball were worth about 33½ to 34 cents. In the plantations, first latex was quoted at 55½ cents for spots and 52 to 52½ for April-June shipments. For smoked sheets the respective prices for the same positions were 56 to 56½ and 50½ to 51 cents.

Smart Suits at Popular Prices.

Several of the large manufacturers of popular priced coats and suits in this city are turning out some attractive late Spring models in the very latest fashions. The pony coat and the Eton jacket, which have proved so popular in the more expensive suits, are well represented in these new offerings and are said to be attracting a great deal of favorable comment from buyers. "There is no reason," said one of these manufacturers, "why the girl who cannot afford to pay Fifth Avenue prices should not be able to get a smart looking suit if she wants it. My designers are constantly working to produce smart garments, which won't cost the working girl a year's wages, and which are at the same time good value."

Jersey Weaves Are Well Sought.

The cutting up trades are said to be unusually heavy purchasers of wool jersey cloth. Silk jersey is also reported to be very popular, and the same weave in fibre silk seems to have been more active this year than ever before. It is said by large sellers in this city that the fibre fabric is being used very extensively in Spring suits and coats, and that it is proving to be one of the big hits of the season. Originally used in suits as a substitute for wool, it has come to be looked upon, according to reports, as almost a staple in itself and is now taken on its merits alone.

Bandeaux Much in Demand.

Bandeaux come pretty close to be being the "whole thing" in one of the best Spring seasons that the brassiere manufacturers have ever had. One of the best proofs of the excellence of the situation in this field is that it is being invaded by some of the big corset manufacturers. In bandeaux and "regular" brassieres, the bulk of the demand is for garments of wash satins, crêpe de chine and strong cottons in pink, flesh, and white, the last-named hue being the most wanted. As to front and back fastened garments, the call is about evenly divided between them. In many cases where a bandeau is worn for "looks," a brassiere is worn beneath for utility. Naturally, this is helping business.

Dry Goods Man Given Loving Cup.

George Mount Gray, for many years credit and financial manager for and member of the well-known importing and commission firm of James F. White & Co., 54 and 56 Worth Street, has been presented by his former employes with a handsome silver loving cup as a token of the high esteem in which he is held by them. In accepting the cup, Mr. Gray told of the great pleasure it gave him to know that the sentiment back of the gift was so general, and he said he would cherish it in memory of the happiest day of his life. Mr. Gray's retirement from active business was announced some time ago, and for the last several months he had been engaged in liquidating the affairs of the old firm. Other members of that firm, both of whom have also retired, were Henry D. Cooper and J. Martin White. The officers of the new firm, which is known as James F. White & Co., Inc., are H. A. Murphy, President; W. S. Kimball, Vice President; C. W. T. Mackelvey, Secretary, and David Elder, Treasurer.

Gray Goods Buying Slows Down.

Trading slowed up considerably in the local gray goods market yesterday, so far as staples were concerned. Sellers continued unwilling to sell, and, for the first time since that has been the case, buyers seemed unwilling to buy. Among the printcloths' sales were nearby lots of 38½-inch 64-60s, which brought 16¼ cents. There was little of interest in the sheetings. In the twills and sateens, however, contract business for July to January was put through at full prices. This is the way that printcloths closed, most of the prices being nominal for the day:

DEFINE THE CAUSES OF RECENT STRIKES

Industrial Conference Finds the High Cost of Living Only One Basis of Discontent.

BOSTON, March 12.—Increased cost of living and failure of employers in many cases to anticipate this influence have been among the important contributory causes of recent strikes, according to the report issued today by the National Industrial Conference Board on strikes in American industries in war time.

From April 6 to Oct. 6, 1917, there were strikes at 2,521 establishments, the existence of which was definitely verified by the board. Each establishment was asked to report upon causes, but complete information was received from only 1,156. These plants showed 283,402 men idle and 6,285,519 days of production lost.

The conclusions of the board as to the causes of the unsettled condition of labor are that the following influences were of primary importance:

"Increased cost of living and failure of employers in many cases to anticipate this influence.

"Widespread discontent due to a belief that undue profits had been made by employers out of war business.

"Increased independence of the worker, due in part to a labor shortage and in part to a feeling that the situation constituted labor's opportunity for forcing union recognition or closed shop conditions.

"Inequality between wages paid in plants engaged on private work and Government or private plants engaged on war work.

The report concludes:

"Indications of improvement in the labor situation in recent months are apparent, but it needs only a cursory reading of the daily press to see that the war industries of this country are still heavily handicapped by labor disputes.

PLAN 3,000-FOOT BRIDGE.

Span from the Bronx to Whitestone, L. I., Under Consideration.

Plans for a bridge 3,000 feet long connecting Whitestone, L. I., with Old Ferry Point in the Bronx were completed in the office of Borough President Bruckner of the Bronx yesterday, and will soon be the subject of consideration by the Board of Estimate. The bridge is designed to accommodate all classes of traffic except steam railroad. An arch over the channel is provided to permit high-masted vessels to pass under, this eliminating a drawbridge.

"The need of such a bridge has long been felt by the people of the Bronx," said President Bruckner. "Of course, I do not expect to get enough money to complete such a gigantic undertaking, but the matter is one worthy of serious consideration. Funds are not available, but no harm can come from giving such a proposition a fair start. The nearest ferry to Long Island is at Ninety-ninth Street and the nearest bridge is at Fifty-ninth Street, except the Hell Gate Bridge, which is exclusively a railroad bridge."

Belding Estate Goes to Son.

The estate of Milo M. Belding, Treasurer of Belding Brothers & Co., manufacturers of silk thread, who died on May 23 last at the age of 85 years, was appraised yesterday at $1,126,468 gross and $1,055,000 net, all of which went to his son, Milo M. Belding, Jr. He had $1,053,930 in stocks and bonds, of which $349,328 was the value of 3,119 shares of stock of Belding Brothers & Co., and 174 shares of preferred stock were appraised at $188,568. He had 3,650 shares of the International Salt Company, worth $208,050, and $241,880 in bonds of that company.

Hunter Wants Alimony Annuled.

Supreme Court Justice Delehanty decided yesterday to appoint a referee to take testimony on the application by Frederick W. Hunter, a lawyer, to annul the alimony he was directed to pay to Mrs. Anna Belleville Hunter under her divorce decree, on the ground that she was married a year ago in Florida to John B. Kerfoot, literary editor of Life. Mrs. Hunter denies that she has married Kerfoot, who was named as co-respondent in Hunter's unsuccessful counterclaim for a divorce.

REAL ESTATE FIELD

Properties of diversified character figured in yesterday's real estate dealings, buyers being found for both business and residential holdings.

The Jules Realty Company, representing Fisher and Irving Lewine, operators, bought from the Kobre Assets Corporation the eight-story store and loft building at 533 to 541 Canal Street, northeast corner of Washington Street, with a frontage of 101 feet on Canal Street, 22 feet on Washington Street, and an irregular depth, the entire plot comprising about 45,000 square feet. The building, which has been held at $140,000, is rented to three tenants for $14,000 a year. William S. Baker negotiated the transaction.

Sale in "Rockefeller Block."

John J. Carle and Howard Willets, as executors of the Willets estate, sold 39 West Fifty-fourth Street, a four-story dwelling on a lot 22 by 100.5, between Fifth and Sixth Avenues, in what is known as the "Rockefeller Block." The property has been in the ownership of members of the Willets family since 1879, and will be altered by the purchaser for his own occupancy.

Deal in Produce Section.

Middendorf & Rohrs, produce dealers, bought from the Cooper estate the three-story building at 3 Little West Twelfth Street for occupancy. The brokers in the transaction were Charles B. Van Valen, Inc., and the Duross Company. The buyers recently leased the adjoining Hudson Street corner, for a long term, through the Duross Company.

$240,000 Cash Deal on the Heights.

The Nason Realty Company, Max M. Natanson, purchased from the Ladem Realty Company the two five-story non-elevator apartments 648 to 654 West 160th Street.

They were completed last November, on a plot 132 by 100, are fully occupied, and were held at $240,000. Norman Denzer and Joseph Silversen negotiated the sale, which had no trade element in it.

For Women Voters.

Alvin Wachsman sold to the Sagua Democratic Club the three-story dwelling at 517 West 173d Street, now occupied by that organization. After alterations have been made the property will continue to be used as a clubhouse, with additional facilities for the entertainment of the new women voters. The Nehring Company negotiated the sale.

Enlarges Park Avenue Holdings.

Former Borough President Marcus M. Marks, by purchasing the three-story dwelling at 76 East Ninety-first Street, yesterday, enlarges his Carnegie Hill holdings to about 6,000 square feet. Arthur C. Sheridan offered the property at auction and made the sale at $19,600. Mr. Marks is the owner of 1,128, 1,130, and 1,132 Park Avenue, and with the present purchase controls a large plot surrounding the southwest corner of Ninety-first Street. The corner is owned by John G. H. Meyer, who has held the property since 1874, and has steadily refused to sell.

Apartment House Transfer.

The Madison Avenue and Eighty-ninth Street Company, in which F. D. W. Searing and others are Directors, will take over the apartment house at that location known as the Lauriston, a seven-story building, covering a plot 36 by 100.8, adjoining the Beloved Disciple Protestant Episcopal Church. The Realty Company of America recently acquired the property as plaintiff at foreclosure for $239,579.

Bronx Sales.

Edmund Sens purchased for occupancy from Frederick Brown, operator, 2,680 Morris Avenue, a two-story dwelling and garage on a plot 50 by 122. J. L. Greenfield negotiated the sale.

Brooklyn.

Mrs. Annie Mahoney sold to a client of the John Pullman Real Estate Company, for occupancy, 675 President Street, a two-story brownstone dwelling, on a lot 20 by 100.

Westchester County.

H. M. Olcott and F. L. Egger sold the Dean House in Howell Park, Larchmont, to Mrs. Bessie Parker, who will occupy.

Griffen, Prince & Ripley sold the residence of E. H. Ripley, one of the members of the firm, at Pleasantville to A. C. Hoyt, Assistant Treasurer of the H. W. Johns-Manville Company. The property was held at $15,000.

Commercial Leases.

The Bowantree-Schley Company leased for Vincent Astor the store, basement, and sub-basement at 145-151 Greene Street, southwest corner of West Houston Street, containing 30,000 square feet, to the Famous Paper Box Company, Louis H. Clark, proprietors, now at 155-157 Wooster Street. The lease is for a term of years at an aggregate rental of about $50,000. Up to Feb. 1 these premises were occupied for many years by L. Spiegelberg & Sons, cotton goods converters, who at one time paid $15,000 per annum. The broker reports that store space in this immediate section has been in demand recently, and of a total of about 100 stores that were on the market prior to Feb. 1, 1918, 70 per cent. of them have been rented, and of the ones still vacant 66 2-3 per cent. are of floor areas of 2,500 square feet or less.

The Cross & Brown Company leased the store and basement at 19 East Fifty-ninth Street to Saul and Bertha Scharf for a term of years.

James Kyle & Sons leased to A. Paul, furrier, the Blake Building, the northeast corner of Fifty-eighth Street and Lexington Avenue, for I. C. Blake, also the adjoining building, 725, for a term of years from May 1, 1918.

Baron Astor has leased to Edward Margolies the three-story and basement building at 22 East Thirty-fourth Street. It will be remodeled and sublet.

Hearing Today On Torrens Law.

The Board of County Registers has issued a request that real estate and taxpayers' associations be represented either by delegations or messages at the Senate Judiciary Committee hearing at Albany this afternoon on the Sheridan-Coles bill, better known as the Registers' bill, which amends the Torrens land-title registration law.

Recent Buyers.

The K. & R. Construction Company, composed of Max J. Klein and Ignatz Roth, is the buyer of the two five-story tenements 160 and 164 Sherman Avenue, sold Monday by the Nason Realty Company.

In the heart of Chester Hill; five minutes New Haven Station; southern exposure. Lot 125 feet deep; tiled bath, 2 extra lavatories between bedrooms. House itself could not be built today for $10,000. SAYS LIBERTY MOTOR IS PACKARD PRODUCT

HAD SPENT $500,000 ON IT

E. S. Hare Tells Sphinx Club He Had Permission to Reveal the Secret.

Credit for the invention of the Liberty aviation motor, adopted by the American Government for its great fleet of airplanes now under construction, was claimed for the Packard Motor Company, in an announcement made last night by Emlen S. Hare, president of that concern, at the monthly dinner of the Sphinx Club, held at the Waldorf-Astoria, where he spoke on "Successful Business Is Our Best Weapon to Win This War." As permission to reveal the secret of the Liberty motor's antecedents before its adoption by the Government was not received until after Mr. Hare had prepared his set speech, the announcement was typed on a separate sheet of paper attached to the proof form of the evening's speech given to reporters.

Mr. Hare had just said in his prepared remarks that it was "absurd for any business man to feel that he must explain his motives are patriotic and unselfish before he expresses himself that successful business is a necessary weapon with which to win this war" when he told of the part played by his company in bringing out the Liberty aviation motor.

"I am now at liberty," Mr. Hare said, "to mention one instance—and there are many—showing the unselfishness of business where the best interests of our Government are at stake. The Liberty aviation motor is the outcome of three years of Packard work and some half million Packard money, and yet we withdrew our name from this motor and, with all designs, gave it over to our Government because they felt this would be best for the furtherance of their war plans.

"You men who understand the value of advertising know just how great this sacrifice was. You can readily imagine what it would have meant to us if the most successful aviation motor was blazoned all over this country and Europe as a Packard 'Twin-Six.'"

In answer to questions put by a reporter, Mr. Hare said that at the time the Liberty motor was taken over by the Government an agreement existed between the company and E. A. Dees, then Chairman of the Air Craft Production Board, to the effect that the identity of the inventor or producer of the motor should not be revealed.

At the time, it was explained, some Government officials feared that if the identity of the Liberty motor was known, other automobile manufacturers might not feel inclined to turn over their plants for its production. There were other reasons, too, why it was thought best to keep the matter a secret. Mr. Hare failed last night to say who the individual inventor of the motor was, or throw light upon the circumstances leading up to its original manufacture by the Packard Company.

From what could be learned from Mr. Hare, permission to make the announcement at this time was given by Howard Coffin, Chairman of the Council of National Defense, Washington.

In speaking of the progress being made by his company in turning out motors for airplanes, Mr. Hare said:

"Because considerable tooling and special machinery is needed for quantity production of aircraft motors, there is a limit to the number of men we can use at present in that department. However, we have quite as many men employed there as can be profitably used. Further, these men have been drawn from our passenger car department, and just as rapidly as we can profitably use more men on aircraft motors these men are in turn drawn from our passenger car department."

The Packard's executive said that by taking men and machinery from the passenger car department for the company's airplane department it had already been necessary to decrease the output of automobiles. Further decrease in the production of pleasure cars was forecast by Mr. Hare, who added that "it may even be impossible to build any automobiles."

MILK PRICE FIXING HALTS.

The conference held by the Federal Milk Commission and representatives of the producers and distributers at the Federal Food Board ended last night with indications that the Federal Milk Commission may not continue to fix the prices of milk after April 1, when the three months period for which it was originally appointed will have expired. The continuance of the commission in office after that time is contingent upon the joint consent of the producers and distributors, which the commission failed to obtain. A final meeting will be held at the McAlpin on Sunday afternoon.

While the farmers or producers are eager to make concessions, it is understood that the distributors are unwilling to agree to price fixing regulations by the commission unless the farmers assume more of the burden of possible loss than they have been willing to assume in the past. The objection of the distributers develops largely out of the fact that the condensed milk industry is being seriously damaged by the lack of bottoms in which to ship condensed milk abroad.

The condensers have already given notice that they will not abide by the commission's rulings after March 31, in view of the changes in market conditions that must result from their having on hand a great quantity of condensed milk which cannot be shipped abroad. Manufacturers of butter and cheese have also given notice of their withdrawal on the ground that they are unable at the present high price of milk to turn it into butter and cheese at a profit.

THANKS FOR 'WILSON BACON'

Belgian Father Gives a Typical Expression of Gratitude.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

THE HAGUE, March 12.—"We are so grateful for our 200 grams of Wilson bacon, which we receive once in a fortnight. We get no other meat or fat."

Thus a Belgian father of a family, writing to his brother interned in Holland, expressed himself. The "Wilson bacon" referred to means American relief supplies.

The same writer tells how children who can leave town without a passport take walks of six hours into the country in order to bring back a few pounds of bread and potatoes for the family. According to all reports, the scarcity of food in Belgium is becoming more acute.

DETECTIVES INDICTED IN SILK ROBBERY CASE

Indictments charging burglary and bribery were returned by the Grand Jury yesterday against Detectives William Heydorn of 290 West 147th Street and Edward C. Burgess of 1,912 Daly Avenue, the Bronx, both of the Second Branch Bureau, and both accused of assisting a gang of loft thieves in disposing of stolen property. Heydorn was arraigned before Judge Mulqueen, in General Sessions, and held in $2,500 bail. Burgess will be arraigned today. Police Commissioner Enright, on learning of the indictment of the two detectives, ordered that they be suspended from duty.

In presenting the indictments against the two detectives, Assistant District Attorney Eder informed Judge Mulqueen that the indictments were only preliminary to other indictments which would be returned in the near future against other police officers who were alleged to have protected and assisted the activities of loft burglars.

Six men were indicted with the detectives as parties to the same operations. Three of them were Jacob Klein of 51 Avenue B, Abraham Schoenfeld of 20 Clinton Street, and Isidor Pendak of 51 East Ninety-seventh Street. The other three have not yet been arrested. The two detectives and the three men under arrest were indicted in connection with a loft robbery committed at 104 West Forty-second Street, where $8,000 worth of silk was stolen.

CAPT. FEINLER ON TRIAL.

Chaplain, Sent Home by Pershing, Faces Court-Martial at Honolulu.

HONOLULU, T. H., March 12.—Trial by court martial of Captain Franz Feinler, Chaplain U. S. A., on charges of pro-German utterances was in progress today at Fort Shafter, where Captain Feinler has been stationed since he returned from France at the direction of General Pershing.

Evidence against Captain Feinler, who was arrested a week ago and has since been held incommunicado, was said to have been largely obtained through the use of a phonographic device. Aside from this evidence, it was said, military witnesses would testify concerning lectures delivered by Captain Feinler alleged to have been tinged with pro-German sentiment.

CALLS JUDGES REACTIONARY

Prof. Hayes Says Bench Needs Men Not Mediaeval in Politics.

Declaring that the Judges of the country are almost exclusively "conservatives and reactionaries," and that there should be on the bench "a sprinkling of men who are not mediaeval in politics," Alfred Hayes, formerly Professor of Law at Cornell, who was nominated by the Progressive Party for Supreme Court Justice, last night voiced his opposition to a resolution introduced at a regular meeting of the Bar Association, approving of the restoration of the nominating convention for the purpose of nominating candidates for the office of Judge of the Court of Appeals and Justice of the Supreme Court. The gathering of distinguished lawyers was taken aback at the vehemence of Mr. Hayes's remarks, but passed the resolution with only five dissenting votes.

William D. Guthrie, Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, pointed out that next Fall there will be three vacancies on the Supreme Court bench, those of Justices John W. Goff, Francis M. Scott, and Victor M. Dowling. Justices Goff and Scott will have reached the constitutional age limit. Mr. Guthrie said that Justice Dowling, who has served the full fourteen years on the Supreme Court bench, is willing to be a candidate for re-election, and he asked that the association authorize the Judiciary Committee to take such steps as they may deem necessary to assure the renomination of Justice Dowling by all political parties on a non-partisan basis. The resolution was approved.

George L. Ingraham, the Chairman, was of the opinion that the present system of choosing Judges is unsatisfactory, and that there ought to be an improvement in the method. The following candidates for membership were unanimously elected: Thomas Leo Walsh, Edward Jordan Dimock, Sidney S. Bobbe, and James McVickar Breed.

WATCH WOMAN SPY SUSPECT

Agents of the Department of Justice refused yesterday to discuss their investigation of a woman of American birth who has been under close observation for some time because of indications that she is a spy in the employ of the German Government and that she used a number of other women in this city to aid her in gathering information.

Officials of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice asserted that it was doubtful whether any action would be taken in the case in the immediate future. It was learned that the woman suspect, who is said to have prominent connections among Americans of German descent in Chicago, was closely watched in a New York hotel and that, while she had not actually been arrested, she had been deprived of her freedom of action.

One of the associates of the woman spy suspect is a Turkish woman, who is reported to have been questioned closely by agents of the Department of Justice with regard to the activities of the alleged group of spies to which several women are said to belong.

DILLON HEADS NATIONALISTS

Unanimously Chosen to Succeed Redmond as Chairman.

LONDON, March 12.—John Dillon, member of Parliament for East Mayo, was today unanimously elected Chairman of the Nationalist Party, succeeding the late John Redmond. The motion to elect Mr. Dillon was made by Joseph Devlin.

Since John Dillon entered Parliament from Tipperary, in 1880, at the age of 29, he has been considered the understudy of John Redmond. Indeed, before the war his friends said that he actually dictated most of Redmond's policies.

The war, however, brought about differences between the two men, but no rupture. Dillon was opposed, in 1915, to England's raising an additional 1,000,000 troops; he opposed the Military Service Bill; denounced the Government's method in dealing with the Dublin Easter Monday revolt; and finally demanded that the Government disclose its plans for the administration of Ireland, declaring that Ireland was ready for a plebiscitum on the Home Rule question.

On all these ideas, vehemently, sometimes vociferously expressed, Redmond acted as a force of sober second-day reflection and an inspiration in new directions, until last December Dillon actually condemned the Sinn Feiners, saying, in a speech at Dublin, that their actions had alienated the sympathy of the United States from the Irish cause.

WOMEN FOR ARMY WORK.

N. Y. U. to Train Twenty as Assistants to Bacteriologists.

A three months' course to train technical assistants for bacteriologists in army medical corps laboratories will begin in the bacteriological department of New York University, First Avenue and Twenty-sixth Street, on Monday, April 1. The class will be limited to twenty women, and instruction will be given by Dr. William H. Park and Dr. Anna W. Williams of the Bureau of Laboratories of the Health Department, and Dr. Elise S. L'Esperance of Cornell University. Applications may be sent to Dr. Williams in the Research Laboratory at the foot of East Sixteenth Street.

In announcing the course Mrs. Alfred F. Hess gave out a letter written to Dr. Park by Richard M. Pearce, Chairman of the Division of Medicine and Related Sciences in the Council of National Defense, who said there was a great need for trained technicians to assist bacteriologists and added that nurses should not be encouraged to take the course because there was a greater need for them in their own work.

"When I Dived Through a Cloud!"

"FIVE thousand feet in air, I saw below me a cloud that looked as soft and fleecy as a pillow. I dived through it. And on the other side, as I came through, I saw two feet away"——

But the story is too good to tell here. Let the man who dived through tell you. He is a brave and gallant fighter, who, into his short young life, has crammed enough adventure to fill a thousand lives of other days.

Roberts is an American ace. He was two months in the wilds of Canada before he knew war was on. Then he heard—went straight to the front.

He has been a despatch rider; he has been in endless bombing expeditions; he has brought down eight German aeroplanes—for he is an "Ace." He has been gassed and wounded and shell-shocked; he was brought down from the air four times in four days by the Germans.

He has volumes and volumes to tell; to tell with a humor, a sincerity, a charm—as delightful as his keen face—as alert as his slim, athletic body.
